LSA—LIST OF CFR SECTIONS AFFECTED

The LIST OF CFR SECTIONS AFFECTED is designed to lead users of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) to amendatory actions published in the Federal Register (FR). It should be shelved with current CFR volumes. Entries are by CFR title, chapter, part, and section. Proposed rules are listed at the end of appropriate titles, except for Title 41, in which proposed rules follow each chapter.

HOW TO USE THIS FINDING AID

The CFR is revised annually according to the following schedule:

Titles 1–16—as of Jan. 1
17–27—as of April 1
28–41—as of July 1
42–50—as of Oct. 1

To bring these regulations up to date, consult this LIST OF CFR SECTIONS AFFECTED for any changes, additions, or deletions published after the revision date of the volume you are using. Then check the CUMULATIVE LIST OF PARTS AFFECTED appearing at the front of the latest Federal Register for less detailed but timely changes published after the final date included in this publication.

Cite a page reference from this publication as 41 FR for 1976 page numbers and 42 FR for 1977 page numbers. Example: Page 5678 cite as 42 FR 5678 if it is a 1977 page number.

ISSUES TO BE SAVED

There is no single annual issue of the LIST OF CFR SECTIONS AFFECTED. Four ANNUAL ISSUES must be saved: the DECEMBER issue is the ANNUAL for Titles 1–10; the MARCH issue is the ANNUAL for Titles 17–27; the JUNE issue is the ANNUAL for Titles 28–41; the SEPTEMBER issue is the ANNUAL for Titles 42–50. ANNUAL ISSUES to be saved are clearly designated on the cover.

PARALLEL TABLE OF STATUTORY AUTHORITIES AND RULES

A table is included after Title 50 which contains references to the U.S. Code sections cited as authority for CFR regulations added or revised since July 1, 1977.

TABLE OF FEDERAL REGISTER ISSUE PAGES AND DATES

A table is included at the end of this publication which identifies the inclusive page numbers and corresponding Federal Register issue dates for the period covered.

INDEXES

An INDEX to the daily Federal Register is published monthly, quarterly, and annually for the calendar year. A separate volume, the CFR INDEX to the entire Code of Federal Regulations, is revised as of July 1 each year.

INQUIRIES AND SUGGESTIONS

This publication was prepared under the editorial direction of Rose Steinman, with Carol Blanchard as Chief Editor assisted by Loren Myers. INQUIRIES, telephone 202–523–5227.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, August 2, 1977.

I have directed my Reorganization Project staff at the Office of Management and Budget to review the organization of all Federal responsibilities for managing natural resources and protecting the environment.

These responsibilities are now dispersed among 8 Departments and numerous agencies, involving 160,000 employees and expenditures of more than $17 billion a year. Other Departments and agencies are involved less directly. There is no way to coordinate their policies and actions. This situation has led to difficulties in managing resources and safeguarding the environment; waste of time and money; confusion to the public; and ineffective coordination of geophysical and environmental research and technology.

This organizational review will seek better ways to set policy, make decisions about resource management and environmental quality, improve research and technical support, and assure consistency in programs.

Its success will depend on active participation by members of Congress, the Federal departments and agencies, State, local and regional officials, interested groups, and individual citizens.

[Valencia Orange Regulation 571]

PART 908—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation establishes the quantity of California-Arizona Valencia oranges that may be shipped to fresh market during the weekly regulation period Sept. 2–8, 1977. This regulation is needed to provide for orderly marketing of fresh Valencia oranges for the regulation period because of the production and marketing situation confronting the orange industry.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 2, 1977.

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, 202-447-3545.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Findings. (1) Pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is found that the limitation of handling of Valencia oranges, as provided in this regulation will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The need for this regulation to limit the quantities of Valencia oranges that may be marketed from District 1, District 2, or District 3 during the specified week stems from the production and marketing situation confronting the Valencia orange industry.

(i) The committee has submitted its recommendation for the quantities of Valencia oranges that should be marketed during the specified week. The recommendation, designed to provide equity of marketing opportunity to handlers in all districts, resulted from consideration of the factors covered in the order. The committee further reports the fresh market demand for Valencia oranges continues easy.

Average f.o.b. price was $4.58 per carton on 515 cars for the week ended August 25, as compared with $4.59 per carton on 613 cars the previous week. Track and rolling supplies at 246 cars were down 58 cars from last week.

(ii) Having considered the recommendation and information submitted by the committee, and other available information, the Secretary finds that the quantities of Valencia oranges which may be handled should be established as provided in this regulation.

(3) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553), because the time intervening between the date when information become available upon which this regulation is based and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient. A reasonable time is permitted for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the regulation effective as specified. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting. The recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified were promptly submitted to the Secretary after the meeting was held, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been provided to handlers of Valencia oranges. It is necessary, to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this regulation effective during the period specified. The committee meeting was held on August 30, 1977.

(a) Order. (1) The quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period September 2, 1977, through September 8, 1977, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 234,000 cartons;

(ii) District 2: 366,000 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited.

(2) As used in this section, "handled", "District 1", "District 2", "District 3", and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order.

Dated: August 31, 1977.

[Pear Reg. 7, Amdt. 2]

PART 917—FRESH PEARS, PLUMS, AND PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Grade, Size and Container Requirements

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment continues current minimum grade, size, and container requirements for shipments of fresh Bartlett and Max-Red (Max-Red and Red Bartlett) varieties of pears grown in California through July 31, 1978. The amendment takes into consideration the marketing situation facing the California pear industry, and is necessary to assure that shipments of pears will be of suitable quality and size in the interest of consumers and producers.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-3545).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On August 8, 1977, notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 39989; 42691), that the Department was considering an amendment of § 917.445 Pear Regulation 7, which would continue for the period September 1, 1977, through July 31, 1978, grade, size, and container requirements currently in effect through August 31 1977. The regulation is effective under the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 917, as amended (7 CFR Part 917), regulating the handling of fresh pears, plums, and peaches grown in California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). The notice provided that all written comments in connection with the proposed amendment be submitted not later than August 23, 1977. None were received. On August 29, 1977, Pear Regulation 7, Amendment 1 was issued, increasing the amount of size 165 pears which could be shipped to 17.647 percent.

The grade and size requirements are designed to permit shipment of ample supplies of fruit of acceptable grades and sizes in the interest of both growers and consumers. The container requirements are necessary to assure that containers are properly marked as to variety, and that the fruit contained therein is protected during transit. The amendment is consistent with the objectives of the act of promoting orderly marketing and protecting the interest of consumers.

After consideration of all relevant matter presented, including the proposal set forth in the notice, the recommendations and information submitted by the Pear Commodity Committee, established under the amended marketing agreement and order, and other available information, it is found that the limitation of handling of pears, as provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

It is further found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) shipments of such pears are currently in progress and this amendment should be applicable to all such pear shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; (2) this amendment is necessary to extend regulations currently in effect for the balance of the season; (3) notice of this proposed amendment allowing 15 days for public comment was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER; (4) compliance with this amendment will not require any special preparation on the part of the persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by September 1, 1977; and (5) the regulation currently in effect was recommended by the Pear Commodity Committee during an open meeting at which all interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views.

The provisions of § 917.445 Pear Regulation 7 (42 FR 35937) are amended to read as follows:

§ 917.445 Pear Regulation 7.

(a) During the period September 1, 1977, through July 31, 1978, no handler shall ship:

(1) Bartlett or Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett) varieties of pears which do not grade at least U.S. Combination with not less than 85 percent by count, of the pears grading at least U.S. No. 1;

(2) Any box or container of Bartlett or Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett) varieties of pears unless such pears are of a size not smaller than the size known commercially as size 150: Provided, That a handler may ship, during any day from any shipping point, a quantity of such pears which are smaller than the size known commercially as size 150 if (i) such smaller pears are not smaller than the size known commercially as size 165, and (ii) the quantity of such smaller pears shipped from such shipping point does not, at the end of any day during the aforesaid period, exceed 17.647 percent of such handler's total shipments of such pears, shipped from the same shipping point, which are not smaller than the size known commercially as size 150;

(3) Any box or container of Bartlett or Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett) varieties of pears unless such box or container is stamped or otherwise marked in plain sight and in plain letters, on one outside end with the name of the variety; and

(4) Any box or container of Bartlett or Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett) varieties of pears in volume fill cartons (not packed in rows and not wrap packed) unless (i) such cartons are well filled with pears fairly uniform in size; (ii) Such pears are packed fairly tight; (iii) there is an approved top pad in each carton that will cover the fruit with no more than ¼ inch between the pad and any side or end of the carton; and (iv) the top of the carton shall be securely fastened to the bottom: Provided, That 10 percent of the cartons in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this paragraph.

(b) Definitions. (1) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(2) "Size known commercially as size 150" means a size of pear that will pack a standard pear box, packed in accordance with the specifications of a standard pack, with 150 pears and that a 12-pound random sample, representative of the size of the pears in the box or container, contains not more than 39 pears.

(3) "Size known commercially as size 165" means a size of pear that will pack a standard pear box, packed in accordance with the specifications of a standard pack, with 165 pears and that a 12-pound random sample representative of the size of the pears in the box or container, contains not more than 43 pears.

(4) "Standard pear box" means the container so designated in Section 1380.9 of the Regulations of the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

(5) "U.S. No. 1", "U.S. Combination" and "standard pack" shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards for Pears (Summer and Fall) 7 CFR 51.1260-51.1280.

(6) "Approved top pad" shall mean a pad of wood-type excelsior construction, fairly uniform in thickness, weighing at least 160 pounds per 1,000 square feet (e.g., an 11 inch by 17 inch pad will weigh at least 21 pounds per 100 pads) or an equivalent made of material other than wood excelsior approved by the committee.

Dated, August 29, 1977, to become effective September 1, 1977.

Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

SUBCHAPTER B—LOANS, PURCHASES AND OTHER OPERATIONS

Subpart—1977 Gum Naval Stores Purchase Program

AGENCY: Commodity Credit Corporation, USDA.

ACTION: Final Rule.

SUMMARY: This rule provides producers with the detailed operating provisions of the 1977 Naval Stores Purchase Program. These provisions provide guidelines which will enable the producer to regulate the size of his harvest after April 1, 1977 (the trees are prepared during the winter months), in line with the level of encouragement provided by the program. This rule will enable producers to obtain price support on 1977 crop gum naval stores.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charlie B. Robbins, (ASCS), (202) 447-4634, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The previous program regulations, applicable to 1976 crop gum naval stores, published at 41 FR 133, provided for a loan and purchase program. These regulations contain provisions relating only to a purchase program. It is essential that these provisions be made effective as soon as possible as the harvest season began on April 1, 1977. Accordingly, it is hereby found and determined that compliance with the notice, public participation procedure and effective date provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553 is impracticable and contrary to the public interest. Therefore, these regulations are issued without compliance with such procedure.

FINAL RULE

Accordingly, 7 CFR 1438.1636 through 1438.1660 and the title of the subpart are revised to read as follows, effective as to 1977 crop gum naval stores. The material previously appearing in this subpart remains in full force and effect as to the crop years to which it was applicable.

(2) Body, head and bottom a minimum gauge of 29.

(3) Minimum zinc coating (Hot dip ATSM designation A 525—latest revision), coating class C–60 and a minimum check limit triple-spot test of .60 ounce per square foot.

(4) Straight side construction with approximate outside dimensions of: (i) Diameter 22⅝ inches by (ii) height at chimes of 35$^{7}/_{8}$ inches.

(5) A collapsible cone head with a liquid capacity of 12 to 15 quarts, a center hole with a diameter of 3¼ to 6½ inches with a ¼ inch side flange equipped with a friction cap flanged to match and fit securely over the center flange.

(6) The bottom shall be slightly convex or "dished", and

(7) The seams shall be one vertical straight ⅜ inch hook-type along the side and ¼ double horizontal on each end.

§ 1438.1640 Warehouse receipts.

(a) General. Warehouse receipts representing gum rosin to be delivered to CCC for purchase must meet the requirements of this section and any other requirements contained in the regulations in this subpart. A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade of gum rosin.

(b) Manner of issuance and endorsement. Warehouse receipts must be issued in the name of ATFA or the producer and properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder. Receipts must be issued by an approved warehouse, must be negotiable, must cover eligible gum rosin actually in storage in the warehouse and must be registered or recorded with appropriate State or local officials when required by State law.

(c) Entries. Each warehouse receipt must show:

(1) Number of containers;
(2) Gross weight;
(3) Net weight; and
(4) Grade.

§ 1438.1641 Eligibility requirements.

(a) Requesting price support. To obtain price support on eligible gum rosin: (1) ATFA must notify the county ASCS office of the county in which its principal office is located of its intention to sell eligible gum rosin by completing a Purchase Agreement (Form CCC–614), no later than December 31, 1977; and (2) An eligible producer must notify the county ASCS office of the county of his residence of his intention to sell eligible rosin by completing a Purchase Agreement (Form CCC–614), no later than December 31, 1977.

(b) Beneficial interest. To be eligible for price support, the beneficial interest in the gum rosin must be in the producer tendering it for purchase and must have always been in him, or in him and a former producer whom he succeeded as producer before the oleoresin was harvested: Provided, That, when a producer's eligible oleoresin is commingled in the processing operation with oleoresin produced in the United States by other producers, the rosin credited to the producer as representing the processed equivalent of his eligible oleoresin will be deemed to be, if otherwise eligible, eligible rosin produced by such producer: And provided further, That heirs who succeed to the beneficial interest of a deceased producer shall be eligible for price support as producers whether such succession occurs before or after harvest of the oleoresin. A producer shall not be considered to have divested himself of the beneficial interest in the gum rosin if he enters into a contract to sell or gives an option to sell his rosin if, under the contract or option, he retains control, risk of loss, and title to the rosin subject to such agreement, and retains control of its production. For purchases made from

ATFA, the beneficial interest in the gum rosin must always have been in the producer members who delivered the gum rosin to ATFA or must have always been in them and former producers whom they succeeded before the oleoresin was harvested, except as provided in the case of heirs of a deceased producer. Gum rosin acquired by ATFA shall not be eligible for price support if the producer members who delivered the gum rosin to ATFA do not retain the right to share in the proceeds from the marketing of the gum rosin as provided in Part 1425 of this chapter.

(c) Succession of interest. To meet the requirements of sucession to a former producer, the rights, responsibilities, and interest of the former producer, with respect to production and harvest of oleoresin, shall have been substantially assumed by the person claiming succession. Mere purchase of the oleoresin prior to processing, without acquisition of any additional interest in the production unit, shall not constitute sucession of interest.

(d) Doubtful cases. Any producer or association in doubt as to whether his interest in the gum rosin complies with the requirements of this section should, before requesting price support, make available to the county committee all pertinent information which will permit a determination to be made by CCC.

§ 1438.1642 Restriction in use of agents.

Individual producers or ATFA shall not delegate to any person, (or his representative) who has any interest in storing, processing, or merchandising gum rosin, authority to exercise on their behalf any of the rights or privileges under this program or any instrument executed in obtaining price support under this program, unless the person (or his representative) to whom authority is delegated is serving in the capacity of a farm manager for the producer. Any delegation of authority given in violation of this section shall be without force and effect and shall not be recognized by CCC.

§ 1438.1643 Availability.

(a) Where to request price support. (1) ATFA shall request price support at the county ASCS office of the county where its office is located, and (2) producers shall request price support at the county ASCS office of the county of their residence.

(b) Availability date. The final availability date applicable to purchases will be December 31, 1977.

(c) Quantity eligible for purchase. (1) ATFA may sell to CCC any or all of its eligible gum rosin: Provided, That, ATFA notifies the county ASCS office of its intention to sell its eligible gum rosin by completing a Purchase Agreement (Form CCC–614), indicating the approximate quantity of gum rosin it will sell to CCC, no later than the availability date specified herein. (2) An individual producer may sell to CCC any or all of his eligible gum rosin: Provided, That, he notifies the county ASCS office of his intention to sell his eligible gum rosin by completing a Purchase Agreement (Form CCC–614), indicating the approximate quantity of gum rosin he will sell to CCC, no later than the availability date specified herein.

(d) Delivery. Delivery points for purchases shall be limited to those approved by the Grains, Oilseeds and Cotton Division, ASCS. Purchases will not be made of gum rosin not stored in approved warehouses. The producer or ATFA offering gum rosin for purchase which is not stored in an approved warehouse shall be responsible for delivery to an approved warehouse before CCC will accept delivery for purchase. Delivery instructions issued by the County ASCS office will specify the warehouse to which gum rosin not stored in approved warehouses shall be delivered for purchase.

§ 1438.1644 Approved storage.

Purchases will be made by CCC only if the gum rosin is in the custody of an approved warehouse.

§ 1438.1645 Warehouse charges.

Prior to the time that the gum rosin is acquired by CCC, storage, inspection, and all other charges (except receiving and loading out charges in the warehouse in which the gum rosin is acquired by CCC) accruing through the final availability date shall be paid or arranged for. CCC will assume warehouse storage charges accruing after the gum rosin is acquired by CCC.

§ 1438.1646 Applicable forms.

The forms for use in connection with this program shall be as follows: Form CCC–614, Purchase Agreement; Form CCC–679, Lien Waiver; Form CCC–691, Commodity Delivery Notice; Form CCC–692, Settlement Statement; and such other forms as may be prescribed by CCC. These forms may be obtained in State and county ASCS offices and from the Grains, Oilseeds and Cotton Division, ASCS.

§ 1438.1647 Liens.

If there are any liens or encumbrances on the gum rosin, waivers that will fully protect the interest of CCC must be obtained even though the liens or encumbrances are satisfied from the purchase proceeds.

§ 1438.1648 Delivery charges.

A delivery charge of 1 cent per hundredweight shall be paid by producers on the quantity of gum rosin delivered to CCC.

§ 1438.1649 Setoffs.

(a) Facility and drying equipment. If any installments on any loan made by CCC on farm storage facilities and drying equipment are due and payable under the provisions of the note evidencing such loan out of any amount due the producer under these regulations, the amount due the producer, after deduction of applicable fees and charges and amounts due prior lienholders, shall be applied to such installment(s).

(b) Producers listed on claims control record. If a producer is indebted to CCC or to any other agency of the United States and such indebtedness is listed on the claims control record, amounts due the producer under the program provided in this subpart, after deduction of amounts payable on farm storage facilities or drying equipment and other amounts provided in paragraph (a) of this section, shall be applied as provided in the Secretary's Setoff Regulations, Part 13 of this title to such indebtedness.

(c) Producer's right. Compliance with the provisions of this section shall not deprive the producer of any right he might otherwise have to contest the justness of the indebtedness involved in the setoff action either by administrative appeal or by legal action.

§ 1438.1650 Determination of quantity and quality.

(a) Quantity for purchase. The quantity of eligible gum rosin acquired by CCC shall be the net weight shown on the warehouse receipt.

(b) Quality for settlement. Settlement for eligible gum rosin acquired by CCC shall be made on the basis of the grade shown on the warehouse receipt.

§ 1438.1651 Advances by ATFA.

ATFA will make advances to eligible producers, on eligible rosin or the rosin content of eligible oleoresin, based on the support level of $63.30 per standard barrel (435 lbs. net weight each) or oleoresin, processed basis, less allowable retains. Only eligible rosin on which such advances have been made to producers by ATFA will be eligible for ATFA to tender to CCC for purchase.

§ 1438.1652 Settlement.

(a) General. Except as provided in § 1438.1653 and paragraph (b) of this section, settlement for eligible gum rosin acquired by CCC will be made on the basis of the quantity and grade of such gum rosin as provided in this section and other applicable provisions of this subpart. The settlement value of gum rosin shall be the sum of the support rate for each grade acquired times the quantity acquired at the time of settlement.

(b) Approved warehouse storage. Settlement for gum rosin stored in an approved warehouse and acquired by CCC shall be made on the basis of the net weight and grade shown on the warehouse receipt.

(c) Payments of amount due. Payment of amount due on purchases will be made by draft drawn on CCC by the county office.

(d) Ineligible gum rosin inadvertently accepted by CCC. If ineligible gum rosin is inadvertently accepted by CCC, the settlement value shall be the lower of the market value, as determined by CCC, as of the date of delivery or the support price. The provisions of § 1438.1653 shall be applicable to settlement on ineligible gum rosin where there has been a fraudulent representation on the part of ATFA or any individual producer.

§ 1438.1653 Personal liability.

(a) Fraud. If ATFA or a producer makes a fraudulent representation in a price support purchase by CCC or in price support purchase documents, the producer or ATFA shall be personally liable, aside from any additional liability under criminal or civil fraud statutes, for any loss which CCC sustains upon the gum rosin delivered under the purchase. For the purpose of this program such loss shall be deemed to be the price paid on the gum rosin delivered under the purchase program, plus all costs sustained by CCC in connection with the gum rosin together with interest on such amounts, less the lowest of the following: The market value, as determined by CCC, as of the close of the market on the date of delivery; the sales price of the gum rosin, if the rosin is sold in order to determine its market value; or CCC's purchase price.

(b) Overdisbursement. If the amount disbursed exceeds the price support value of the gum rosin upon settlement, determined as authorized under this subpart, the ATFA or producer receiving the overdisbursement shall be personally liable for the repayment of the amount of such excess.

§ 1438.1654 Charges not to be assumed by CCC.

CCC will not assume any charges for administrative and operating expense of ATFA or for insurance, storage, packaging and processing charges incurred by ATFA or individual producers.

§ 1438.1655 Handling payments and collections not exceeding $3.

In order to avoid administrative costs of making small payments and handling small accounts, amounts of $3 or less which are due the producer or ATFA will be paid only upon his request. Deficiencies of $3 or less, may be disregarded unless demand for payment is made by CCC.

§ 1438.1656 Death, incompetency, or disappearance.

In case of death, incompetency, or disappearance of any producer who is entitled to the payment of any sum in settlement of a purchase payment shall, upon proper application to the county office which made the purchase, be made to the persons who would be entitled to such producer's payment under the regulations contained in Part 707 of this title—Payments Due Persons Who Have Died, Disappeared, or Have Been Declared Incompetent.

§ 1438.1657 Support rates.

The 1977 crop gum rosin purchase rates per hundredweight, packed in eligible metal drums and stored in the custody of an approved warehouse are:

Grade:	Purchase rate
X	$17.50
WW	17.50
WG	16.75
N	16.35
M	15.95
K	15.50

§ 1438.1658 Management of CCC owned inventory.

In the event CCC acquires gum rosin under the price support program and enters into an agreement with ATFA to manage such inventory, CCC will reimburse ATFA for the administrative and operating expenses, approved by CCC, incurred by ATFA in the handling and preservation of such gum rosin.

§ 1438.1659 Definitions.

As used in the regulations in this subpart and in all instructions, forms and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases listed in this section shall have the meaning assigned to them herein unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) General. The following phrases: "State committee" and "county committee" shall each have the same meaning as the definitions of such term in the regulations pertaining to Reconstitution of Farms and Allotments, Part 719 of this title and any amendments thereto.

(b) Settlement value. The term "settlement value" means the value at which settlement is made on the gum rosin offered for purchase, as determined under the provisions of the regulations in this part.

(c) Charges. The term "charges" means all fees, costs, and expenses incident to insuring, carrying, handling, storing, conditioning, and marketing gum rosin.

(d) The regulations in this subpart. The term "the regulations in this subpart" means the regulations in Subpart—1977 Gum Naval Stores Purchase Program together with any supplements and amendments thereto.

(e) Request price support. The term "request price support" means the execution of a Purchase Agreement (Form CCC–614).

PART 1822—RURAL HOUSING LOANS AND GRANTS

AGENCY: Farmers Home Administration, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Farmers Home Administration is deleting the provision in its regulation which requires funds included in the loan for payment of interest to be collected and applied as a regular payment at the time of the loan closing. This action is being taken since this provision is inconsistent with the promissory note.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This revision is effective September 1, 1977.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

§ 1822.75 [Amended]

In § 1822.75(c)(5) of Subpart C, Part 1822, Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations (31 FR 14148, 42 FR 4407) the second sentence is deleted. The sentence to be deleted reads as follows: "Any funds included in the loan for the payment of interest will be collected and applied as a regular payment at the time of loan closing." It is the policy of this Department that rules relating to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts shall be published for comment notwithstanding the exemption in 5 U.S.C. 553 with respect to such rules. This deletion, however, is not published for proposed rulemaking since the purpose of the change is to correct a current inconsistency in the regulation and any delay would be contrary to the public interest.

SUBCHAPTER G—MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS

[FmHA Instruction 440.3]

PART 1888—SPECIAL ASSISTANCE TO DROUGHT STRICKEN AREAS

New Methods for Determining Amount of Development Grant Assistance

AGENCY: Farmers Home Administration, USDA.

ACTION: Final Rule.

SUMMARY: The Farmers Home Administration issues amended regulations to provide new methods for determining the amount of development grant assistance for projects serving rural communities suffering from drought. This action is brought about by the need for emergency assistance through grants and/or loans and the intended effect is to ameliorate the impact of the drought conditions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1, 1977. Comments must be received on or before October 3, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Submit written comments to the Office of the Chief, Directives Management Branch, Farmers Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 6316, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250. All written comments made pursuant to this notice will be available for public inspection at the address given above.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Charles B. Hart, 202–447–5717.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Part 1888 of Chapter XVIII, Title 7, Subchapter G, "Miscellaneous Regulations," in the Code of Federal Regulations (42 FR 19322; 42 FR 23158) is amended. The purpose of this amendment is to provide new methods for determining the amount of development grant assistance for projects serving rural communities suffering from drought, as set forth in the new paragraph (d) of § 1833.13; the present paragraph (d) is redesignated paragraph (e) without change. This change in the administration of grant funds is being implemented to assure that rural communities are receiving equitable treatment with their urban counterparts. It is the policy of the department that rules relating to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contract shall be published for comment notwithstanding the exemptions in 5 U.S.C. 553. This amendment, however, is not published for proposed rulemaking since any delay in administering this currently needed assistance would be contrary to the public interest. However, comments will be accepted and material thus submitted will be evaluated and acted upon in the same manner as if the document were a proposal. However, this addition will remain effective until amended in order to permit the public business to proceed expeditiously. Accordingly, new paragraph (d) of § 1888.13 reads as follows:

§ 1888.13 Loans and grants to rural communities for water supply assistance.

(d) The provisions of paragraph (b)(1) of § 1823.472 of this chapter determining the need for a development grant will not apply for those grant requests under this authority. Grant assistance will be determined as follows:

(1) Calculate one percent (1 percent) of the median family income of those individuals located within the service area covered by the project multiplied by the number of families or users served; this amount is the applicant's annual available debt service.

(2) Calculate the amount needed annually to service all existing indebtedness of the applicant.

(3) Subtract paragraph (d)(2) of this section from paragraph (d)(1) of this section. This is the net annual available debt service.

(4) Calculate the amount of debt that could be amortized during the estimated useful life of the project with the net annual available debt service calculated under paragraph (d)(3) of this section.

(5) Subtract from the total allowable project cost the amount determined in paragraph (d)(4) of this section. The remainder will be the maximum amount of grant assistance for the project except that the amount of FmHA grant assistance shall not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the total eligible project development costs.

(6) Projects primarily designed to eliminate existing or immediately foreseeable threats to health and safety problems, which are factually documented as such, may receive up to twenty percent (20%) of the total eligible project development costs in the form of grant assistance. This provision is designed to assure that in those cases where the calculations under paragraph (d)(5) of this section results in an FmHA grant of less than twenty percent (20%) of the eligible project development cost for "health and safety" projects as described in this paragraph, additional FmHA grant assistance may be provided up to the twenty percent (20%) limit.

(7) The provisions of paragraph (d) of this section shall be retroactive to May 6, 1977, for those projects for which funds have not been obligated or where funds have been obligated but not advanced to the borrower.

(7 U.S.C. 1989; delegation of authority by the Sec. of Agri., 7 CFR 2.23; delegation of authority by the Asst. Sec. for Rural Development, 7 CFR 2.70)

NOTE.—The Farmers Home Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821 and OMB Circular A–107.

Dated: August 26, 1977.

CHAPTER I—NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

Amendments to Chapter To Revoke or Revise Certain Reporting Requirements

AGENCY: U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission

ACTION: Final Rule

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is amending its regulations to revoke three reporting requirements, to revise four reporting requirements to require telephone notification only and to revise two reporting requirements to increase the threshold for reporting damage to property. These amendments reduce the reporting burden on NRC licensees.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Gerald L. Hutton, Division of Rules and Records, Office of Administration, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Tel. (301) 492–7211.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission is revoking the following reporting requirements which are no longer necessary or duplicate information which is furnished to the Commission pursuant to other reporting requirements:

(a) 10 CFR 32.60, Report of Transfer of Americium-241 to persons generally licensed under 10 CFR 31.8.

(b) 10 CFR 32.63, Report of transfer of strontium-90 to persons generally licensed under 10 CFR 31.10.

(c) 10 CFR 70.39(d), Report of transfer of plutonium to persons generally licensed under 10 CFR 70.19.

The Commission also is amending the reporting requirements in §§ 20.402(a), 73.71(a), 73.71(b), and 150.16(b) to require telephone notification only. Paragraphs 20.403(a) and 20.403(b) are being amended to increase the threshold for reporting damage to property.

Since the amendments set forth below relate to minor matters and are intended to provide relief from, rather than to impose, restrictions under regulations currently in effect the Commission has found that good cause exists for omitting general notice of proposed rule making and public procedure thereon as unnecessary and for making the rule effective on September 1, 1977 without the customary 30 day waiting period.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, as amended, and Sections 552 and 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code, the following amendments to Title 10, Chapter I, Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 20, 32, 70, 73, and 150 are published as a document subject to codification.

PART 70—SPECIAL NUCLEAR MATERIAL

Issuance of Licenses; Amendment

NOTE.—This document originally appeared at page 43821 in the FEDERAL REGISTER for August 31, 1977. It is reprinted in this issue to meet the assigned day-of-the-week publication schedule.

AGENCY: U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC).

ACTION: Interim rule.

SUMMARY: NRC is amending its regulations on an interim basis to exempt exports of special nuclear material which is diluted in such a way that it is no longer usable for any nuclear activity relevant from the point of view of safeguards, or is practicably irrecoverable, from the requirement that the export be subject to an agreement for cooperation. This amendment would conform NRC export regulations to internationally recognized standards and eliminate an unnecessary administrative burden.

DATES: Effective: August 31, 1977. Comment period expires: October 17, 1977.

ADDRESS: Send comments to: Secretary, Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. R. Neal Moore, Office of International Programs, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Telephone: 301-492-7984.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 57 d. of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (Act), authorizes the Commission to "exempt certain classes or quantities of special nuclear material or kinds of uses or users from the requirements for a license * * * when it makes a finding that the exemption * * * would not be inimical to the common defense and security and would not constitute an unreasonable risk to the health and safety of the public."

In November 1976, the Commission received a request from the Kerr-McGee Nuclear Corporation to export to Mexico less than 5 grams of low enriched uranium (special nuclear material) as an entrapped contaminant in 15 pieces of used standard laboratory testing equipment and fuel fabrication machinery which had been sold to the Instituto Nacional de Energia Nuclear (INEN) in Mexico, D.F. Recently, the NRC staff was further informed by NUSAC, Inc., the agent for Kerr-McGee Nuclear Corporation, that its client holds a letter of credit issued by INEN which expires August 31, 1977.

Under present regulations, the Commission is precluded from issuing an export license for this material because there is no agreement for cooperation with Mexico pursuant to Section 123 of the Atomic Energy Act.

Under other circumstances, small quantities of special nuclear material could be exported to countries which do not have an agreement for cooperation with the United States by exporting the material under the auspices of the United States/International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) Agreement for Cooperation. However, the IAEA system for the application of safeguards provides that "safeguards shall terminate on nuclear material * * * upon determination by the Agency that it has been consumed, or has been diluted in such a way that it is no longer usable for any nuclear activity relevant from the point of view of safeguards, or has become practicably irrecoverable." (INFCIRC/153 and INFCIRC/66/Rev. 2) In such cases, therefore, no useful purpose would be served and an unnecessary administrative burden would be entailed in bringing such exports under the U.S./IAEA Agreement for Cooperation.

A letter dated August 17, 1977 from the Department of State has forwarded the Executive Branch view favoring issuance of the proposed license of Kerr-McGee Nuclear Corporation and an appropriate exemption under Section 57d. of the Act for this case.

While this is the first such case which has arisen, the Commission recognizes that there could be future proposed exports of special nuclear material which is diluted in such a way as to have no relevance from the point of view of safeguards, or is practicably irrecoverable. As with the present case, it is expected that future cases would also involve small quantities of material. At any rate, no such export license would be issued unless the Commission had determined that the proposed export would not be inimical to the common defense and security. Therefore, the Commission has decided to exercise the authority granted under Sections 53, 54, and 57d. of the Act to facilitate such material exports.

The Commission has determined that such action would not be inimical to the common defense and security and would not constitute an unreasonable risk to the health and safety of the public.

In view of the longstanding pendency of this minor case, the Executive Branch's view on the merits of the export license application, the need for timely action expressed by the applicant, the insignificant amounts of the material involved, the fact that the material is practicably irrecoverable and not relevant from the safeguards standpoint, and the fact that the amendment will relieve a restriction, the Commission has also found that the customary 30-day notice of proposed rulemaking and public procedures thereon are unnecessary and contrary to the public interest and that good cause exists why this regulation should be made effective on an interim basis upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER without the customary 30-day notice.

This interim rule will expire on March 1, 1978, unless extended by the Commission. The Commission expects to make a decision by March 1, 1978, on whether the interim rule should be made permanent.

All interested persons who desire to submit written comments or suggestions for consideration in connection with making the interim rule permanent should send them to the Secretary of the Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section by October 17, 1977. Copies of comments on the interim amendment may be examined at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, as amended, and Sections 552 and 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code, the following amendment to Title 10, Chapter 1, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 70 is adopted on an interim basis and published as a document subject to codification and effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (August 31, 1977).

§ 70.31 Issuance of licenses.

* * * * *

(e) When a license is sought to authorize the export of special nuclear material, the Commission will determine whether the export is under the terms of an agreement for cooperation, except for proposed exports on or before March 1, 1978, of special nuclear material which is diluted in such a way that it is no longer usable for any nuclear activity relevant from the point of view of safeguards, or is practicably irrecoverable. No license authorizing export of special nuclear material will be issued if the Commission finds that the issuance of such license would be inimical to the interests of the United States.

Title 14—Aeronautics and Space

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[Docket No. 77-SW-32; Amdt. 39-3026]

Mooney Aircraft Corporation Models M20E, F, and J Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This Airworthiness Directive requires a visual check of oil coolers on certain Mooney airplanes with an incorrectly assembled oil cooler.

DATES: Effective date, August 31, 1977, and was effective upon receipt of the airmail letter dated August 2, 1977, for all recipients of the airmail letter. Compliance required before further flight after the effective date of this AD.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Martin J. Saunders, Propulsion Section (ASW-214), Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Flight Standards Division, Southwest Region, Federal Aviation Administration, Post Office Box 1689, Fort Worth, Texas 76101; telephone 817-624-4911, extension 524.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Two incorrectly assembled Stewart-Warner model 8432F1 oil coolers were found. One during a production flight test and the other during inventory inspection following the production flight test incident. The mode of incorrect assembly allows oil to pass directly through the end of the oil radiator without passing through the oil fins, resulting in little or no oil cooling, and during some flight conditions, the inlet oil temperature exceeds manufacturers' approved limits.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are Martin J. Saunders, Aerospace Engineer, Flight Standards Division, and Joseph A. Kovarik, Regional Counsel, Southwest Region, Federal Aviation Administration.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended, effective August 31, 1977, and was effective upon receipt for all recipients of the airmail letter dated August 2, 1977, which contained this amendment, by adding the following new AD:

MOONEY: Applies to Models M20E (Serial Numbers 101 through 466, 470 through 1217, 1219, 1221, 1223 through 1308, 670001 through 670062, 690001 through 690073, 700001 through 700039, 700041 through 700043, 700045 through 700052, 700055, 700056, 700060, 700061, 21-0001 through 21-1180); M20F (Serial Numbers 670001 through 670363, 670365 through 670385, 670387 through 670482, 670484 through 670539, 680001 through 680206, 690001 through 690090, 690092, 700001 through 700061, 700063, 700066 through 700070, 700072, 22-0001 through 22-1437); M20J (Serial Numbers 24-0001 through 24-0237, 24-0241, 24-0242, 24-0245, 24-0248 through 24-0255) airplanes with a Stewart-Warner model 8432F1 oil cooler.

Compliance: Required before further flight, unless already accomplished.

To prevent overheating of engine oil, accomplish the following:

1. Remove the top cowl on Mooney Model M20J airplanes, the left side cowl on Mooney Model M20E or F airplanes; visually check the engine oil cooler to determine if there is a "V" notch between the center welds and the row of smaller edge notches, as shown in the attached picture, Figure I.

a. If a "V" notch is found on the fourth (4th) and/or fifth (5th) plate on the side having the oil ports, as displayed in Figure I, and no such "V" notch is found on the opposite side, make an entry in the aircraft maintenance records indicating that this AD has been accomplished, and the airplane may be returned to service.

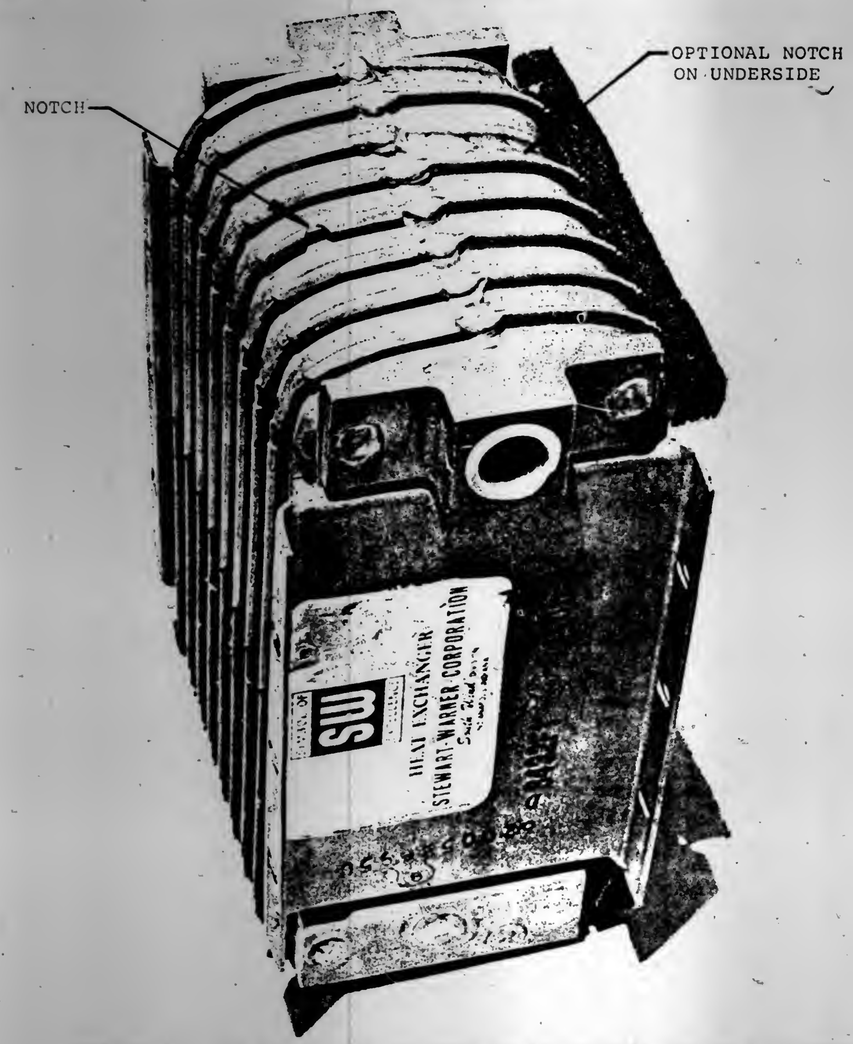
b. If no "V" notice is found as depicted in Figure I, or if there are any other similar notches in any other location, replace the oil cooler with an airworthy Stewart-Warner model 8432F1 oil cooler before further flight.

A pilot may perform the visual checks outlined in paragraph 1.a.

NOTE.—The pilot must make an entry in the maintenance record in accordance with FAR § 43.9 to indicate compliance with this AD.

NOTE.—Mooney Special Notice Letter 7/22/77 pertains to this same subject.

2. Any equivalent method of compliance with this AD must be approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Flight Standards Division, Southwest Region, Federal Aviation Administration.



(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.89.)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Issued in Fort Worth, Texas, on August 22, 1977.

Director,
Southwest Region.

Detroit Diesel Allison Model 250-C20/C20B/C20C and 250-B17/B17B Engines

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule, supersedure of existing Airworthiness Directive.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new Airworthiness Directive (AD) which supersedes AD 77-10-13, and, in addition to incorporating those provisions originally set forth in AD 77-10-13, requires modification or replacement of the third stage turbine wheel on Detroit Diesel Allison 250-C20 and 250-B17 engines presently equipped with wheels of Part Number (P/N) 6887113 or P/N 6888633. This AD is being adopted in response to several instances of third stage turbine blade failure on 250-C20 series engines. Compliance with this AD will prevent possible turbine blade failure due to vibratory fatigue which results in engine power loss.

DATE: Effective date September 6, 1977. Compliance schedule—As prescribed in the body of this AD.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the Detroit Diesel Allison Commercial Engine Bulletins referenced herein may be obtained by contacting: Detroit Diesel Allison, Division of General Motors Corp., P.O. Box 894, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206.

Copies of the Bell Helicopter Textron Service Bulletins referenced herein may be obtained by contacting: Bell Helicopter Textron, P.O. Box 482, Fort Worth, Tex. 76101.

Copies of the service information incorporated in this AD are contained in the Rules Docket, Office of the Regional Counsel, 2300 E. Devon Avenue, Des Plains, Ill. 60018; and at FAA Headquarters, Room 916, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

W. Ashworth, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Flight Standards Division, AGL-214, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 E. Devon Avenue, Des Plains, Ill. 60018; telephone 312-694-4500, extension 308.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There recently have been several instances of third stage turbine blade failure on 250-C20 series engines equipped with P/N 6887113 turbine wheels. As a result, in each instance a severe power loss was experienced.

Each of these failures resulted from high cycle fatigue. Analysis and testing indicate that the most probable cause of these failures is high vibratory stress developed in the blades when the wheel is operated at a speed that excites the disc at a resonant frequency.

Amendment 39-2904, 42 FR 26199, AD 77-10-13 as amended by 39-2929, 42 FR 32521, imposed a turbine speed restriction on Detroit Diesel Allison 250-C20, C20B; C20C, B17, and B17B engines, compliance with which does not completely eliminate the risk of failure. After issuing Amendment 39-2929, the Federal Aviation Administration determined that replacement or modification of the third stage power turbine wheel would preclude third stage power turbine blade failure due to vibratory fatigue. Therefore, the Federal Aviation Administration is superseding Amendment 39-2929 with a new AD that requires third stage power turbine wheel replacement or modification on these Detroit Diesel Allison engines.

This superseding AD does, however, retain the operating restrictions imposed by AD 77-10-13 which is required for coverage, to the extent thereby provided, of affected wheels until they reach time in service which renders applicable the additional provisions of this AD.

Since this amendment relieves a restriction and imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In accordance with Departmental Regulatory Reform, dated March 23, 1976, an evaluation of the anticipated impacts has been made and it is expected that within a normal range of pertinent considerations the proposal will be neither costly nor controversial.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are W. Ashworth, Flight Standards Division, Great Lakes Region, and J. McLaughlin, Office of the Regional Counsel, Great Lakes Region.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive:

DETROIT DIESEL ALLISON. Applies to 250-C20, C20B, C20C, B17, and B17B engines equipped with third stage turbine wheel part numbers 6887113 and 6888633 installed in aircraft certificated in all categories.

Compliance required before further flight, unless already accomplished.

(a) To reduce the risk of engine power loss resulting from third stage turbine blade failure, provide placards, markings, flight manual changes or other appropriate information advising flight crews to avoid sustained operation of the engine between 90 and 98 percent N_2 except during transients while maintaining safe flight practices. This restriction also applies to autorotation practice and engine idle during engine out simulation on multi-engine aircraft. An acceptable means of compliance for Bell Helicopter Textron 206 series rotorcraft is prescribed by Bell Helicopter Textron Service Bulletin Numbers 206L-77-9 for Bell 206L rotorcraft and 206B-77-6 for Bell 206B rotorcraft. (Detroit Diesel Allison Commercial Service Letters No. 1062 Rev. 1 for the 250-C20 series engines and No. 1031 Rev. 1 for the 250-B17 series engines also pertain to this subject).

Compliance required within the next 1500 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD or at next turbine disassembly, whichever comes first, unless already accomplished.

(b) Remove the third stage turbine wheel in accordance with the applicable approved engine overhaul manual. Third stage turbine wheel Part Numbers 6887113 and 6891588 shall then be modified in accordance with Detroit Diesel Allison Commercial Engine Bulletins No. 1114 for the C20 series engines and No. 1084 for the B17 series engines or be replaced by wheel P/N 6898551 or 6898567. All modified wheels shall be reidentified as P/N 6896863 or 6896873 respectively. Upon completion of this modification, action required by (a) is obviated.

The manufacturer's specifications and procedures identified in this directive are incorporated herein and made a part hereof pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1). All persons affected by this directive who have not already received these documents from the manufacturer may obtain copies upon request to Detroit Diesel Allison, Division of General Motors Corp., P.O. Box 894, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206, and Bell Helicopter Textron, P.O. Box 482, Fort Worth, Tex. 76101. These documents also may be examined at the FAA Great Lakes Region, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Ill. 60018 and at FAA Headquarters, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. A historical file on this AD which includes the incorporated material in full is maintained by the FAA at its headquarters in Washington, D.C. and at the Great Lakes Region.

This supersedes Amendment 39-2904, 42 FR 26199, AD 77-10-13, as amended by Amendment 39-2929, 42 FR 32521.

This amendment becomes effective September 6, 1977.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.89.)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Issued in Des Plaines, Ill. on August 22, 1977.

Acting Director,
Great Lakes Region.

NOTE.—The incorporation by reference in the preceding document was approved by the Director of the Federal Register on June 19, 1967.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE AND REPORTING POINTS

Redesignation of Control Zone, Livingston, Mont.

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment revises the effective time for the Livingston, Mont., Control Zone from continuous to part-time to establish effective times for this control zone which coincide with the availability of weather reporting service at this location.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 0901 GMT September 22, 1977.

ADDRESS: Federal Aviation Administration, Chief, Air Traffic Division (Attn: ARM-500), 10455 East 25th Avenue, Aurora, Colo. 80010.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Clyde A. Powers, Airspace Specialist, Operations, Procedures and Airspace Branch, ARM-538, Federal Aviation Administration, Rocky Mountain Region, 10455 East 25th Avenue, Aurora, Colo. 80010, telephone 303-837-3937.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Livingston, Mont., Flight Service Station currently provides full-time weather reporting service to support the full-time Livingston, Mont., Control Zone. Beginning September 22, 1977, operational hours for the Livingston, Mont., Flight Service Station will be changed from full-time to the periods from 060 to 2200 hours local time daily and weather reporting services will not be available during periods when this facility is closed. Therefore, the present continuous effective period for the Livingston, Mont., Control Zone must be revised to establish effective times for this control zone coincidental with the availability of weather reporting service by the Livingston, Mont., Flight Service Station.

Furthermore, it is anticipated that seasonal changes will have a minor affect on air traffic activities at Livingston, Mont., and it will be necessary to adjust the Livingston, Mont., Flight Service Station operating hours and associated weather service to accommodate these changing air traffic activities. Therefore, the revised Livingston, Mont., Control Zone designation provides for changes in the effective periods for this control zone by Notice to Airmen with continuous publication of these effective periods in the Airman's Information Manual.

It has been determined that aeronautical activities at Livingston, Mont., do not warrant full-time operation of the Livingston, Mont., Flight Service Station. Since effective periods for the Livingston, Mont., Control Zone are contingent on the availability of weather reporting service at that location, it was further determined that issuance of a notice of proposed rulemaking for this amendment would be impractical and not within the public interest.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are Clyde A. Powers, Air Traffic Division, and Daniel J. Peterson, Office of Regional Counsel, Rocky Mountain Region.

Accordingly, § 71.171 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 71.171) is amended, effective 0901 GMT September 22, 1977, as follows:

Amend § 71.171 (42 FR 355) by adding the following: Livingston, Mont. This control zone is effective during the specific dates and times established in advance by a Notice of Airmen. The effective date and time will thereafter be continuously published in the Airman's Information Manual.

(Sec. 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958 as amended (49 U.S.C. 1346); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655 (c)).)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Issued in Aurora, Colo., on August 22, 1977.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of VOR Airways

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment will realign low altitude VOR Airways (V-58-167) in part between Kingston, N.Y., and Hartford, Conn., and also extend (V-433) approximately 2 NM to the north. This airway realignment is designed to provide more efficient routings to aircraft transiting this area.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this amendment to Subpart C of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) is to realign low altitude VOR Airways (V58-167) in part between Kingston, N.Y., and Hartford, Conn., and to extend (V-433) approximately 2 NM to the north. Subpart C of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations was republished in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 3, 1977 (42 FR 307).

This airway realignment is designed to provide more efficient routings to aircraft transiting this area, thereby increasing the prospects for time and fuel conservation.

Under the circumstances presented, the FAA concludes that this action is of benefit to the flying public and a minor matter on which the public would have no particular desire to comment. Therefore, notice and public procedure thereon are unnecessary.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FEDERAL REGISTER Document 77-22379 was published on August 4, 1977 (42 FR 39379) with an effective date of October 6, 1977, and changed the names of several waypoints to be identical to reporting points where they are collected. An incorrect geographic coordinate was inadvertently published describing the waypoint CLUKK in J964R (item 9). Action is taken herein to correct this error.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, FR Doc. 77-22379, appearing at page 39379 in the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 4, 1977, in the amendment paragraph, item 9 is amended by deleting (124°05'-00'' W.) and substituting (124°50'00'' W.) therefor.

SUBCHAPTER F—AIR TRAFFIC AND GENERAL OPERATING RULES

[Docket No. 17152; Amdt. No. 1088]

PART 97—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Miscellaneous Amendments

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs) for operations at certain airports. These regulatory actions are needed because of the adoption of new or revised criteria, or because of changes occurring in the National Airspace System, such as the commissioning of new navigational facilities, addition of new obstacles, or changes in air traffic requirements. These changes are designed to provide safe and efficient use of the navigable airspace and to promote safe flight operations under instrument flight rules at the affected airports.

DATES: An effective date for each SIAP is specified in the amendatory provisions.

ADDRESSES: Availability of matters incorporated by reference in the amendment is as follows:

For examination—

1. FAA Rules Docket, FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591;

2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located; or

3. The Flight Inspection Field Office which originated the SIAP.

For purchase.—Individual SIAP copies may be obtained from:

1. FAA Public Information Center (APA–430), FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591; or

2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located.

By subscription.—Copies of all SIAPs, mailed weekly, may be ordered from Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. The current annual subscription price is $150.00; add $30.00 for each additional copy mailed to the same address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment to Part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 9) prescribes new, amended, suspended, or revoked Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs). The complete regulatory description of each SIAP is contained in official FAA form documents which are incorporated by reference in this amendment under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a), 1 CFR Part 51, and § 97.20 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (FARs). The applicable FAA forms are identified as FAA Forms 8260–3, 8260–4, and 8260–5. Materials incorporated by reference are available for examination or purchase as stated above.

The large number of SIAPs, their complex nature, and the need for a special format make their verbatim publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER expensive and impractical. Further, airmen do not use the regulatory text of the SIAPs but refer to their graphic depiction on charts printed by publishers of aeronautical materials. Thus, the advantages of incorporation by reference are realized and publication of the complete description of each SIAP contained in FAA form document is unnecessary. The provisions of this amendment state the affected CFR (and FAR) sections, with the types and effective dates of the SIAPs. This amendment also identifies the airport, its location, the procedure identification and the amendment number.

This amendment to Part 97 is effective on the date of publication and contains separate SIAPs which have compliance dates stated as effective dates based on related changes in the National Airspace System or the application of new or revised criteria. Some SIAP amendments may have been previously issued by the FAA in a National Flight Data Center (FDC) Notice to Airmen (NOTAM) as an emergency action of immediate flight safety relating directly to published aeronautical charts. The circumstances which created the need for some SIAP amendments may require making them effective in less than 30 days. For the remaining SIAPs, an effective date at least 30 days after publication is provided.

Further, the SIAPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the U.S. Standard for Terminal Instrument Approach Procedures (TERPs). In developing these SIAPs, the TERPs criteria were applied to the conditions existing or anticipated at the affected airports. Because of the close and immediate relationship between these SIAPs and safety in air commerce, I find that notice and public procedure, before adopting these SIAPs is unnecessary, impracticable, or contrary to the public interest and, where applicable, that good cause exists for making some SIAPs effective in less than 30 days.

PART 121—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATIONS: DOMESTIC, FLAG, AND SUPPLEMENTAL AIR CARRIERS AND COMMERCIAL OPERATORS OF LARGE AIRCRAFT

Flight Time Limitations: Flag Air Carriers

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the flight time limitations pertaining to pilots utilized by flag air carriers who serve with different flight crews in a calendar month. The FAA has determined that the current rule is not consistent with the rule as it existed prior to recodification. Since it was not intended that the recodification program make any substantive changes to the regulations, the current rule is being amended accordingly.

DATE: September 1, 1977.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 121.487 of the Federal Aviation Regulations specifies flight time limitations applicable to pilots serving with flag air carriers. The purpose of § 121.487 is to provide a method for determining which flight time limitations govern a pilot who serves with multiple flight crews during the course of a calendar month.

The current rules in § 121.487 state that the flight time limitations governing pilots who serve with multiple flight crews during the course of a calendar month are those contained in either §§ 121.481, 121.483, or 121.485. Section 121.481 specifies daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly flight time limitations; § 121.483 specifies daily, monthly, yearly, and quarterly flight time limitations; and § 121.485 provides for quarterly and yearly flight time limitations.

It has come to our attention that the wording of paragraphs (b)–(e) of § 121.487 imposes all of the flight time limitations of either §§ 121.481, 121.483 or 121.485 on pilots who serve with multiple flight crews during the course of a calendar month. The FAA has determined, however, that it was intended that paragraphs (b)–(e) of § 121.487 should only apply the monthly and quarterly flight time limitations contained in §§ 121.481, 121.483, and 121.485, and should not apply the daily, weekly and yearly flight time limitations of those sections.

Special Civil Air Regulation No. 386F, adopted February 26, 1963, was the predecessor to current § 121.487 (b)–(e). This special regulation contained provisions which governed pilots serving with multiple flight crews during the course of a calendar month, and it applied only the monthly and quarterly flight time limitations.

When the FAA proposed to recodify Parts 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations (including all special regulations associated with those parts) into what is now Part 121 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (29 FR 12182, August 26, 1964), the agency stated that changes in substance were not within the scope of the recodification program. In addition, the revision note contained in § 121.487 of the FAA's notice of proposed rulemaking relating to the recodification indicated that S.R. 386F and § 41.323 were combined to create § 121.487 (29 FR 12214).

Since S.R. 386F applied only the monthly and quarterly flight time limitations to pilots serving with multiple flight crews, if § 121.487 (b)–(e) imposed other limitations it would constitute a substantive change and would be contrary to the stated purpose of the recodification program. Accordingly, the FAA is amending paragraphs (b)–(e) of § 121.487 to make them conform to the meaning of S.R. 386F and to the agency's intent in adopting Part 121 as part of the recodification program.

This clarifying amendment removes an unintended restriction and is necessary to be consistent with the stated policy of the FAA governing its regulatory recodification program. Accordingly, I find that notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective on less than 30 days notice.

THE AMENDMENTS

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 121 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective September 1, 1977, by revising paragraphs (b)–(e) of § 121.487 to read as follows:

§ 121.487 Flight time limitations: Pilots not regularly assigned.

(b) The monthly flight time limitations for a pilot who is scheduled for duty aloft for more than 20 hours in two-pilot crews in any calendar month, or whose assignment in such a crew is interrupted more than once in that calendar month by assignment to a crew consisting of two or more pilots and an additional flight crewmember, are those set forth in § 121.481.

(c) Except for a pilot covered by paragraph (b) of this section, the monthly and quarterly flight time limitations for a pilot who is scheduled for duty aloft for more than 20 hours in two-pilot and additional flight crewmember crews in any calendar month, or whose assignment in such a crew is interrupted more than once in that calendar month by assignment to a crew consisting of three pilots and additional flight crewmember, are those set forth in § 121.483.

(d) The quarterly flight time limitations for a pilot to whom paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section do not apply and who is scheduled for duty aloft for a total of not more than 20 hours within any calendar month in two-pilot crews (with or without additional flight crewmembers) are those set forth in § 121.485.

(e) The monthly and quarterly flight time limitations for a pilot assigned to each of two-pilot, two-pilot and additional flight crewmember, and three-pilot and additional flight crewmember crews in a given calendar month, and who is not subject to paragraph (b), (c), or (d), of this section, are those set forth in § 121.483.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, 604, Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1424), sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)))

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

PART 1—GENERAL PROCEDURES

Subpart B—Rules and Rulemaking Under Sec. 18(a)(1)(B) of the FTC Act As Amended by Public Law 93–637

TRADE REGULATION RULEMAKING PROCEDURES

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document establishes procedures for handling communications with respect to trade regulation rulemaking proceedings to Commissioners or members of Commissioners' personal staff by persons not employed by the Commission. It further clarifies that the entire rulemaking record is publicly available. These amendments are made in light of recent court decisions and are procedural in nature.

DATES: Effective date: September 1, 1977. Comments by: October 3, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to: Office of the Secretary, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, D.C. 20580.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Having examined its rulemaking procedures in light of the recent decisions by the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in Home Box Office, Inc. v. FCC, D.C. Cir. No. 75–1280 (March 25, 1977; special concurring opinion by MacKinnon, J., May 20, 1977) and Action for Children's Television v. FCC, No. 74-2006 (D.C. Cir. July 1, 1977), the Commission has determined, as an exercise of discretion, to add a new section, § 1.18 (c), to its Rules of Practice. This new section will require that communications relating to a rulemaking proceeding be made only during the regular course of the proceeding, thus ensuring that they become part of the rulemaking record and providing an opportunity for comment on such communications. Section 1.18(c) provides that, after a rulemaking proceeding has commenced, all communications concerning the merits of that proceeding from persons not employed by the Commission to Commissioners, or members of their personal staffs, are prohibited. If a prohibited communication does occur it will be placed on the Commission's public record but will not be considered by the Commission when it reviews the record of the proceeding. Requests for information as to the status of a rulemaking proceeding are not subject to these restrictions. Section 1.18 (b) is amended to reflect the Commission's current practice of making the entire rulemaking record publicly available. The titles to § 1.18 and § 1.18(a) are also being amended.

UMI
V 42 170 SEP 1 77 UMI

While this rule is effective September 1, 1977, the Commission invites comments on it on or before October 3, 1977. Comments should be addressed to the Office of the Secretary. The Commission will review all comments received and take whatever action, if any, it deems appropriate.

In consideration of the foregoing, 16 CFR Chapter 1 is amended as follows:

By amending § 1.18(b) and adding § 1.18(c) to read as follows:

§ 1.18 Rulemaking Record.

(b) Public availability. The rulemaking record shall be publicly available except when the presiding officer, for good cause shown, determines that it is in the public interest to allow any submission to be received in camera subject to the provisions of § 4.11 of this chapter.

(c) Communications to Commissioners and their attorney advisors. Except as provided by the Commission, pursuant to § 1.14(a) of the Rules of Practice, after commencement of a trade regulation rule proceeding, no person not employed by the Commission shall communicate, orally or in writing, with any Commissioner or any member of a Commissioner's personal staff, with respect to the merits of that proceeding. If a prohibited communication does occur, the communication will be placed on the public record on receipt. In the case of an oral communication, the Commissioner or staff member shall place on the public record a memorandum setting forth the contents of such communication and the circumstances thereof. Such communications or memoranda will not be part of the rulemaking record.

By direction of the Commission, Commissioners Collier and Dole dissenting.

JAMES A. TOBIN,
Acting Secretary.

DISSENTING STATEMENT OF COMMISSIONER COLLIER TO COMMISSION DECISION TO ADOPT AMENDMENT TO § 1.18 OF THE COMMISSION'S RULES OF PRACTICE

I dissent from this modification of the Commission's rules, not because I believe that off-the-record communications with respect to the merits of rulemaking proposals should be permitted, but because the Commission has declined to provide an adequate opportunity for such communications to be made on-the-record.

In my opinion, our current rules are seriously deficient in their failure to provide for oral presentations to the Commissioners by designated representatives in rulemaking proceedings. Section 1.14 of our Rules provides: "Where it believes that it should have further information or additional views of interested persons as to the form and content of the rule, it may withhold final action pending the receipt of such additional information or views." As implemented by the Commission to date, this Rule has not provided for the regular opportunity by interested persons to make oral presentations to the full Commission.

In contrast, we provide in adjudicative proceedings that: "Oral arguments will be held in all cases on appeal to the Commission, unless the Commission otherwise orders upon its own initiative or upon request of any party made at the time of filing his brief." § 3.52(f). In practice, this Rule generally results in the Commission's granting oral argument.

The same presumption favoring oral presentations at the close of rulemaking proceedings should be created. These presentations, like post-record written comments, should be based upon information already in the record. See § 1.13(h). The opportunity should be afforded to representatives of various interests that were selected by the presiding officer. See § 1.13(d)(5)(D). See also § 1.17.

I have no quarrel with controlling communications to Commissioners during the course of rulemaking proceedings. The failure to do so can render our orderly procedures for accumulating relevant information and views a nullity if not a charade. But I object to an absolute ban on such communications (in contrast, for example, to placing them on the public record), unless and until the Commission establishes a proper forum for receipt of oral presentations.

DISSENTING STATEMENT OF COMMISSIONER DOLE

I agree that the Commission should tighten up its procedures for dealing with contacts between Commissioners and outside parties on the merits of pending rulemaking proceedings. Otherwise, the elaborate procedures established for the development and analysis in public of a rulemaking record could be compromised.

However, I disagree with the solution adopted by the majority. I believe that the purpose of this rule could have been served in a less restrictive way, modeled along the lines of the draft recommendations recently issued by the Administrative Conference of the United States, Select Committee on Ex Parte Communications. I would have preferred a rule requiring that, after commencement of a trade regulation rulemaking proceeding, all written communications from any person not employed by the Commission received by any Commissioner and addressed to the merits of the proposed rule be placed on the public record. In addition, all oral communications of substantive significance from any person not employed by the Commission addressed to the merits of the proposed rule and made privately to any Commissioner would be required to be summarized and placed on the public record. It has been my policy in the past, when meeting with any person outside the agency concerning agency business, to have an FTC staff member present, and I would have continued this policy.

The solution I would have preferred is consistent with the current emphasis on open government conducive to developing all relevant information and the accessibility of government decision-makers to any member of the public. It is also consistent with the traditionally flexible, legislative nature of informal rulemaking. At the same time, this solution would have ensured that the public and reviewing courts were provided with a record of all considerations presented to the agency.

SUBCHAPTER A—ORGANIZATION, PROCEDURES, AND RULES OF PRACTICE

PART 4—MISCELLANEOUS RULES

Restrictions on Ex Parte Communications

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The rule amends the Commission's Rules of Practice to reflect the provisions of the Government in the Sunshine Act, and to clarify the coverage of the rule with respect to communications between Commission decisionmakers and Commission staff.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jerome A. Tintle, Office of the General Counsel, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580 (202-523-3487).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission published a notice of proposed rulemaking at 42 FR 33041 (June 29, 1977) inviting comments to be filed by July 29, 1977 on a proposed amendment of § 4.7 of the Commission's Rules of Practice. The amendments reflect the provisions of section 4 of the Government in the Sunshine Act, Pub. L. 94-409. No comments were received.

Accordingly, 16 CFR 4.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 4.7 Ex Parte Communications.

(a) Definitions. For purposes of this section, "ex parte communications" means an oral or written communication not on the public record with respect to which reasonable prior notice to all parties is not given, but it shall not include requests for status reports on any matter or proceeding.

(b) Prohibited ex parte communications. While a proceeding is in adjudicative status within the Commission, except to the extent required for the disposition of ex parte matters as authorized by law, (1) no person not employed by the Commission, and no employee or agent of the Commission who performs investigative or prosecuting functions in adjudicative proceedings, shall make or knowingly cause to be made to any member of the Commission, or to the Administrative Law Judge, or to any other employee who is or who reasonably may be expected to be involved in the decisional process in the proceeding, an ex parte communication relevant to the merits of that or a factually related proceeding; and (2) no member of the Commission, the Administrative Law Judge, or any other employee who reasonably may be expected to be involved in the decisional process in the proceeding, shall make or knowingly cause to be made to any person not employed by the Commission, or to any employee or agent of the Commission who performs investigative or prosecuting functions in adjudicative proceedings, an ex parte communication relevant to the merits of that or a factually related proceeding.

(c) Procedures. A Commissioner, the Administrative Law Judge or any other employee who is or who may reasonably be expected to be involved in the decisional proces who receives or who makes or knowingly causes to be made, a communication prohibited by paragraph (b) of this section shall promptly provide to the Secretary of the Commission: (1) All such written communications; (2) memoranda stating the substance of and circumstances of all such oral communications; and (3) all written responses, and memoranda stating the substance of all oral responses, to the materials described in clauses (1) and (2) of this subsection. The Secretary shall make relevant portions of any such materials part of the public record of the Commission, pursuant to Section 4.8, and place them in the docket binder of the proceeding to which it pertains, but they will not be considered by the Commission as part of the record for purposes of decision unless introduced into evidence in the proceeding. The Secretary shall also send copies of the materials to or otherwise notify all parties to the proceeding.

(d) Sanctions. (1) Upon receipt of an ex parte communication knowingly made or knowingly caused to be made by a party and prohibited by paragraph (b) of this section, the Commission, Administrative Law Judge, or other employee presiding over the proceeding may, to the extent consistent with the interests of justice and the policy of the underlying statutes administered by the Commission, require the party to show cause why his claim or interest in the proceeding should not be dismissed, denied, disregarded, or otherwise adversely affected on account of such violation. The Commission may take such action as it considers appropriate, including but not limited to, action under Section 4.1 (e) (2) and 5 U.S.C. Section 556(d).

(2) A person, not a party to the proceeding who knowingly makes or causes to be made an ex parte communication prohibited by paragraph (b) of this section shall be subject to all sanctions provided herein if he subsequently becomes a party to the proceeding.

(e) The prohibitions of this section shall apply from the time the Commission votes to issue a complaint in an adjudicative proceeding or votes to conduct adjudicative hearings on issues arising in rulemaking proceedings under the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act.

(f) The prohibitions of paragraph (b) of this section do not apply to communications between Commissioners and employees or agents of the Commission who perform investigative or prosecutorial functions in adjudicative proceedings, when such communications are occasioned by and concern: (1) the initiation, conduct or disposition of a separate investigation or adjudicative proceeding, whether or not it involves a party already in an adjudicative proceeding; (2) proceedings outside the scope of Section 3.2, including matters in state or federal courts and before other governmental agencies; (3) nonadjudicative functions of the Commission, including but not limited to obligations under § 4.11 or communictions with Congress; or (4) the disposition of a consent settlement under § 3.25 executed by some but not all respondents. Provided however, That to the extent such communications relate to a fact in issue in a pending adjudicative proceeding, such portions will be placed in the docket binder of the proceeding to which it pertains. The prohibitions of paragraph (b) of this section also do not aply to communications between Commissioners, the Administrative Law Judge, or any other employee who is involved in the decisional process, and any employee who has been directed by the Commission or requested by an individual Commissioner or Administrative Law Judge, to assist in the decision of an adjudicative proceeding. Such employee shall not, however, have performed an investigative or prosecutorial function in that or a factually related proceeding.

By direction of the Commission.

Title 45—Public Welfare

CHAPTER II—SOCIAL AND REHABILITATION SERVICE (ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS) DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Title Change

AGENCY: Health Care Financing Administration, (HCFA), HEW.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends current regulations for the medical assistance program (Title XIX, Social Security Act) to reflect the change in title of the official responsible for the Medicaid program in the regions. The change in title results from a recent HEW reorganization. Under the Departmental Reorganization Order published March 9, 1977 (42 FR 13262), certain responsibilities for the medical assistance program formerly held by the Social and Rehabilitation program (SRS) were transferred to HCFA.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 20, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Margaret O. Schnoor, 202-245-1960.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Current regulations in Title 45, Chapter II, assign certain authorities for action on medical assistance program matters to the Regional Commissioner, SRS. Examples are approval of State plans, approval of cost-finding methods, etc. Under the March 9, 1977 reorganization, these matters are now within HCFA jurisdiction and the authorities will be exercised by the Regional Medicaid Director.

The Department finds that there is good cause to dispense with notice of proposed rulemaking since this change of designation is required by the Department's reorganization and merely reflects the abolishment of SRS and the establishment of HCFA, with corresponding changes in exercise of authority by regional officials. No substantive changes in authority result from this redesignation. Accordingly, notice of proposed rulemaking and public comment would serve no useful purpose and would result in unnecessary delays in conducting the Department's business.

Parts 200-299, Chapter II, Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as follows:

PART 201—GRANTS TO STATES FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

PART 205—GENERAL ADMINISTRATION—PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

1. In Parts 201 and 205, all references to "Regional Commissioner" and "SRS Regional Commissioner" are changed to "Regional Commissioner, or with respect to the medical assistance program under title XIX, Regional Medicaid Director".

PART 249—SERVICES AND PAYMENT IN MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

2. In Part 249 all references to the "Regional Commissioner", "SRS Regional Commissioner", "Regional Commissioner, Social and Rehabilitation Service" and "Social and Rehabilitation Service Regional Commissioner" are changed to "Regional Medicaid Director".

PART 250—ADMINISTRATION OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

3. In Part 250 all references to the "Regional Commissioner", "SRS Regional Commissioner", "Regional Commissioner, Social and Rehabilitation Service" and "Social and Rehabilitation Service Regional Commissioner" are changed to "Regional Medicaid Director".

§ 250.70 [Amended]

4. In Part 250, § 250.70(a)(2), "The Regional Office of the Special (Sic) and Rehabilitation Service" is changed to "the Regional Office of the Health Care Financing Administration."

PART 252—MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS: RELATED RESPONSIBILITIES

5. In Part 252, all references to the "Regional Commissioner", "SRS Regional Commissioner", "Regional Commissioner, Social and Rehabilitation Service" and "Social and Rehabilitation Service Regional Commissioner" are changed to "Regional Medicaid Director".

The revisions will also allow RHW loan funds to be used to pay for inspection and technical services provided by the utility and thereby extend the availability of the program. This action is brought about by the need to extend this credit to more members of the public.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 3, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Submit written comments to the Office of the Chief, Directives Management Branch, Farmers Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 6316, Washington, D.C. 20250. All written comments made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the address given above.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Edward R. Tuner, (202-447-4296).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: It is proposed to amend Subpart B of Part 1822, Chapter XVIII, Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations. This amendment will provide simplified procedures for making and servicing FmHA Section 502 Rural Housing loans to finance home improvements that will reduce energy consumption for rural homeowners and will include rural public utility consumers. At the present time only Rural Electric Cooperative Consumers may use the simplified procedures. Under the provisions of the Cooperative Agreement which is attached as Exhibit A to this subpart, participating utilities will receive applications and process, close, and service section 502 Rural Housing Weatherization loans for eligible utility consumers. The Farmers Home Administration will determine the eligibility of applicants, and approve the loans based upon certifications provided by the applicants and the utility. The amendment also allows loan funds to be used for inspection and technical services provided by the utility. Editorial changes have also been made.

As proposed, Subpart B reads as follows:

SUBPART B—SECTION 502 RURAL HOUSING WEATHERIZATION LOANS

Sec.

1822.21 General.
1822.22 Objective.
1822.23 Cooperative Agreement.
1822.24 Loan approval authority.
1822.25 County office responsibilities.
1822.26 State Director's responsibilities.

AUTHORITY: 42 U.S.C. 1480, delegation of authority by the Secretary of Agriculture, 7 CFR 2.23 delegation of Authority by the Assistant Secretary for Rural Development, 7 CFR 2.70.

Subpart B—Section 502 Rural Housing Weatherization Loans

§ 1822.21 General.

This Regulation provides policies and procedures and delegates the authority for processing and approving Section 502 Rural Housing Weatherization (RHW) loans made under Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended. Public Utilities (utilities) are amortized herein to process and service Section 502 rural housing loans to utility consumers for weatherization purposes. Loans will be made in accordance with this regulation and 7 CFR Part 1822, Subpart A §§ 1822.3 (c), and (d), and § 1822.5 (FmHA Instruction 444.1, paragraphs III C and D and paragraph V). Subpart A of § 1822.3 (e), (n), (o), and § 1822.4 (FmHA Instruction 444.1, paragraph (E), (N), (O), and paragraph IV) also are applicable to this regulation, except as modified herein or in Exhibit A.

§ 1822.22 Objective.

The objective of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) in making Section 502 RHW loans is to assist rural homeowners in making improvements to their homes that will reduce energy consumption and provide a more comfortable living environment for their families, or in the case of farmowners, for tenants, sharecroppers, farm managers, or farm laborers living in houses located on their farms.

§ 1822.23 Cooperative agreement.

Exhibit A of this regulation is a Cooperative Agreement which sets forth the procedures and regulations for making and servicing Section 502 RHW loans to consumers served by participating utilities. The FmHA State Director is authorized to enter into a Cooperative Agreement with any public utility with headquarters located in his State. He will be responsible for providing sufficient training to ensure that all of the provisions of the agreement are understood and that the utility has the ability to make and service loans in the manner prescribed.

§ 1822.24 Loan approval authority.

The Director, Finance Office or his delegated representative will be the authorized approval official for Section 502 RHW Loans. Loans will be approved based solely upon information and certifications on the completed Form FmHA 444-20, "Application and Promissory Note for Rural Housing Weatherization." The certifications will be as follows:

(a) Applicant certifies:

(1) That the applicant has an ownership interest in the housing to be weatherized and it is occupied by the applicant or is located on the applicant's farm and is occupied by a tenant, sharecropper, farm manager or farm laborer.

(2) The adjusted annual income of all adults residing with the applicant.

(3) That with the addition of the weatherization improvements, the housing being improved will provide decent, safe, and sanitary living conditions.

(4) The applicant will, at the request of the FmHA, proceed with diligence to refinance the indebtedness through cooperative or other responsible private credit sources whenever the FmHA determines that the applicant's circumstances and earning capacity are such that the applicant is able to do so upon reasonable terms and conditions, and that the occupancy of the housing will continue as provided in paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(5) That the applicant has received Form FmHA 410-9, "Statement Required by the Privacy Act."

(6) That the applicant is unable to provide the weatherization improvement needed with the applicant's own resources and that the applicant is unable to secure the credit necessary for this purpose from other sources upon terms and conditions which the applicant can reasonably be expected to fulfill. The applicant certifies that the statements made in the application are true, complete and correct to the best of the applicant's knowledge and belief, and they are made in good faith to obtain a loan.

(b) The utility certifies:

(1) The applicant's property is located in a rural area as set forth in the Cooperative Agreement.

(2) The applicant has paid bills owed to the utility in a satisfactory manner.

(3) The information furnished by the applicant is correct to the best of the utility's knowledge.

(4) The weatherization work has been completed to the satisfaction of the applicant who has authorized payment.

(5) The required Truth in Lending Form and Privacy Act Form have been delivered to the applicant.

§ 1822.25 County Office responsibilities.

(a) Loan making. County Offices will not process or approve Section 502 RHW loans authorized by this regulation. However, applicants for weatherization loans who are not participating utility consumers or who do not appear to be eligible for an RHW loan will be referred to the FmHA. The applications will be handled in accordance with Part 1822 Subpart A or Part 1904 Subpart G as appropriate.

(b) Loan servicing. When a utility notifies the FmHA Finance Office that an RHW loan is 90 days delinquent and forwards the loan account records to the Finance Office, the loan will be assigned a county office code, a case number, and loan number. Form FmHA 444-20 will be forwarded to the Finance Office through the State Office to the appropriate county office for further servicing in accordance with the appropriate FmHA Regulation.

§ 1822.26 State Director's responsibility.

In addition to the administrative policy matters covered in item (J) of the Cooperative Agreement, the State Director should request an additional allocation of loan funds if they are needed in his State(s). The State Director is responsible for seeing that his State's funding allocations are not exceeded, and that the utility is notified in the future of any interest rate, income limit, or other program changes. Also, the utilities are to be provided the list of historic places and historic districts so that the utility is able to notify the State Director so that he can comply with the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended; and Executive Order 11593, including the procedures prescribed by the advisory council on Historic Preservation in 36 CFR Part 800.

FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION

Purpose

This Cooperative Agreement and attachments established authorities and procedures whereby the _____ (Name of organization)

_____ (Address) _____ (Phone No.)

a _____ utility, (Enter type of utility such as Rural Electric Co-op, Gas, Water, or Investor Owned Electric Company)

hereinafter referred to as the "utility," will process and service section 502 rural housing (RHW) loans, authorized under the Housing Act of 1949, to weatherize the dwellings of its consumers. It is agreed that the utility will receive loan applications and process, close, and service loans as provided in this agreement. The Farmers Home Administration, hereinafter referred to as the "FmHA," will determine the eligibility of applicants for loans for authorized purposes, based upon certifications provided by the applicant and the utility and will approve the loans.

Effective date of this memorandum

This agreement shall be effective on the date of the last signature hereto.

Duration of agreement

This agreement shall continue to be in effect until all loans made are collected by the utility or returned to the FmHA for servicing because of delinquency or other justified reasons.

Policies

The utility will inform its consumers that FmHA loans will be made available to eligible applicants through the utility. Loans will be made under the existing laws and regulations governing the FmHA and utility. Regulations and guidance for loan making and loan servicing are provided in this part of the agreement.

A. Loan Eligibility. Loans may be made to applicants who:

1. Have an ownership interest in the housing to be weatherized. The housing must either be occupied by the applicant or be located on the applicant's farm and occupied by his/her tenant, sharecropper, farm manager, or farm laborer. The housing must be served by the utility and located in a rural area. A rural area is defined in 7 CFR 1822.3 (c) and identified by the State Director pursuant to paragraph N, 1 of this agreement. The dwelling, after improvements are completed, must be adequate for the family needs and be decent, safe, and sanitary.

2. Have an income of not more than the moderate-income limit for the State, as set forth in Exhibit D of FmHA Instruction 444.1 available in any FmHA office. For the purpose of this agreement, "income" is defined as the net business income plus gross income from all other sources planned to be received during the next 12 months by all adults who will occupy the applicant's home.

3. Are unable to pay for the needed improvements without a loan and are unable to obtain a loan from another source on terms they could reasonably expect to meet.

B. Terms.—1. The interest rate used will be the rate in effect for FmHA Section 502 RH loans on the date the application is submitted to the utility. The FmHA State Director will notify the utility of the interest rate to be charged.

2. The loan will not exceed $1,500 (except in Alaska not to exceed $3,000) and will be evidenced by a promissory note on Form FmHA 444-20, "Application and Promissory Note for Rural Housing Weatherization Loan."

3. The term of the loan will not exceed 5 years. Shorter repayment periods are recommended for smaller loans.

C. Loan Purposes. Loan funds may be used to buy and install weatherproofing items such as insulation, siding, caulking material, and storm windows and doors. Loan funds of not more than $25 (except in Alaska, not to exceed $50) plus 1 percent of the cost of weatherization work may be used to pay for technical services such as determining the type and amount of weatherization improvements needed and obtaining cost estimates, or inspections made or arranged for by the utility to insure that weatherization improvements are properly completed.

D. Minimum Standards. Weatherization improvements must meet FmHA's minimum standards for existing housing (at this time, HUD MPS 4900.1 § 100-8), or standards established by the utility, whichever are greater. All improvements to the property will conform to applicable laws, ordinances, codes, and regulations which relate to the safety and the sanitation of the dwelling.

E. Loan Processing.—1. The utility will assist its consumers in completing an application and promissory note on Form FmHA 444-20.

2. The utility will provide or arrange for technical assistance as needed to determine improvements to be made and their costs.

3. The utility will certify that the applicant has paid bills owned to the utility in a satisfactory manner, and process loans for eligible applicants. Applicable Loan Disclosure and Truth in Lending requirements must be met by the utility.

4. The utility may contract with the applicant to do the weatherization work or arrange for the improvements to be installed by a contractor satisfactory to the utility and the applicant. In either case, the applicant will sign a contract agreement covering the planned improvements. Also, the applicant may act as his/her own contractor provided the utility is reasonably sure the applicant has the necessary skills and labor available to perform the work.

5. Each month, the utility will mail a completed Form FmHA 444-22, "Billing Statement," with attached Form FmHA 444-20 to the FmHA Finance Office, 1520 Market Street, St. Louis, MO 63103, for those applicants who are to receive an FmHA loan where payment is authorized by the applicant for work satisfactorily completed. The FmHA will approve the loan and notify the borrower. The Finance Office will then obligate the loans and send a single check to the utility for the total loans approved and obligated each month. If an individual loan cannot be approved, the Finance Office will notify the utility of the reason(s) for disapproval.

F. Payment for the Work. The utility will pay the contractor after making such inspection of the work as it deems necessary. The agreement between the contractor and the homeowner should require the contractor to warrant and guarantee for a period of 90 days from the date of completion that the work is free from all defects due to faulty materials or workmanship and that the contractor shall promptly make such corrections as may be necessary by reason of such defects.

G. Account Servicing. 1. The utility will follow acceptable accounting practices in maintaining and servicing the borrower's account during the life of the loan. Scheduled note payments will be collected with the borrower's utility service billing. The FmHA will provide the monthly payment amortization table to be used by the utility. For billing cycles other than monthly, the amortization factors to be used will first be approved by the FmHA Finance Office.

2. The utility will remit to the Finance Office, all collections received from borrowers weekly or when receipts reach $2,500, whichever occurs first. Form FmHA 444-23, "Payment Transmittal to the Farmers Home Administration," will be used for this purpose, summarizing payments by FmHA loan number assigned to the utility.

3. When the borrower's account is paid in full, the utility will forward Form FmHA 444-24, "Notification of Final Payment or Transfer of Loan to Farmers Home Administration," to the Finance Office. The Promissory Note will be marked "PAID" and returned to the utility for distribution to the borrower.

4. If the utility is unable to collect the FmHA payment from the borrower and the borrower's account becomes more than 90 days delinquent, the utility will submit Form FmHA 444-24, "Notification of Final Payment or Transfer of Account to Farmers Home Administration," to the Finance Office and notify the borrower of the action taken. The Finance Office will send the borrower's Promissory Note through the State Office to the appropriate county office for further servicing of the account as provided in FmHA regulations. Once an account has been transferred to FmHA, the utility must no longer accept payments from the borrower.

5. Under no circumstances can a borrower's indebtedness be transferred to another borrower.

6. For income tax purposes, the utility will be responsible for informing the borrower of the interest paid on the loan for each calendar year by January 31 of the next calendar year.

7. On a semi-annual basis, the FmHA Finance Office will send to each utility a detailed list of advances and payments for reconciliation purposes.

8. Interest on unpaid interest shall not be charged.

H. Bonding. Fidelity bonding coverage must be provided for the utility officials entrusted with the receipt, custody, and disbursement of funds. The amount of the bond must be at least equal to the maximum amount of money that the utility officials will have access to at any one time.

I. Inspection of Records. The utility will provide FmHA (or other appropriate Federal Agencies) at all reasonable times, access to all books and records relating to FmHA loans made to its consumers under the provisions of this Agreement.

J. Referrals to FmHA. Applicants who are unable to qualify for a loan as provided herein because the cost of repairs will exceed $1,500, because of lack of repayment ability, or because the applicant is not a utility consumer should be referred to the FmHA County Office serving the area for further consideration of eligibility under other FmHA programs.

K. Equal Opportunity Clause. This equal opportunity clause applies to the utility executing the Cooperative Agreement rather than to the contractor performing weatherization work.

1. In the Equal Opportunity clause the term "contractor" means the "utility" and "contract" means "Cooperative Agreement."

2. During the performance of this contract, the contractor agrees as follows:

(a) The contractor will not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. The contractor will take affirmative action to ensure that applicants are employed, and that employees are treated during employment, without regard to their race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Such action shall include, but not be limited, to the following: employment, upgrading, demotion or transfer; recruitment or recruitment advertising; layoff or termination; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; and selection for training, including apprenticeship. The contractor agrees to post in conspicuous places, available to employees and applicants for employment, notices to be provided by the Farmers Home Administration setting forth the provisions of his nondiscrimination clause.

(b) The contractor will, in all solicitations or advertisements for employees placed by or on behalf of the contractor, state that all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex or national origin.

(c) The contractor will send to each labor union or representative or workers with which he has a collective bargaining agreement or other contract or understanding, a notice, to be provided by the Farmers Home Administration, advising the said Labor union or workers' representative of the contractor's commitments under this agreement as required pursuant to section 301 of Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, and shall post copies of the notice in conspicuous places available to employees and applicants for employment.

(d) The contractor will comply with all provisions of such Executive Order and of all relevant rules, regulations, and orders of the Secretary of Labor and of any prior authority which remain in effect.

(e) The contractor will furnish all information and reports required by such Executive Order, rules, regulations, and orders, or pursuant thereto, and will permit access to his books, records, and accounts by the Farmers Home Administration and the Secretary of Labor for purposes of investigation to ascertain compliance with such rules, regulations, and orders.

(f) In the event of the contractor's noncompliance with the nondiscrimination clauses of this contract or with any of the said rules, regulations, or orders, this contract may be cancelled, terminated, or suspended in whole or in part and the contractor may be declared ineligible for further contracts in accordance with procedures authorized in such Executive Order and such other sanctions may be imposed and remedies invoked as provided in the such Executive Order or by any such rule, regulation, or order, or as otherwise provided by law.

(g) The contractor will include the provisions of the FmHA Equal Opportunity Agreement (Form FmHA 400–1 available in all FmHA offices) in every subcontract or purchase order, unless exempted by such rules, regulations, or orders, so that such provisions will be binding upon each such subcontractor or vendor. The contractor will take such action as the Farmers Home Administration may direct as a means of enforcing such provisions, including sanctions for noncompliance: Provided, however, that in the event the contractor becomes involved in, or is threatened with, litigation with a subcontractor or vendor as a result of such direction by the Farmers Home Administration, the contractor may request the United States to enter into such litigation to protect the interest of the United States.

L. Personal Benefit Clause. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this agreement or to any benefit to arise therefrom, unless it be made with a corporation for its general benefit.

M. Payment for Services. Consumers may be charged customary fees for technical services provided in determining the type and amount of weatherization improvements, obtaining cost estimates, and for inspections made to insure that the improvements have been properly completed. Loan funds may only be used for these purposes to the extent set forth in paragraph C. However, neither the FmHA nor the applicant/borrower will pay a loan origination or packaging fee, nor will a fee be paid for servicing the account during the life of the loan.

N. Administrative Policy. The FmHA State Director, in conjunction with the signing of this agreement, will advise the utility of the following:

1. Eligible rural areas.
2. The interest rate to be charged.
3. The current income limits.
4. Any funding limitations likely to be encountered in the forseeable future.
5. The processing requirements for this type of loan.
6. Consideration is to be given the potential effect of any weatherization loan made on a historic property. Each State Historic Preservation Officer maintains survey data on historic properties in the State. The State Director should communicate regularly with the SHPO to keep informed about properties included in the State survey data and should make such information available to the utility. The State Director must provide the utility a list of historic properties (including districts) listed or determined eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places. (Listings and updates are published regularly in the "Federal Register".) Before weatherization improvements are made to historic buildings, the utility must contact the State Director. The State Director, in accordance with FmHA Procedure 1901–F, will assure that the proposed improvement will not damage the historic integrity or fabric of the building.
7. The FmHA State Director will be responsible for seeing that the utility is notified in the future of any interest rate, income limit, or other program changes. The State Director will provide the needed forms for loan processing to the utility. The utility will advise the State Director when additional forms are required or assistance is needed. AUXILIARY PROVISIONS ON NATIONAL POULTRY IMPROVEMENT PLAN

General Conference Committee and Plan Conference—Withdrawal of Proposal to Terminate AGENCY: Agricultural Research Service, USDA.

ACTION: Withdrawal of proposal to terminate the General Conference Committee and Plan Conference of the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

SUMMARY: This notice announces the withdrawal of Proposed Rule FR Docket 77–18592 (42 FR 33041) which would terminate the General Conference Committee and the biennial Plan Conference of the National Poultry Improvement Plan. The Department ruled in favor of the nearly unanimous opposition expressed by poultry trade associations, hatcherymen, breeders, poultrymen, State officials, avian pathologists, and University personnel to the proposed rulemaking.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1, 1977.

ADDRESS: Raymond D. Schar, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, BARC East, Beltsville, Md. 20705.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Raymond D. Schar, 301–344–2227.

The purpose of this notice is to announce that the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service is closing Docket No. 77–18592 without further action and does not now intend to institute additional proceedings on the subject of terminating the General Conference Committee and biennial Plan Conference of the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

In Federal Register Docket No. 77–18592, published on June 29, 1977, the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service issued an advance notice of proposed rulemaking, inviting interested persons to comment on the Proposal to Terminate the General Conference Committee and biennial Plan Conference of the National Poultry Improvement Plan (42 FR 33041). Upon review of the comments received in response to that invitation, the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service, in consultation with the Secretary of Agriculture, has determined that it would not be in the public interest to terminate the General Conference Committee and the Plan Conference Committee of the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

Done at Washington, D.C. this 26th day of August 1977.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

LICENSING OF SOURCE MATERIAL

General License for Government Agencies' Operational Use of Small Quantities of Source Material

AGENCY: U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering an amendment to its regulations to include Federal, State, and local governmental agencies' research, development, education, or operational use of small quantities of source material in the general license which authorizes certain persons to use small quantities of source material. This rule change was requested by the United States Air Force Radioisotope Committee. Its implementation would lessen the existing administrative burden of specific licensing requirements for thorium coated lenses.

DATES: Comment period expires October 31, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Written comments or suggestions for consideration in connection with the proposed amendments should be submitted to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch. Copies of comments received may be examined at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: By letter dated October 30, 1974, the United States Air Force Radioisotope Committee, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, filed with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission a petition for rule making (PRM–40–20) requesting that the Commission amend the general license in 10 CFR 40.22, "Small Quantities of Source Material," to (a) authorize use and transfer of source material under that general license by Federal agencies for operational purposes, and (b) authorize USAF possession and operational use of thorium, as a fluoride salt, in anti-reflective lens coatings on thermal imaging lenses of the Forward Looking Infra-Red (FLIR) imaging system.

The general license in 10 CFR 40.22 of the NRC regulations now authorizes certain persons (physicians, pharmacists, commercial and industrial firms, and research educational, and medical institutions) to use and transfer not more than fifteen pounds of source material at any one time for research, educational, or commercial purposes, provided that no person shall receive more than 150 pounds of source material in any one calendar year. These generally licensed persons are exempt from the provisions of Parts 19, 20, and 21 of the Commission's regulations. At the present time, thorium coated lenses are manufactured and used commercially under this general license

Since the general license in 10 CFR 40.22 is not available to government agencies, the U.S. Air Force was required to obtain a specific license authorizing it to possess and use thorium, as a fluoride salt, in anti-reflective lens coatings on thermal imaging lenses of the Forward Looking InfraRed (FLIR) imaging system. Since the coating on the lens is greater than 75% by weight thorium it is not exempt from licensing pursuant to 10 CFR 40.13(a) which exempts any material containing less than 0.05% source material. Since the thorium coats the lens and is not evenly distributed in the finished lens, it is not exempt from licensing pursuant to 10 CFR 40.13(c) (7) which exempts finished optical lenses containing less than 30% thorium.

The major hazard associated with source material arises from the inhalation or ingestion of such material and not from external radiation. The operational uses which may be made of less than fifteen pounds of source material make the inhalation or ingestion of any significant quantities of material unlikely.

The thorium coated lenses described in the U.S. Air Force's petition for rule making are an example of the type of product which would be generally licensed for operational use if the proposed amendment to 10 CFR 40.22(a)(4) were adopted. The maximum source material would be 33.9 milligrams per lens, and the Air Force would require 16.4 grams to 38.2 grams of source material if full deployment of the current generation thermal imaging system is made. The source material in these lenses presents negligible, if any, radiation hazard. Based on the maximum of fifteen pounds of source material at any one time, not more than a few millirem per year dose would be received; therefore the use of thorium coated lenses presents no substantial radiation hazard.

The proposed amendment to 10 CFR 40.22(a)(4) would make it unnecessary for Federal, State, and local governmental agencies to obtain specific licenses to use small quantities of source material for research, development, educational, or operational purposes. Extension of the general license in 10 CFR 40.22 to these agencies would not significantly change existing NRC policy regarding use and transfer of not more than fifteen pounds of source material at any one time. The number of increments of fifteen pounds that would be added by the governmental agencies' use of small quantities of source material would not increase significantly since the number of Federal, State, and local governmental agencies is still very small compared to the number of commercial and industrial firms authorized to use small quantities of source material under 10 CFR 40.22.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, as amended, and Section 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code, notice is hereby given that the adoption of the following amendment to Title 10, Chapter I, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 40 is contemplated.

1. Section 40.22 of 10 CFR Part 40 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(4) to read as follows:

§ 40.22 Small quantities of source material.

(a) A general license is hereby issued authorizing use and transfer of not more than fifteen (15) pounds of source material at any one time by persons in the following categories:

RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURES

Procedures and Standards Applicable to Suspensions and Prohibitions Where Felony Charged AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

ACTION: Proposed rules.

SUMMARY: The procedures and standards set forth in these proposed rules would be applicable to proceedings by the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to suspend and/or prohibit from participation any officer or director or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an insured State nonmember bank, where such person is charged with a felony involving dishonesty or breach of trust. These proposed rules are intended to make available to such persons specific procedures for hearings in such cases and are believed by the Board to be necessary because of the decision in Feinberg v. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 420 F. Supp. 109 (D.D.C. 1976), holding that an order suspending an indicted individual where no such hearing is held is unconstitutional.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before September 26, 1977.

ADDRESS: Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views or arguments regarding the proposed rules to the Office of the Executive Secretary, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20429. All written comments submitted will be made available for public inspection at the above address.

Accordingly, the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation hereby proposes to amend 12 CFR Part 308 as set forth below.

§ 308.35 [Amended]

1. Amend § 308.35 by inserting the phrase "Except as otherwise specifically provided in Subpart F of this part," immediately before the first sentence thereof, and by revising the second sentence thereof to read: "The procedures for issuing such orders prescribed in section 8 of said Act will be followed and hearings required thereunder will be conducted in accordance with the rules and procedures set forth in this subpart, Subpart A of this part, and, where applicable, Subpart F of this part."

§ 308.41 [Deleted]

2. Delete § 308.41.

3. Add a new Subpart F by adding the following new sections 308.50-.58;

Subpart F—Procedures and Standards Applicable to Suspensions and Prohibitions Where Felony Charged

§ 308.50 Scope.

The rules and procedures set forth in this subpart are applicable to proceedings by the Board of Directors to suspend or remove any director or officer of an insured State nonmember bank (other than a District bank) or any other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of such a bank, or to prohibit such director, officer or other person from further participation in the conduct of the affairs of such a bank, or both, where such individual is charged in any State, Federal or territorial information or indictment, or in any complaint authorized by a United States attorney, with the commission of or participation in a felony (or a misdemeanor under State or territorial law which, because of the length of the maximum sentence that may be imposed, is equivalent to a felony under Federal law) involving dishonesty or breach of trust.

§ 308.51 Notice of suspension or prohibition.

Whenever a director or officer of an insured State nonmember bank (other than a District bank) or any other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of such bank, is charged in any State, Federal or territorial information or indictment, or in any complaint authorized by a United States attorney, with the commission of or participation in a felony (or a misdemeanor under State or territorial law which, because of the length of the maximum sentence that may be imposed, is equivalent to a felony under Federal law) involving dishonesty or breach of trust, the Board of Directors, upon a preliminary determination that the offense alleged in the information, indictment or complaint is, or may be, one involving dishonesty or breach of trust, shall, by written notice served upon such director, officer, or other person, suspend him from office or prohibit him from further participation in any manner in the affairs of the bank, or both. A copy of the notice of suspension also shall be served upon the bank.

§ 308.52 Notice of hearing.

(a) Any notice of suspension and/or prohibition issued pursuant to § 308.51 shall be accompanied by a further notice to the individual that he may request in writing a hearing at which he may present evidence and argument as to why the suspension and/or prohibition should not contique in effect. Any notice of the opportunity for a hearing shall be accompanied by a description of the hearing procedure and the criteria to be considered.

(b) A request for a hearing filed pursuant to paragraph (a) above, shall state with particularity the relief desired, the grounds therefor, and shall include, when available, supporting evidence. Such petition and supporting evidence shall be filed in writing with the Executive Secretary, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20429.

(c) If an individual fails to request a hearing, or fails to appear at a hearing, either in person or by attorney, or fails to submit a written argument where a hearing has been waived pursuant to § 308.54, the suspension and/or prohibition shall remain in effect until such information, indictment or complaint is finally disposed of or until terminated by the Board of Directors.

§ 308.53 Hearing.

(a) After the receipt of request for a hearing, complying with § 308.52, the Executive Secretary of the FDIC will order a hearing to commence within the next succeeding 30 days in Washington, D.C. or such other place as is designated by the Executive Secretary, before a person designated by the Board of Directors of the FDIC to conduct such hearings.

(b) The notice of the hearing shall be served by the Executive Secretary upon the party or parties afforded the hearing and shall set forth the time and place of the hearing and the name and address of the presiding officer.

(c) The subject individual may appear at the hearing through counsel, or personally with counsel. The individual shall have the right to introduce relevant and material evidence and to present an oral argument before the presiding officer. A member of the staff of the Office of the General Counsel of the FDIC may attend the hearing and may participate as a party. Neither the formal rules of evidence nor the adjudicative procedures of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554-557) shall apply to the hearing. The proceedings shall be recorded and a transcript will be furnished to the individual, upon request and after the payment of the cost thereof. Witnesses may be presented, within specified time limits, so long as a list of such witnesses is furnished to the presiding officer prior to the hearing. Witnesses shall not be sworn, unless specifically requested by either party or the presiding officer. The presiding officer may ask questions of any witness and each party shall have the opportunity to cross-examine any witness presented by an opposing party. Upon the request of either the subject individual or the representatives of the Office of the General Counsel, the record shall remain open for a period of five (5) business days following the hearing, during which time the parties may make any additional submissions to the record. Thereafter, the record shall be closed.

(d) The presiding officer will make his recommendations to the Board of Directors, where possible, within ten (10) business days following the close of the record.

§ 308.54 Waiver of hearing.

The subject individual may, in writing, waive an oral hearing and instead elect to have the matter determined by the Board of Directors on the basis of written submissions alone.

§ 308.55 Decision of Board of Directors.

(a) Within thirty (30) days following receipt of the presiding officer's recommendations, or receipt of the subject individual's written submissions where hearing has been waived pursuant to § 308.54, the Board of Directors shall render its decision. The decision shall include a statement of the basis for the decision and such statement shall be provided to the subject individual and the bank.

(b) The Board of Directors may extend said thirty (30) day time period for good cause, but in no instance to exceed sixty (60) days from the date of the hearing or receipt of the subject individual's written submissions where hearing has been waived pursuant to § 308.54. Where such an extension is required, the individual will be notified of the reason for the extension and the expected date upon which a final decision will be rendered.

§ 308.56 Reconsideration by the Board of Directors.

(a) The subject individual shall have ten (10) business days following receipt of the decision of the Board of Directors in which to petition the Board for an initial reconsideration.

(b) The subject individual also shall be entitled to petition the Board of Directors for reconsideration of its decision anytime after the expiration of a twelve-month period from the date of the Board of Directors' decision. Provided, however, that no petition for reconsideration may be made within 12 months of a previous petition.

(c) Any petition shall state with particularity the basis for reconsideration, the relief sought, or any exceptions the individual has to the Board's finding. An individual's petition may be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities in support of his petition and any supporting documentation the individual may wish to have considered.

(d) No hearing need be granted on such petition for reconsideration. The Board of Directors shall promptly render its decision following receipt of the petition.

§ 308.57 Relevant considerations.

In deciding the question of suspension under this subpart the Board of Directors will consider the following:

(a) Whether the alleged offense: (1) is a felony (or a misdemeanor under State or territorial law which, because of the length of the maximum sentence that may be imposed, is equivalent to a felony under Federal law), and (2) involved dishonesty or a breach of trust;

(b) Whether the continued presence of the subject individual in his position constitutes a possible danger to the safety of deposits or the soundness of an insured bank because of: (1) the nature and extent of the individual's participation in the affairs of the insured bank, or (2) the nature of the offense with which the individual has been charged, or (3) both;

(c) Whether there is cause to believe that there may be an erosion of public confidence in the integrity, safety, or soundness of a particular bank or the banking system (either generally or in the particular locality in which the bank is situated) if the subject individual is permitted to remain in his position in an insured bank; and

(d) Whether the individual is covered by the bank's fidelity bond and, if so, whether the bonding company is likely to revoke the bond or whether coverage under the bond will be affected adversely as a result of the indictment.

(e) The Board of Directors may consider any other factors which, in the specific case, appear relevant to continuing a suspension order in effect, except that it shall not consider the ultimate question of the guilt or innocence of the subject individual with regard to the offense with which he has been charged.

§ 308.58 Removal and/or Permanent Prohibition.

In the event that a judgment of conviction with respect to such offense is entered against such director, officer, or other person, and at such time as such judgment is not subject to further appellate review, the Board of Directors may issue and serve upon such director, officer, or other person an order removing him from office and/or prohibiting him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the bank except with the consent of the Board of Directors. A copy of such order will also be served upon such bank, whereupon such director or officer shall cease to be a director or officer of such bank. A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge will not preclude the Board of Directors from thereafter instituting proceedings to remove such director, officer, or other person from office and/or to prohibit further participation in bank affairs, pursuant to the provisions of Section 8(e) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: This NPRM proposes—(1) to revise the application and reporting requirements applicable to Parts Manufacturer Approvals (PMA), (2) to provide for the issuance of export certificate of airworthiness for unassembled normal category rotorcraft, and (3) to provide for the issuance of export airworthiness approvals for aeronautical products that do not meet certain requirements if the importing country agrees to accept the products in such condition. The FAA believes that these proposals, if adopted, will relieve PMA holders and applicants for export airworthiness approvals from unnecessary burdens with no adverse effect on safety. The NPRM also proposes to update certain form number references and to clafiy the means by which an applicant for a PMA can show that the design of the applicant's part is identical to the design of a part that is covered under a type certificate.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 1, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposals to: Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attn: Rules Docket (AGC-24) Docket No. 17147, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C., 20591.

Any person may obtain a copy of this NPRM by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA-430, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling (202) 426-8058. Communications must identify the notice number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11-2 which describes the application procedure.

DISCUSSION OF PROPOSALS

Due to the diverse subject matter dealt with in this notice the discussion of the rule changes proposed is divided into several parts under descriptive headings.

PMA APPLICATION AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The lead-in sentence of § 21.303(c) and § 21.303(c)(2) require, in pertinent part, that an application for a PMA be made to the FAA Regional Office of the region in which the manufcturing facility is located and must include the name and address of the manufacturing facilities at which the parts to be covered by the PMA are to be manufactured. In addition, § 21.303(j) provides that PMA holders shall notify the FAA, in writing, within 10 days from the date the manufacturing facility at which the part is manufactured is relocated or expanded to include additional facilities at other locations.

Based on a recent review of these regulations, the FAA has found that varying interpretations have led to different applications of these requirements. While the FAA must have access to the manufacturing facilities utilized in the production of PMA parts in order to provide necessary surveillance, there appears to be no reason in the interest of safety why a PMA holder should submit and the FAA maintain a list of those facilities. The PMA holder must maintain this information in order to assure that all manufacturing is controlled by his fabrication inspection system. So long as this information is made available to the FAA on request, further notification and the maintenance of a list of manufacturing facilities by the FAA creates unnecessary paperwork and duplication of records, and places an undue administrative and financial burden on the PMA holder and the FAA. However, it should be noted that with respect to manufacturing facilities located outside the United States, the information is necessary inasmuch as a PMA is not issued in such cases unless the Administrator finds under § 21.303(g) that the location of the facilities outside the United States places no burden on the FAA in administering the applicable airworthiness requirements. Therefore, it is proposed to amend the lead-in of § 21.303(c) and § 21.303(c)(2) to require an application for a PMA to be made to the regional office in which the applicant is located rather than in the region in which the manufacturing facilities are located, and that the application include the address of the applicant. In addition, § 21.303(j) would be revised to require that each PMA holder maintain a record of the address of each of the manufacturing facilities at which its PMA parts have been manufactured in the preceding two years, and to make the records available upon request for inspection by the Administrator. However, as proposed herein, if a manufacturing facility is to be located outside of the United States, the PMA application would continue to be required to include the name and address of the facility. In addition, if a manufacturing facility is to be relocated or expanded to include facilities outside of the United States, the PMA holder would be required to notify the FAA prior to the date of that relocation or expansion. A notification would also be required within 10 days when the PMA holder's address, if specified in its application for a PMA, is changed.

SHOWING OF IDENTICALNESS TO OBTAIN PMA

Section 21.303(c)(4) requires that each application for a PMA include test reports and computations necessary to show that the design of a part meets the requirements applicable to the product on which the part is to be installed unless the applicant shows that the design of the part is identical to the design of a part that is covered under a type certificate.

The FAA has permitted applicants for PMAs to show identicalness by a number of methods one of which is the submittal, along with the design of his part, of a certifying statement indicating that the design of his part is identical to a design previously approved under a type certificate. Under this method, applicants have been required to adequately identify the previously approved design to the FAA. Based on several inquiries, the FAA believes that a certain amount of confusion may exist with respect to this as well as the other methods of showing identicalness that are permitted under § 21.303(c)(4). Therefore, an amendment to § 21.303(c)(4) is being proposed to clarify that provision by specifying the available methods of showing identicalness under that paragrtph. However, it should be noted that if, based on the comments received, the FAA determines that one or more of the methods specified should not be allowed, the proposal will be revised accordingly.

FORM NUMBER REVISIONS

Sections 21.327(f)(1) and 21.335(e)(2) contain references to form numbers which are obsolete. Accordingly, it is proposed that those sections be revised to reference the current form numbers.

EXPORT APPROVAL OF UNASSEMBLED ROTORCRAFT

Section 21.325(b), in part, requires that new aircraft be assembled and flight-tested in order to qualify for an export airworthiness approval. Exceptions are provided in the rule for small airplanes and gliders manufactured under production certificates but not for rotorcraft. Section 21.327(f)(2), in part, requires that each application for an export airworthiness approval for a rotorcraft include a weight and balance report based on an actual weighing of the aircraft.

It has come to the attention of the FAA that manufacturers of normal category rotorcraft may desire to export their aircraft unassembled. Based on the request of one such manufacturer, the FAA has granted an exemption to provide for the issuance of export airworthiness approvals for its unassembled normal category rotorcraft. The export of these unassembled aircraft facilitate air freight shipment, and the FAA believes, based on experience with § 21.325(b) and the exemption, that the assembly of these aircraft following shipment can be accomplished with no adverse effect on safety. Therefore, it is proposed to amend § 21.325(b) to permit the issuance of export airworthiness approvals for unassembled normal category rotorcraft. Consistent with this, § 21.327(f)(2) would also be revised to provide for the export of these rotorcraft without actual weighing.

It should be noted that, as with small airplanes and gliders, the importing state would be fully advised in advance as to the status of the rotorcraft since, under § 21.327(e), it would be required that the application for an export airworthiness approval be accompained by a written statement from the importing country indicating that it will validate the export airworthiness approval of each unassembled aircraft which has not been flight-tested.

EXPORT AIRWORTHINESS APPROVALS EXCEPTIONS APPROVED BY IMPORTING STATES

Sections 21.329, 21.331, and 21.333 specify the standards and maintenance requirements which must be met to obtain an export airworthiness approval. In no case are these requirements less comprehensive than those applicable to products to be used in the U.S. To the contrary certain requirements applicable to export products do not apply to products intended for domestic use. On a number of occasions, the FAA has been informed by foreign airworthiness authorities that compliance with specific FAA export requirements was neither necessary nor desired in a particular situation.

The primary purpose of an export airworthiness approval is to notify the purchasers and the importing state of the airworthiness status of a product. The FAA believes that this purpose can be accomplished without requiring compliance with all FAA requirements provided that the importing state agrees. Therefore, amendments to §§ 21.321, 21.329, 21.331, and 21.333 are proposed herein to provide for the issuance of an export airworthiness approval for a product which does not meet one or more specific FAA requirements for the issuace of that approval if the importing state indicates to the FAA that compliance with the specific FAA requirement is not necessary. Section 21.325 would also be revised to provide for the listing on the export airworthiness approval of those FAA requirements that the product does not meet. In addition, § 21.327(e) would be revised to require a written statement from the importing state indicating that it will validate the export airworthiness approval for a product that does not meet specific FAA requirements.

It should be noted that this proposed rule change would provide for the issuance of export airworthiness approvals for used engines, propellers, and Class II aeronautical products that have not been newly overhauled as is required under §§ 21.329 and 21.331. In this connection the FAA has issued exemptions that provided for the issuance of export airworthiness approvals for used engines and Class II products where an importing state indicated that it would accept those products that were satisfactorily maintained under a continuous airworthiness maintenance program but were not newly overhauled.

The principal authors of this document are Mr. C. Risner, Flight Standards Service, Mr. S. Podberesky, Office of the Chief Counsel.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend Part 21 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 21) as follows:

1. By revising the lead-in of § 21.303 (c) and by revising §§ 21.303 (c)(2), (c)(4), and (j) to read as follows:

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Hiller Model UH–12, C, D, E(4 place), L, E–L and L4's Converted From E4's

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to adopt a new Airworthiness Directive on all Hiller UH–12 series helicopters which will require installation of a guard on the fuel shutoff valve control handle to preclude inadvertent movement to the "off" position.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 7, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal to: Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, Attention: Regional Counsel, Airworthiness Rule Docket, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, Calif. 90009.

The applicable Service Bulletin No. 72–1 dated June 17, 1977 or later FAA approved revision, may be obtained from: Hiller Aviation, 2075 West Scranton Avenue, Porterville, Calif. 93257.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the address specified above. All communications received on or before the date specified above will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons. A report summarizing each FAA-public contact, concerned with the substance of the proposed AD, will be filed in the Rules Docket.

There has been at least one reported case of inadvertent actuation of the fuel valve control lever to the "off" position in flight that resulted in unexpected fuel starvation to the engine and caused forced autorotation on a Hiller Model UH–12 helicopter.

Since this condition is likely to develop in other helicopters of the same type design, the proposed Airworthiness Directive would require the installation of a guard on the control handle of the fuel shutoff valve.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are Henry R. Kulewicz, Aircraft Engineering Division, and Richard G. Wittry, Office of the Regional Counsel.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive:

HILLER HELICOPTERS: Applies to Hiller Model UH–12C, D, E(4 place), L, E–L, and L4's, certificated in all categories incorporating control levers P/N 72229 or 72210. All aircraft serial numbers up to No. 5024 are included. S/N No. 5024 and subsequent will have the guard installed at the time of manufacture.

(a) To prevent hazardous engine power loss from inadvertent shutoff of the fuel control valve, within the next 100 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished, install a guard on the fuel shutoff valve handle in accordance with the instructions described in Paragraph 2B in Hiller Service Bulletin No. 72–1 dated June 17, 1977, or later FAA approved revision.

(b) Equivalent methods of fabrication and installation of a guard on the fuel shutoff valve handle may be used when approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region.

(c) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR's 21.197 and 21.199 to operate helicopters to a base for accomplishment of the modification required by paragraph (a) of this AD.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.85.)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A–107.

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

McDonnell Douglas Model DC–9 and Military C–9 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rule making.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to adopt an Airworthiness Directive (AD) that would require repetitive inspections or replacement of the engine pylon rear spar upper straps (caps) on the McDonnell Douglas Model DC–9 and Military C–9 Series airplanes for fatigue cracks to preclude failure that could result in separation of the engine from the aircraft.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 6, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal to: Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, Attention: Regional Counsel, Airworthiness Rule Docket, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009.

Copies of Douglas DC–9 Service Bulletins A54–31, Revision 1 and 54–31 may be obtained by writing to: McDonnell Douglas Corporation 3855 Lakewood Boulevard, Long Beach, California 90846. Attention: L. A. Eisenberg, C1–750, (54–60.)

Copies of the Service Bulletin are contained in the Rules Docket in Room 916, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Wallace M. Frei, Executive Secretary, Airworthiness Directives Review Board, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009, telephone 213–536–6351.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There have been two reported failures of the engine pylon rear spar upper strap (cap) on McDonnell Douglas DC–9 airplanes. These failures have initiated at the inside diameter of the bearing hole of the strap and are caused by fatigue. McDonnell Douglas issued Service Bulletin A54–31, dated March 15, 1976, which detailed the procedure for conducting ultrasonic and magnetic particle inspections in the lug area of the engine pylon rear upper spar strap (cap), to detect cracks. The service bulletin specifies that the strap be initially ultrasonically inspected and if no cracks are detected the part should be reinspected within 2400 landings. If cracks are suspected the part must be replaced or magnetic particle inspected. Magnetic particle inspection requires the removal of the bearing. The bearing can only be replaced twice before it is necessary to replace the strap, because of the difficulty of satisfactorily restaking the bearing. If cracks are detected by the magnetic particle inspection the strap must be replaced prior to further flight with a new original part. The new original part must be reinspected after 20,000 landings. If no cracks are detected the strap must be reinspected within 2400 landing. The operator may delete the ultrasonic inspection if he performs the magnetic particle inspection.

McDonnell Douglas has subsequently issued Service Bulletin 54–31, dated August 24, 1976, which replaces each original engine pylon rear spar upper strap (cap) with a redesigned part with increased lug area. This increased lug area provides greater strength, which reduces the likelihood of fatigue cracking. The incorporation of Service Bulletin 54–31 eliminates the inspections required in Service Bulletin A54–31.

Failure of the engine pylon upper rear strap results in drooping of the engine and possible separation of the engine from the aircraft.

Since evidence indicates that this condition is likely to exist in aircraft of the same type design, the proposed AD would require repetitive inspections or replacement of the engine pylon rear upper spar straps (caps) with the original type design straps or redesigned straps per DC–9 Service Bulletin 54–31.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they desire. Information on the economic, environmental, and energy impact that might result because of the adoption of the proposed rule is also requested. Communications should identify the airworthiness docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, Attention: Regional Counsel, Airworthiness Rule Docket, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009. All communications received before the closing date will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposal contained in the notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Airworthiness Rule Docket for examination by interested persons.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document, are Stanton R. Wood. Aircraft Engineering Division, and DeWitte T. Lawson, Jr. Office of the Regional Counsel.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive:

McDONNELL DOUGLAS: Applies to Model DC–9 and Military C–9 Series Airplanes certificated in all categories, Fuselage Numbers 1 through 851, inclusive, which correspond to the factory serial numbers listed in Douglas DC–9 Service Bulletin No A54–31, Revision 1, dated December 22, 1976, or later FAA approved revisions.

To detect cracks and prevent possible failure of the engine pylon aft upper spar straps (caps) comply with the following:

(a) For airplanes with 35,000 or more landings on the effective date of this AD, within the next 600 landings unless already accomplished within the last 1800 landings and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 2400 landings, accomplish Paragraph (f).

(b) For airplanes with 30,000 to 34,999 landings on the effective date of this AD, within the next 900 landings, unless already accomplished within the last 1500 landings, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 2400 landings, accomplish Paragraph (f).

(c) For airplanes with 25,000 to 29,999 landings on the effective date of this AD, within the next 1200 landings, unless already accomplished within the last 1200 landings, and thereafter at internals not to exceed 2400 landings, accomplish Paragraph (f).

(d) For airplanes with 20,000 to 24,999 landings on the effective date of this AD, within the next 2,000 landings, unless already accomplished within the last 400 landings, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 2400 landings, accomplish Paragraph (f).

(e) For airplanes with less than 20,000 landings on the effective date of this AD, within the first 2,000 landings, after accumulating 20,000 landings, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 2400 landings, accomplish Paragraph (f).

(f) (1) Ultrasonically inspect the engine pylon aft upper spar straps (caps), part number 9958154-5/-6 or 9958154-37/-38 per Paragraph 2.B of Douglas DC-9 Service Bulletin A54-31 dated December 22, 1976 or later FAA approved revision, or an alternate method approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, Western Region. If no cracks are detected repeat the inspection in 2400 landings. If there is evidence of cracking, magnetic particle inspection per Paragraph 2.C may be used to confirm the evidence of cracking. If cracks are detected, before further flight, replace the strap with new part numbers 9958154-5/-6 or 9958154-37/-38 and resume the inspections after the part has accumulated 20,000 landings or modify in accordance with Douglas Service Bulletin 54-31 dated August 24, 1976 or later FAA approved revision.

(2) At the option of the operator, the ultrasonic inspection may be deleted if the magnetic particle inspection is accomplished. If the magnetic particle inspection procedure is used, after two bearing replacements it is necessary to replace the strap with a new part, number 9958154-5/-6 or 9958154-37/-38 or modified per Douglas Service Bulletin 54-31 dated August 24, 1976 or later FAA approved revision.

(g) Upon completion of modification of the engine pylon rear spar straps (caps) per Douglas Service Bulletin 54-31 dated August 24, 1976 or later FAA approved revision the inspection requirements of this AD are terminated.

(h) For the purpose of complying with this AD, the number of landings may be determined by dividing each airplane's hours in service by the operator's appropriate fleet average time from takeoff to landing. This procedure is subject to acceptance by the assigned FAA maintenance inspector.

(i) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR's 21.197 and 21.199 to authorize operation of an airplane to a base for the accomplishment of the inspections required by this AD.

(j) Upon request of the operator, an FAA maintenance inspector, subject to prior approval of the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region, may adjust the repetitive inspection intervals specified in this AD to permit compliance at an established inspection period of the operator if the request contains substantiating data to justify the increase for that operator.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.85.)

NOTES.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

ICAO CONSIDERATIONS

As parts of these proposals relate to the navigable airspace outside the United States, this notice is submitted in consonance with the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) International Standards and Recommended Practices.

Applicability of International Standards and Recommended Practices by the [1] Maps filed as part of the original document.

Air Traffic Service, FAA, in areas outside domestic airspace of the United States is governed by Article 12 of and Annex 11 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation, which pertain to the establishment of air navigation facilities and services necessary to promoting the safe, orderly, and expeditious flow of civil air traffic. Their purpose is to insure that civil flying on international air routes is carried out under uniform conditions designed to improve the safety and efficiency of air operations.

The International Standards and Recommended Practices in Annex 11 apply in those parts of the airspace under the jurisdiction of a contracting state, derived from ICAO, wherein air traffic services are provided and also whenever a contracting state accepts the responsibility of providing air traffic services over high seas or in airspace of undetermined sovereignty. A contracting state accepting such responsibility may apply the International Standards and Recommended Practices to civil aircraft in a manner consistent with that adopted for airspace under its domestic jurisdiction.

In accordance with Article 3 of the Convention on International Civil Aviation, Chicago, 1944, state aircraft are exempt from the provisions of Annex 11 and its Standards and Recommended Practices. As a contracting state, the United States agreed by Article 3(d) that its state aircraft will be operated in international airspace with due regard for the safety of civil aircraft.

Since these actions involve, in part, the designation of navigable airspace outside the United States, the Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10854.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are Everett L. McKisson, Air Traffic Service, and Jack P. Zimmerman, Office of the Chief Counsel.

PROPOSED ALTERATION OF VOR AIRWAYS

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rule making.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to realign VOR low altitude airways (V-36, V-157, and V-273) in part by utilizing the Teterboro, N.J., and Canarsie, N.Y., TVOR/DMEs.[1] These actions will allow the FAA to establish profile descent procedures into Kennedy International Airport. Profile descent is a procedure whereby the arriving aircraft are normally allowed to descend for landing in a fuel/time savings manner. Accordingly, adoption of this proposal should result in fuel and time savings to the users, reduced controller workload and further standardization of the profile descent procedures.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 3, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in triplicate to: Director, FAA Eastern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Docket No. 77-EA-47, FAA, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. The official docket may be examined at the following location: FAA Office of the Chief Counsel, Rules Docket, (AGC-24), Room 916, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591.

An informal docket may be examined at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division.

COMMENTS INVITED

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Eastern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. All communications received on or before October 3, 1977, will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

AVAILABILITY OF NPRM

Any person may obtain a copy of this notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA-430, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling 202-426-8058. Communications must identify the docket number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11-2 which describes the application procedures.

THE PROPOSAL

The FAA is considering an amendment to Subpart C of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) to realign VOR low altitude airways (V-36, V-157, and V-273) in part by utilizing the Teterboro, N.J., and Canarsie, N.Y., TVOR/DMEs. These actions will allow the FAA to establish profile descent procedures into Kennedy International Airport. The FAA believes that these actions will result in fuel and time savings to the users.

States, this notice is submitted in consonance with the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) International Standards and Recommended Practices.

Applicability of International Standards and Recommended Practices by the Air Traffic Service, FAA, in areas outside domestic airspace of the United States is governed by Article 12 of and Annex 11 to the Convention on International Civil Aviation, which pertains to the establishment of air navigation facilities and services necessary to promoting the safe, orderly, and expeditious flow of civil air traffic. Their purpose is to insure that civil flying on international air routes is carried out under uniform conditions designed to improve the safety and efficiency of air operations.

The International Standards and Recommended Practices in Annex 11 apply in those parts of the airspace under the jurisdiction of a contracting state, derived from ICAO, wherein air traffic services are provided and also whenever a contracting state accepts the responsibility of providing air traffic services over high seas or in airspace of undetermined sovereignty. A contracting state accepting such responsibility may apply the International Standards and Recommended Practices to civil aircraft in a manner consistent with that adopted for airspace under its domestic jurisdiction.

In accordance with Article 3 of the Convention on International Civil Aviation, Chicago, 1944, state aircraft are exempt from the provisions of Annex 11 and its Standards and Recommended Practices. As a contracting state, the United States agreed by Article 3(d) that its state aircraft will be operated in international airspace with due regard for the safety of civil aircraft.

Since this action involves, in part, the designation of navigable airspace outside the United States, the Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10854.

[Docket No. 21369; RM–2903]

FM BROADCAST STATION IN WHITEHALL, WISCONSIN

Proposed Changes in Table of Assignments

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rule making.

SUMMARY: Action taken herein proposes the assignment of a first FM assignment to Whitehall, Wisconsin, at the request of Whitehall Broadcasting Co. Petitioner states the proposed assignment would provide county residents with new and information concerning their County Government.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 7, 1977, and reply comments must be received on or before October 27, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mildred B. Nesterak, Broadcast Bureau, 202–632–7792.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Adopted: August 22, 1977.

Released: August 31, 1977.

In the Matter of Amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Whitehall, Wisconsin).

By the Chief, Broadcast Bureau:

1. Petitioner, Proposal and Comments: (a) Petition for rulemaking,[1] filed June 1, 1977, by Whitehall Broadcasting Co. ("petitioner") proposing the assignment of Channel 272A to Whitehall, Wisconsin, as a first FM assignment to that community.

(b) The channel could be assigned in full conformity with our minimum distance separation requirements. There were no oppositions to the proposal.

(c) Petitioner states that it will apply promptly for a construction permit if the channel is assigned.

2. Community Data:

(a) Location: Whitehall, seat of Trempealeau County, is located approximately 56 kilometers (35 miles) southeast of Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

(b) Population: Whitehall—1,486; Trempealeau County—23,334.[2]

(c) There is no local broadcast service in Whitehall or Trempealeau County.

3. Economic Data: Petitioner states that Whitehall is the largest community in Trempealeau County. It notes that agriculture is the principal occupation, particularly dairying and raising of beef cattle. Petitioner submitted information from the U.S. County and City Data Book, U.S. Bureau of Census, which indicates a level of manufacturing, retail sales, and other business activity in the county which would appear to provide an adequate economic base for the proposed station.

4. Petitioner states that the proposed assignment would provide county residents with news and information concerning their county government.

5. In light of the above information and the fact that the proposed FM station would provide the community with a first full-time local broadcast service, the Commission proposes to amend the FM Table of Assignments, Section 73.202(b) of the Rules, with regard to Whitehall, Wisconsin, as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Whitehall, Wis.		272A

6. Authority to institute rule making proceedings; showings required; cut-off procedures; and filing requirements are contained in the attached Appendix and are incorporated herein.

NOTE: A showing of continuing interest is required by paragraph 2 below before a channel will be assigned.

7. Interested parties may file comments on or before October 7, 1977, and reply comments on or before October 27, 1977.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
WALLACE E. JOHNSON,
Chief, Broadcast Bureau.

1. Pursuant to authority found in Sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), 303(g) and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 0.281(b)(6) of the Commission's Rules, it is proposed to amend the FM Table of Assignments, Section 73.202 (b) of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, as set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached.

[1] Public Notice of the filing of the petition was given on June 15, 1977 (Report No. 1053).

[2] Population figures are taken from the 1970 U.S. Census.

2. Showings required. Comments are invited on the proposal(s) discussed in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached. Proponent(s) will be expected to answer whatever questions are presented in initial comments. The proponent of a proposed assignment is also expected to file comments even if it only resubmits or incorporates by reference its former pleadings. It should also restate its present intention to apply for the channel if it is assigned, and, if authorized, to build the station promptly. Failure to file may lead to denial of the request.

3. Cut-off procedures. The following procedures will govern the consideration of filings in this proceeding.

(a) Counterproposals advanced in this proceeding itself will be considered, if advanced in initial comments, so that parties may comment on them in reply comments. They will not be considered if advanced in reply comments. (See § 1.420(d) of Commission Rules.)

(b) With respect to petitions for rule making which conflict with the proposal(s) in this Notice, they will be considered as comments in the proceeding, and Public Notice to this effect will be given as long as they are filed before the date for filing initial comments herein. If filed later than that, they will not be considered in connection with the decision in this docket.

4. Comments and reply comments; service. Pursuant to applicable procedures set out in Sections 1.415 and 1.420 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, interested parties may file comments and reply comments on or before the dates set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached. All submissions by parties to this proceeding or persons acting on behalf of such parties must be made in written comments, reply comments, or other appropriate pleadings. Comments shall be served on the petitioner by the person filing the comments. Reply comments shall be served on the person(s) who filed comments to which the reply is directed. Such comments and reply comments shall be accompanied by a certificate of service. (See § 1.420 (a), (b) and (c) of the Commission Rules.)

5. Number of copies. In accordance with the provisions of Section 1.420 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, an original and four copies of all comments, reply comments, pleadings, briefs, or other documents shall be furnished the Commission.

6. Public inspection of filings. All filings made in this proceeding will be available for examination by interested parties during regular business hours in the Commission's Public Reference Room at its headquarters, 1919 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

[Docket No. HM–139 Notice No. 77–8]

INDIVIDUAL EXEMPTIONS, CONVERSION TO REGULATIONS OF GENERAL APPLICABILITY

Transportation of Hazardous Materials

AGENCY: Materials Transportation Bureau, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rule Making.

SUMMARY: The Materials Transportation Bureau is considering amending the regulations governing the transportation of hazardous materials to incorporate therein a number of changes based on existing exemptions which have been granted to individual applicants allowing them to perform particular functions in a manner that varies from that specified by the regulations. Adoption of these exemptions as rules of general applicability would provide wider access to the benefits of transportation innovations recognized as effective and safe.

DATES: Comments by September 30, 1977.

ADDRESS COMMENTS TO: Section of Dockets, Office of Hazardous Materials Operations, Materials Transportation Bureau, Department of Transportation Washington, D.C. 20590. It is requested that five copies be submitted.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Alan I. Roberts, Director, Office of Hazardous Materials Operations, 2100 Second Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20590 (202–426–2075).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Each of the proposed amendments described in the table below is founded upon either: (1) Actual shipping experience gained under an exemption, or (2) the data and analysis supplied in the application. In each case the resulting level of safety being afforded the public is considered at least equal to the level of safety provided by the current regulations. Primary drafters of this proposal are Darrell L. Raines, and John C. Allen, Office of Hazardous Materials Operations, and George W. Tenley, Jr., Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Materials Transportation Law.

These proposals would not significantly affect the costs of regulatory enforcement, nor would additional costs be imposed on the private sector, consumers, or Federal, State or local governments, since these proposals would merely authorize the general use of shipping alternatives previously available to only a few users under exemptions. The safety record of shipments under the identified exemptions demonstrates that significant environmental impacts would not result from any of the proposals. Adoption of an amendment derived from an existing exemption would obviate the need for that exemption and effectively terminate it. Upon such termination, the holder of the exemption and parties thereto would be individually notified. Adoption of an amendment derived from an application for exemption should provide the relief sought, in which event the exemption request would be denied and the applicant so notified. In the event the Bureau decides not to adopt any of these proposals each pertinent application would be evaluated and acted upon in accordance with the applicable provisions of the exemption procedures in 49 CFR Part 107, Subpart B. Consequently, persons commenting on proposed amendments may wish to address both the proposed amendment and the exemption application. Consideration of comments of the merits of including within an amendment modes of transportation other than those for which the exemption application requested is anticipated. Each mode of transportation for which a particular exemption is authorized or requested is indicated in the "Nature of Exemption or Application" portion of the table below as follows: 1—Motor vehicle, 2—Rail freight, 3—Cargo vessel, 4—Cargo-only aircraft, 5—Passenger-carrying aircraft. The status of the exemption action is indicated in the column titled Identification Number where prefix "E" means an exemption has been issued and prefix "SP" means a special permit exists under previous authorities. The suffix "No" means no applications for exemptions are pending, but the Bureau is taking action by this proposal; the suffix "X" means a renewal application is pending; the suffix "P" means one or more party status applications are pending; and the suffix "N" means a new application for exemption is pending.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
Fish and Wildlife Service
[50 CFR Part 17]
ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS
Proposed Threatened Status nd Critical Habitat for Little Kern Golden Trout AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Service proposes to determine the Little Kern golden trout (Salmo aguabonita whitei) to be a Threatened species and idenaify Critical Habitat for this species. This action is being taken because of the threatened modification of its habitat and the existing threats of hybridization with the introduced rainbow trout. This proposal would protect the populations of pure Little Kern golden trout and its habitat. This species occurs in Tulare County, California.

DATES: All relevant comments and materials with regard to this proposed rulemaking received no later than December 1, 1977, will be considered.

ADDRESSES: Comments and materials concerning this proposed rulemaking, preferably in triplicate, should be sent to the Director (FWS/OES), U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240. Comments and materials received will be available for public inspection during normal business hours at the Service's Office of Endangered Species, Suite 1100, 1612 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20240.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Keith M. Schreiner, Associate Director—Federal Assistance, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240 (202/343-4646).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Background.

Section 4(a) of the Act states:

General.—(1) The Secretary shall by regulation determine whether any species is an endangered species or a threatened species because of any of the following factors:

(1) the present or threatened destruction, modification, or curtailment of its habitat or range;

(2) overutilization for commercial, sporting, scientific, or educational purposes;

(3) disease or predation;

(4) the inadequacy of existing regulatory mechanisms; or

(5) other natural or manmade factors affecting its continued existence.

This authority has been delegated to the Director.

SUMMARY OF FACTORS AFFECTING THE SPECIES

These findings are summarized herein under each of the five criteria of Section 4(a) of the Act. These factors, and their application to the Little Kern golden trout, are as follows:

1. The present or threatened destruction, modification, or curtailment of its habitat or range.

The Little Kern golden trout is only known from the Little Kern River in Tulare County, California. In the Little Kern River watershed, the water quality of the streams inhabited by this fish is generally good. However, forestry management plans under consideration call for logging activities in a large portion of the drainage basin in which the trout occurs. This would result in an alteration of existing water quality by increasing temperature and siltation which would seriously threaten the survival of the Little Kern golden trout.

UMI

2. Overutilization for commercial sporting, scientific, or educational purposes. Not applicable.

3. Disease or predation. Not applicable.

4. The inadequacy of existing regulatory mechanisms. Not applicable.

5. Other natural or manmade factors affecting its continued existence. Rainbow trout were introduced into the Little Kern River System in the 1930's. Subsequent hybridization between the Little Kern golden trout and the introduced rainbow trout resulted in a reduction in the number of pure populations of Little Kern golden trout. At present, pure populations of Little Kern golden trout exist only in headwater streams which were not stocked with rainbow trout or have barrier falls which have prevented upstream migration of rainbow trout.

CRITICAL HABITAT

Section 7 of the Act, entitled "Interagency Cooperation", states:

The Secretary shall review other programs administered by him and utilize such programs in futherance of the purposes of this Act. All other Federal departments and agencies shall, in consultation with and with the assistance of the Secretary, utilize their authorities in furtherance of the purposes of this Act by carrying out programs for the conservation of endangered species and threatened species listed pursuant to section 4 of this Act and by taking such action necessary to insure that actions authorized, funded, or carried out by them do not jeopardize the continued existence of such endangered species and threatened species or result in the destruction or modification of habitat of such species which is determined by the Secretary, after consultation as appropriate with the affected States, to be critical.

An interpretation of the term Critical Habitat was published by the Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Marine Fisheries Service in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 22, 1975 (40 FR 17764–17765).

The areas delineated below do not necessarily include the entire Critical Habitat of the Little Kern golden trout and modifications to Critical Habitat descriptions may be proposed in the future. In accordance with Section 7 of the Act, all Federal departments and agencies would be required to insure that actions authorized, funded, or carried out by them do not result in the destruction or modification of the Critical Habitat of the Little Kern golden trout found within the areas delineated below.

Until publication of final Section 7 regulations, all Federal departments and agencies should, in accordance with Section 7 of the Act, consult with the Secretary of the Interior with respect to any action which is considered likely to affect Critical Habitat within the delineated areas. Consultation pursuant to Section 7 should be carried out using the procedures contained in the "Guidelines to Assist the Federal Agencies in Complying with Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973" which have been made available to the Federal agencies by the Service.

CRITICAL HABITAT DETERMINATION

Based upon literature reviews, Critical Habitat for the Little Kern golden trout includes the following areas (exclusive of those existing manmade structures or settlements which are not necessary to the survival or recovery of the species):

Little Kern River: California, Tulare County. Main channel of Little Kern River and all streams tributary to the Little Kern River above the junction of the Little Kern River and the Kern River.

EFFECTS OF THE RULEMAKING

The effects of these determinations and this rulemaking include, but are not necessarily limited to, those discussed below.

Endangered Species regulations already published in Title 50 of the Code of Federal Regulations set forth a series of general prohibitions and exceptions which apply to all Endangered species. All of those prohibitions and exceptions also apply to any Threatened species unless a special rule pertaining to that Threatened species has been published and indicates otherwise. The regulations referred to above, which pertain to Endangered species, are found at Section 17.21 of Title 50 and, for the convenience of the reader, are reprinted below.

§ 17.21 Prohibitions.

(a) Except as provided in Subpart A of this part, or under permits issued pursuant to § 17.22 or § 17.23, it is unlawful for any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States to commit, to attempt to commit, to solicit another to commit or to cause to be committed, any of the acts described in paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section in regard to any endangered wildlife.

(b) Import or export. It is unlawful to import or to export any endangered wildlife. Any shipment in transit through the United States is an importation and an exportation, whether or not it has entered the country for customs purposes.

(c) Take. (1) It is unlawful to take endangered wildlife within the United States, within the territorial sea of the United States, or upon the high seas. The high seas shall be all waters seaward of the territorial sea of the United States, except waters officially recognized by the United States as the territorial sea of another country, under international law.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (c)(1) of this section, any person may take endangered wildlife in defense of his own life or the lives of others.

(3) Notwhithstanding paragraph (c)(1) of this section, any employee or agent of the Service, any other Federal land management agency, the National Marine Fisheries Service, or a State conservation agency, who is designated by his agency for such purposes, may, when acting in the course of his official duties, take endangered wildlife without a permit if such action is necessary to:

(i) Aid a sick, injured or orphaned specimen; or

(ii) Dispose of a dead specimen; or

(iii) Salvage a dead specimen which may be useful for scientific study; or

(iv) Remove specimens which constitute a demonstrable but nonimmediate threat to human safety, provided that the taking is done in a humane manner; the taking may involve killing or injuring only if it has not been reasonably possible to eliminate such threat by live-capturing and releasing the specimen unharmed, in a remote area.

(4) Any taking pursuant to paragraphs (c)(2) and (3) of this section must be reported in writing to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Division of Law Enforcement, P.O. Box 19183, Washington, D.C. 20036, within 5 days. The specimen may only be retained, disposed of, or salvaged in accordance with directions from the Service.

"(5) Notwithstanding paragraph (c)(1) of this section, any qualified employee or agent of a State Conservation Agency which is a party to a Cooperative Agreement with the Service in accordance with section 6(c) of the Act, who is designated by his agency for such purposes, may, when acting in the course of his official duties, take Endangered Species, for conservation programs in accordance with the Cooperative Agreement, provided that such taking is not reasonably anticipated to result in: (i) the death or permanent disabling of the specimen; (ii) the removal of the specimen from the State where the taking occurred; (iii) the introduction of the specimen so taken, or of any progeny derived from such a specimen, into an area beyond the historical range of the species; or (iv) the holding of the specimen in capivity for a period of more than 45 consecutive days."

(d) Possession and other acts with unlawfully taken wildlife. (1) It is unlawful to possess, sell, deliver, carry, transport, or ship, by any means whatsoever, any endangered wildlife which was taken in violation of paragraph (c) of this section.

Example. A person captures a whooping crane in Texas and gives it to a second person, who puts it in a closed van and drives thirty miles, to another location in Texas. The second person then gives the whooping crane to a third person, who is apprehended with the bird in his possession. All three have violated the law—the first by illegally taking the whooping crane; the second by transporting an illegally taken whooping crane; and the third by possessing an illegally taken whopping crane.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (d)(1) of this section, Federal and State law enforcement officers may possess, deliver, carry, transport or ship any endangered wildlife taken in violation of the Act as necessary in performing their official duties.

(e) Interstate or foreign commerce. It is unlawful to deliver, receive, carry, transport, or ship in interstate or foreign commerce, by any means whatsoever, and in the course of a commercial activity, any endangered wildlife.

(f) Sale or offer for sale. (1) It is unlawful to sell or to offer for sale in interstate or foreign commerce any endangered wildlife.

(2) An advertisement for the sale of endangered wildlife which carries a warning to the effect that no sale may be consummated until a permit has been obtained from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service shall not be considered an offer for sale within the meaning of this subsection.

Regulations published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of September 26, 1975 (40 FR 44412) provided for the issuance of permits to carry out otherwise prohibited activities involving Endangered or Threatened species under certain circumstances. Such permits involving Endangered species are available for scientific purposes or to enhance the propagation or survival of the species.

In some instances, permits may be issued during a specified period of time to relieve undue economic hardship which would be suffered if such relief were not available.

Pursuant to Section 4(b) of the Act, the Director will notify the Governor of California with respect to this proposal and request his comments and recommendations before making final determinations.

PUBLIC COMMENTS SOLICITED

The Director intends that the rules finally adopted will be as accurate and effective in the conservation of any Endangered or Threatened species as possible. Therefore, any comments or suggestions from the public, other concerned governmental agencies, the scientific community, industry, private interests or any other interested party concerning any aspect of these proposed rules are hereby solicited. Comments particularly are sought concerning:

(1) Biological or other relevant data concerning any threat (or the lack thereof) to the Little Kern golden trout;

(2) The location of and reasons why any habitat of the Little Kern golden trout should or should not be determined to be Critical Habitat as provided for by Section 7 of the Act;

(3) Additional information concerning the range and distribution of the Little Kern golden trout.

Final promulgation of the regulations on the Little Kern golden trout will take into consideration the comments and any additional information received by the Director and such communications may lead him to adopt final regulations that differ from this proposal.

An environmental assessment has been prepared in conjunction with this proposal. It is on file in the Service's Office of Endangered Species, 1612 K Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20240, and may be examined during regular business hours or can be obtained by mail. A determination will be made at the time of final rulemaking as to whether this is a major Federal action which would significantly affect the quality of the human environment within the meaning of Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

This proposed rulemaking is issued under the authority contained in the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531–1543; 87 Stat. 884), and the primary author is Dr. James D. Williams, Office of Endangered Species (202/343–7814).

Accordingly, it is hereby proposed to amend Part 17, Subchapter B of Chapter 1, Title 50 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as set forth below:

It is proposed to amend § 17.11 by adding in alphabetical order the following to the list of animals:

INTERIM FISHING VESSEL CAPITAL Construction Fund Procedures

AGENCY: National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Proposed Rule.

SUMMARY: The Fishing Vessel Capital Construction Fund program provides for the deferment of Federal Income Tax on income from the operation of vessels when that income is reserved for the construction or reconstruction of fishing vessels. This proposed rule would expand the definition of "eligible" and "qualified" vessels.

"Eligible" vessels are those whose income is subject to tax deferment. "Qualified" vessels are those whose construction or reconstruction is paid for with tax deferred income from the fund. Under existing rules both "eligible" and "qualified" vessels are limited to vessels which earn significant income from catching, processing and transporting fish for commercial purposes. This proposed rule would amend the definition of "qualified" vessels by substituting as the prime test whether or not such vessels are documented by the U.S. Coast Guard for operation in the fisheries. Thus, commercial vessels carrying fishing parties for hire would be included in the definition of a "qualified" vessel if, in addition to documentation in the coastwise trade, such vessels are also documented in the fisheries. In addition, this proposed rule would amend the definition of "eligible" vessels by substituting as the prime test whether or not such vessels are operated in the foreign or domestic commerce of the United States (foreign trade, coastwise trade, fisheries trade are all acceptable).

The cause of this action is the restrictive definition of the term "fishing vessel" and present program procedures. That term, as presently defined, excludes commercial vessels with dual documentation in the coastwise and fisheries trades which carry fishing parties for hire. This action proposes to broaden the term to include this class of commercial fishing vessels.

The regulations are also amended to include vessels under five net tons, but not under two net tons, as provided for by the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

DATES: Comments must be received no later than October 3, 1977.

ADDRESS: Send comments to: Financial Assistance Division, National Marine Fisheries Service, Washington, D.C. 20235.

Michael L. Grable, Chief, Financial Assistance Division, National Marine Fisheries Service, Washington, D.C. 20235, Telephone 202—634–7496.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Existing rules governing administration of the Fishing Vessel Capital Construction Fund program appear at 50 CFR Part 259. The program is authorized by Section 607 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, (46 U.S.C. 1177).

In order to allow a better understanding of the changes, amended § 259.30 (a) and (b) are proposed here in their entirety.

The proposed amendment follows:

Substitute for § 259.30 (a) and (b) the following:

§ 259.30 Application for Interim Capital Construction Fund Agreement ("Interim CCF Agreement").

(a) General qualifications. To be eligible to enter into an Interim CCF Agreement an applicant must:

(1) Be a citizen of the United States (citizenship requirements are those for documenting vessels in the coastwise trade within the meaning of section 2 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended);

(2) Own or lease one or more eligible vessels (as defined in sec. 607(k)(1) of the Act) operating in the foreign or domestic commerce of the United States.

(3) Have an acceptable program for the acquisition, construction, or reconstruction of one or more qualified vessels (as defined in sec. 607(k)(2) of the Act.) Qualified vessels must be for commercial operation in the fisheries of the United States. If the qualified vessel is 5 net tons or over, it must be documented in the fisheries of the United States. Dual documentation in both the fisheries and the coastwise trade of the United States is permissible. Any vessel which will carry fishing parties for hire must be inspected and certified (under 46 CFR Part 176) by the U.S. Coast Guard as qualified to carry more than six passengers. The program must be a firm representation of the applicant's actual intentions. Vague or contingent objectives will not be acceptable.

(b) Content of application. Applicants seeking an Interim CCF Agreement may make application by letter providing the following information:

(1) Proof of U.S. citizenship;

(2) The first taxable year for which the Interim CCF Agreement is to apply (see § 259.33 for the latest time at which applications for an Interim CCF Agreement relating to a previous taxable year may be received);

(3) The following information regarding each "eligible vessel" which is to be incorporated in Schedule A of the Interim CCF Agreement for purposes of making deposits into a CCF pursuant to section 607 of the Act:

(i) Name of vessel,

(ii) Official number, or, in the case of vessels under 5 net tons, the State registration number were required,

(iii) Type of vessel (i.e., catching vessel, processing vessel, transporting vessel, charter vessel, barge, passenger carrying fishing vessel, etc.

(iv) General characteristic (i.e., net tonnage, fish-carrying capacity, age, length, type of fishing gear, number of passengers carried or in the case of vessels operating in the foreign or domestic commerce the various uses of the vessel, etc.

(v) Whether owned or leased and, if leased, the name of the owner, and a copy of the lease,

(vi) Date and place of construction,

(vii) If reconstructed, date of redelivery and place of reconstruction.

(viii) Trade (or trades) in which vessel is documented and date last documented.

(ix) If a fishing vessel, the fishery of operation (which in this section means each species or group of species—each species must be specifically identified by acceptable common names—of fish, shellfish, or other living marine resources which each vessel catches, processes, or transports or will catch, process, or transport for commercial purposes such as marketing or processing the catch),

(x) If a fishing vessel, the area of operation (which for fishing vessels means the general geographic areas in which each vessel will catch, process, transport, or charter for each species or group of species of fish, shellfish, or other marine resources).

(4) The specific objectives to be achieved by the accumulation of assets in a Capital Construction Fund (to be incorporated in Schedule B of the Interim CCF Agreement) including:

(i) Number of vessels,

(ii) Type of vessel (i.e., catching, processing, transporting or passenger carrying fishing vessel),

(iii) General characteristics (i.e., net tonnage, fish-carrying capacity, age, length, type of fishing gear, number of passengers carried),

(iv) Cost of projects,

(v) Amount of indebtedness to be paid for vessels to be constructed, acquired, or reconstructed (all notes, mortgages, or other evidences of the indebtedness must be submitted as soon as available, together with sufficient additional evidence to establish that the full proceeds of the indebtedness to be paid from a CCF under and Interim CCF Agreement, were used solely for the purpose of the construction, acquisition, or reconstruction of Schedule B vessels),

(vi) Date of construction, acquisition, or reconstruction,

(vii) Fishery of operation (which in this section means each species or group of species—each species must be specifically identified by acceptable common name—of fish, shellfish, or other living marine resources).

(viii) Area of operation (which in this section means the general geographic areas in which each vessel will operate for each species or group of species of fish, shellfish, or other living marine resources).

INTERNATIONAL AIR TRANSPORT ASSOCIATION

Western Hemisphere Passenger Fares; Order on Reconsideration

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 26th day of August 1977.

By Order 77-3-62, March 11, 1977, the Board disapproved that portion of an agreement among the member carriers of the International Air Transport Association (IATA), which proposed increases in normal economy and excursion fares in the United States-Caribbean area for effect April 15, 1977. The Board found that the proposed economy fare level would be above cost, and that approval of the increased excursion fares would result in earnings above the Board's 12-percent return-on-investment (ROI) guideline for the four U.S. carriers serving this market.[1] Pan American has filed a petition for reconsideration of that decision.

Pan American alleges that the Board's disapproval of the proposed fare increases was based on a mistaken application of an ROI standard, contending that implicit in the Board's findings was the conclusion that the 12-percent standard for domestic passenger fares is equally applicable to Caribbean fares. Pan American contends that this standard has no applicability to international operations because, inter alia, the risks involved in international operations are greater than those involved in domestic operations and that the historical data upon which the cost of debt and equity capital were determined for purposes of developing that standard are now outdated. Pan American further claims that the standard was misapplied in the instant case because it was used as a maximum return rather than as a standard to be achieved on an average basis over the long run. The carrier also states that American's profits are overstated and that Delta's operations are given too much weight; both of which tend to distort the composite return in the Caribbean.

Pan Ameircan goes on to contend that the Board's treatment of demand elasticity is incorrect. The carirer states that the Board permitted use of an elasticity factor in evaluating international fare agreements up to 1976 and has used, and continues to use, an elasticity factor in its evaluation of doemstic fare proposals. Pan Amerıcan alleges that it properly applied the concept in the case of the proposed Caribbean fares, despite the Board's claim to the contrary. It states that the Board's reasoning to the effect that elasticity estimates are not acceptable because they involve a great deal of speculation could equally be applied to other aspects of the carriers' forecasts which the Board routinely accepts.

Finally, Pan Ameircan alleges that the Board's disapproval of the proposed increase in normal economy fares is unreasonable since there is only a small difference between economy-class yield and average cost in its Caribbean services. The carrier claims that the Federal Aviation Act only requires a reasonable relationship between each fare category and average cost, not complete identity. Moreover, since normal economy-fare passengers involve costs in excess of the average, the Board's disapproval of the proposed economy fares is arbitrary, according to Pan Ameircan. The carirer also contends that American's costs in the Caribbean are understated, and that the Board's failure to include Eastern's cost and yield data resulted in a skewing of the industry's picture.

The Board finds that the petition raises no issues not adequately dealt with in our decision or that warrant reconsideration, and consequently the petition will be denied.

In disapproving the proposed increase in Caribbean normal economy fares, the Board acted consistently with decisions taken in other rate-making areas designed to prevent overcharging passengers who cannot avail themselves of discount fares. Based on data supplied by Pan American and American, the Board found that yield on the proposed normal economy fare was significantly in excess of average economic cost.[2] Although not so stated in the order, the data indicated that the yield would have exceeded economic cost by approximately 25 percent. Pan American's argument that the absence of Eastern's data resulted in a biased yield/cost comparison would not alter our conclusion even were it to be accepted.[3] Eastern's forecast normal economy yield of 13.28 cents, as given by Pan American, is 6.2 percent above its economic cost per RPM of 12.51 cents.[4] Thus, yield would remain well in excess of average cost on a composite basis, even if Eastern's data were included.[5]

The Board employed the 12-percent ROI standard developed in the Domestic Passenger-Fare Investigation (DPFI), Docket 21866, as a guideline in evaluating the Caribbean fare agreement, just as it has done in evaluating all international rate and fare agreements since 1972. Pan American apparently does not take issue with the concept of an ROI guideline in evaluating international rate agreements but argues, rather, that 12 percent is not the correct level; that it should be higher, primarily to account for the greater risks allegedly involved in international operations. However, no showing has been made here which would justify an alternative, for present purposes, to the 12-percent return found reasonable in Phase 8 of the DPFI. The carriers incur debt and raise equity on a system or corporate basis and the data studied by the Board in Phase 8 reflect international as well as domestic operations. Application of the 12-percent ROI as a benchmark in evaluating international operations, therefore, appears reasonable, based on currently available information. In any event, the Board has specifically requested the carrier parties to the North Atlantic Fare Investigation, Docket 27918, to address this issue (Order 77-7-4, July 1, 1977).

In reaching its disposition of the agreement, the Board estimated that the combined ROI of the four U.S. carriers in the U.S.-Caribbean market, after adjustments, would be 13.8 percent under the proposed fares. Disapproval of the proposed increase in normal economy fares had the effect of reducing this return to approximately 12.4 percent, still considered excessive by the Board, and prompted disapproval of the proposed increase in excursion fares, as well. Pan American claims that the Board's failure to permit a fare increase which would result in a 12.4-percent composite return indicates a rigid application of 12 percent as a ceiling. We do not agree. In our view, it is a question of where to draw the line around the 12-percent guideline depending on the level and structure of fares presented for approval. In any event, subsequent to the Board's disapproval of the IATA-agreed four-percent increase in excursion fares, the Board permitted the U.S. carriers to increase excursion fares by slightly more than three percent, effective May 15, 1977, pursuant to unilateral tariff filings. The carriers' justifications indicate a composite ROI of 11.9 percent under these new fares. Thus, no useful purpose would be served were the Board to grant

---

[1] The four U.S. carriers are American Airlines, Inc. (American), Delta Air Lines, Inc. (Delta), Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern), and Pan American World Airways, Inc. (Pan American).

[2] Average economic cost is total operating expense per revenue passenger-mile (RPM) plus a 12-percent return.

[3] Eastern and Delta did not supply the information requested in Order 76-11-141, November 29, 1976, regarding economy-class yields and were, therefore, not included in the analysis.

[4] Pan American gives the difference as 3.3 percent based on a cost per RPM of 12.86 cents. The Board's figure is taken from Eastern's data in Appendix A of the subject order, which Pan American does not challenge.

[5] Although Pan American claims that carriage of normal economy-fare passengers involves costs in excess of average cost, it does not provide an estimate of this difference. It is quite likely that the difference, if any, is relatively small. This issue will be reviewed in the North Atlantic Fares Investigation, Docket 27918.

Pan American's petition with respect to this issue.[6]

Pan American also points to the fact that Delta operates only one flight per week to the Caribbean area and that the composite 12.4 percent return was overly influenced by the operations of this carrier, since excluding Delta from the computation would have produced a composite return below 12 percent. It is, of course, axiomatic that any change in the weighting of individual items which make up an average will alter that average. Beyond that, however, Pan American has provided no grounds for excluding Delta's operations from the composite return. Delta's is a small operation in the Caribbean although, in addition to the one weekly frequency cited by Pan American, the carrier operates three daily round trips to Nassau, the Bahamas, and Bermuda. Delta's size is not a valid basis for excluding the carrier from the composite return of the U.S. carriers.

As the Board noted in its order, the real problem in determining the appropriate fare level for the Caribbean is the fact that there is a wide disparity in earnings among the four U.S. carriers in this market. Delta and American realize a relatively high level of earnings while both Pan American and Eastern are substandard in this respect and both continue to reduce their operations in this area. Pan American's claim that Delta's Caribbean operations are too insignificant to be included in the composite return, as well as its claim that American's Caribbean costs are understated, are really calls for basing disposition of Caribbean fare agreements on its own revenue need and that of Eastern.[7] As indicated in our earlier order, the Board is quite aware of this situation and is receptive to suggestions that might provide a more satisfactory opportunity for all carriers to earn a reasonable return. However, we cannot ignore the fact that, as among the U.S. carriers, Delta and American operate almost half the revenue passenger-miles to/from the Caribbean. The combined return of these two carriers under a continuation of present fares was forecast at approximately 20 percent, and was expected to climb to about 24 percent under the IATA-proposed fare increases. We cannot accept the proposition that these impressive results be ignored.

Pan American's interpretation of the Board's position on price elasticity of demand appears to miss the central point.[8] In the Board's view, the case for a specific elasticity coefficient in any given international market has not been made to date. Given the complex international fare structure, with its myriad cross-elasticities, the differing mix of business and discretionary travel in various markets, and the difficulty in forecasting economic and demographic variables for a large number of foreign countries, to cite some of the more obvious problems, it is not surprising that there is a lack of persuasive evidence on demand elasticity in the international arena.[9] The Board does not deny the existence of demand elasticity, but we find the entire subject of forecasting so speculative that the type of refinement involved in such an adjustment, which in itself is highly speculative, is simply not acceptable.[10]

We therefore conclude that the issues raised by Pan American are not sufficient to warrant reversal of our disapproval of fare increases in Order 77–3–62, and Pan American's petition will therefore be denied.

Accordingly, it is ordered, that:

The petition of Pan American World Airways, Inc., for reconsideration of Order 77–3–62 be denied.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.[11]

PHYLLIS T. KAYLOR,
Secretary.

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 23rd day of August, 1977.

[Order 77–8–107; Docket Nos. 29580; 30241; 31311]

ALLEGHENY AIRLINES, ET AL.

Order

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.[11]

filed July 28, 1976, Allegheny Airlines seeks removal of its one-stop restriction in Cincinnati-Cleveland market (Docket 29580).[1]

In addition, on December 21, 1976, Wright Air Lines, Inc., filed an application in Docket 30241, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing it to provide nonstop service between Cincinnati and Cleveland. On December 23, 1976, Wright filed a motion for hearing on its application.

In support of its Subpart M application, Allegheny alleges, inter alia, that (1) the Cincinnati-Cleveland market is served on a nonstop basis by only one carrier, American Airlines; [2] (2) its service pattern will result in a significant improvement over American's existing service; (3) it will achieve a $464,000 excess over its return and tax requirement; and (4) improved Cincinnati-Cleveland authority would result in better operational flexibility in the western part of its system.

In support of its Subpart A application, Wright alleges, inter alia, that (1) its proposed service, consisting of two daily-round trip flights, would be designed to meet the needs of local business travelers wishing to make a one day commuter trip between Cincinnati and Cleveland; [4] (2) its service would end the historic downgrading of service by the incumbents in the market; (3) its service would be to Burke Lakefront Airport in Cleveland, a downtown airport, and would be a substantial added convenience to business travelers; [4] (4) it would not

[6] Pan American claims that the Board under-estimated American's fuel cost, citing the fact that the carrier's February fuel price increased by 43 percent over the January price used by the Board. It appears that this increase was temporary since the May price is 25.91 cents per gallon, well below the January price of 27.51 cents per gallon used by the Board.

[7] As evidence of its claim that American's Caribbean costs are understated, Pan American cites the fact that while only 12 percent of American's system operating revenue comes from its Latin American Division, approximately 27 percent of its system operating profit comes from that Division. However, only about one quarter of American's Latin American Division revenue comes from the Caribbean passenger operations under consideration here; the balance comes from operations to/from Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, as well as from cargo and charter operations. The data cited by Pan American shed very little light on the issue of American's allocation of costs to the Caribbean.

[8] In Order 77–2–32, the Board stated that there was no evidence that the carriers perform all the steps required for the proper application of an elasticity coefficient. In its petition here, Pan American has provided information in addition to that contained in its original justification which indicates that the carrier has, in fact, followed the correct procedure in applying elasticity.

[9] The difficulties of producing reliable estimates of elasticity in international markets are stressed by most authors who attempt it. For a general discussion of these problems, see, for example, Guy Orcutt, "Measurement of Price Elasticities in International Trade," The Review of Economics and Statistics (May 1950), pp. 118–127. Furthermore, studies of the North Atlantic market indicate that the demand curve is relatively elastic within the range of observed prices. See, for example, M. Straszheim, The International Airline Industry (Washington: The Brookings Institution, 1969), M. H. Cooper and A. K. Maynard, The Price of Air Travel (London: The Institute of Economic Affairs, 1971), and W. Watkins and D. Kaylor, Forecast of Scheduled International Air Travel of U.S. Flag Carriers 1971–1980 (Washington: Civil Aeronautics Board, 1971). The facts that the carriers use coefficients in the relatively inelastic range to adjust their traffic forecasts in this market and that they do not make corresponding adjustments in their forecast load factor tend to support the Board's contention that the carriers' use of elasticity is somewhat self-serving.

[10] Although the Board employs an elasticity coefficient of −0.7 for domestic fares, which was developed pursuant to a full investigation in Phase 7 of the DPFI, it has virtually no effect on fares as long as the load-factor adjustment is made.

[11] All Members concurred except Chairman Kahn and Member Bailey who did not participate.

[1] The Board stayed further procedural steps with respect to Allegheny's application by Order 76–8–59, August 11, 1976.

[2] Although Trans World Airlines has unrestricted authority, it has not provided service since 1966.

[4] Existing service in the market consists of (1) American's nonstop flights, departing Cincinnati at 7:00 a.m., 1:55 p.m. and 7:25 p.m., and departing Cleveland at 7:55 a.m. and 8:35 p.m., and (2) Allegheny's one-stop flights, departing Cincinnati at 7:00 a.m. and departing Cleveland at 9:53 p.m. Wright's proposed nonstop flights would depart Cincinnati at 9:05 a.m. and 6:45 p.m., and depart Cleveland at 7:30 a.m., and 5:10 p.m. Official Airline Guide, August 1, 1977.

[4] Allegheny and American serve Cleveland Hopkins International, which is located 10 miles to the southwest of Cleveland. Burke Lakefront, on the other hand, is located less than one mile north of the city.

divert traffic from the incumbents, American and Allegheny, but rather would substantially stimulate the market; and (5) it can operate the route at a profit and achieve a six-percent return on investment.

Statements requesting dismissal of Allegheny's application were filed by American and Delta Air Lines. American contends that its Cincinnati-Cleveland load factors are distinctly unsatisfactory, averaging only 50.3% in the first six months of 1976, and that, therefore, there is no need for an additional nonstop carrier in the market. Delta argues that the grant of new authority in the Cincinnati-Cleveland market is too complex to be heard under Subpart M because of TWA's dormant authority and the existence of multiple air carriers holding various degrees of authority between Cincinnati and Cleveland.[5]

The City of Cleveland filed an answer in support of Wright's application and the Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, the Kenton County Airport Board, and the City of Cincinnati filed a joint answer in support of Allegheny's application.

Upon consideration of the above pleadings and all the relevant facts, we have decided, pursuant to Subpart A of the Board's Rules, to institute the Cincinnati-Cleveland Nonstop Route Proceeding, Docket 31311, for the purpose of considering whether the public convenience and necessity require the certification of an additional carrier or carriers to provide nonstop service between Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio. The applications of Wright and Allegheny will be consolidated into this proceeding. In view of the fact that TWA's authority has been dormant since 1966, we will also place in issue, pursuant to our authority under section 204 of the Act, the question of whether TWA's nonstop Cincinnati-Cleveland authority should be altered, amended, modified or suspended pursuant to section 401(g) of the Act,[6] or whether it should be suspended pursuant to section 401(j).

Although this proceeding will be conducted pursuant to Subpart A of the Board's Rules, rather than Subpart M, we direct that the administrative law judge move as expeditiously as possible in processing these applications. In addition, we note that no objections have been filed to Wright's application. Accordingly, if by the date of the prehearing conference there is no opposition to that application, we propose to use show cause procedures to process Wright's request.

By Notice of Environmental Rejection, issued with this order, the Chief, Legal Division, Bureau of Operating Rights, has found, pursuant to section 312.13 of the Board's Procedural Regulations, that the proceeding instituted herein is not one which could lead to a "major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the environment" within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. However, that conclusion is not intended to foreclose any party from presenting evidence (subject to the usual evidentiary rules in force in CAB proceedings) or from making arguments with respect to relevant environmental issues. Nor are we foreclosed from consideration of environmental facts which might be relevant to our decision.

Accordingly, it is Ordered, That:

1. A proceeding to be known as the Cincinnati-Cleveland Nonstop Route Proceeding, Docket 31311, be instituted and be set down for hearing before an administrative law judge of the Board at a time and place hereinafter designated as the orderly administration of the Board's docket permits;

2. The proceeding instituted by paragraph 1, above, shall include consideration of the following issues:

(a) Do the public convenience and necessity require certification of an additional air carrier or carriers to engage in nonstop air transportation between Cincinnati, Ohio, and Cleveland, Ohio?

(b) If the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, which air carrier(s) should be authorized to engage in such service?

(c) What conditions, if any, should be placed on the operation of such carrier(s)?

(d) Should Trans World Airlines' nonstop authority between Cincinnati and Cleveland be altered, amended, modified, or suspended pursuant to section 401(j) of the Act?[7]

3. The applications of Wright Air Lines, in Docket 30241, and Allegheny Airlines, in Docket 29580, be consolidated into the proceeding instituted by paragraph 1, above;

4. Any authority awarded in this proceeding will be ineligible for subsidy;

5. The Motion of Wright Air Lines for hearing be granted; and

6. Applications, motions to consolidate and petitions for reconsideration of this order shall be filed within twenty days from the service date of this order and answers thereto shall be filed within 10 days thereafter.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

CINCINNATI-CLEVELAND NONSTOP ROUTE PROCEEDING

Notice of Environmental Rejection

In connection with their respective applications for nonstop authority between Cincinnati, Ohio, and Cleveland, Ohio, consolidated into the above referenced proceeding by Order 77–8–107, dated August 23, 1977, Allegheny Airlines and Wright Air Lines submitted environmental evaluations pursuant to section 312.12(a)(1) of the Board's Procedural Regulations.

Wright's environmental evaluation is based upon the assumption that it would operate two daily nonstop round-trip flights between Cincinnati and Cleveland, using Convair 600 equipment. Allegheny's calculations are based upon the assumption that it would add two daily round trips between Cincinnati and Cleveland, one of which would extend beyond Cleveland to Toronto, and the other of which would extend to Hartford/Springfield. Allegheny would use BAC–1–11 equipment.

Pursuant to sections 312.8 and 312.13 of the Board's Procedural Regulations, the undersigned—having reviewed the environmental evaluation and other available information with respect to the applications described above and having been duly designated by the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, pursuant to section 312.8—hereby finds that any subsequent Board action approving, denying, or otherwise acting upon such applications would not constitute a "major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the environment" within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Dated at Washington, D.C., August 23, 1977.

1. I am seeking a permit to salvage dead specimens of the Higgin's Eye mussel (Lampsilis higginsi) of both sexes. The collecting method used (wading and crowfoot bar dredge or brail) is not selective as to sex, but smaller and younger individuals will be taken and returned to the wild. No larve will be taken. The purpose is to notify the proper agencies of the State of Minnesota so that protective measures can be taken to protect mussel beds containing endangered mussels and significant populations of mussel species.

2. The animal I wish to collect is still in the wild.

3. Lampsilis higginsi and other mussels are difficult to identify in the field so the mussels collected will be sent to Dr. David Stansbery at the Ohio State University Museum. Less than five specimens from each mussel bed will be sent to Dr. Stansbery for identification and all others collected will be returned to the river.

4. One dead specimen has been collected near Lakeland, Minnesota, in the St. Croix River (approximately 16.5 river miles) and I am waiting for a permit so the mussel specimen can be sent to Dr. David Stansbery at the Ohio State University Museum for positive identification.

V 42 170 SEP 1 77 UMI

5. Science Museum of Minnesota, 30 East 10th Street, St. Paul, Minnesota.

6. N/A.

7. No contracts on agreements are involved.

8. (i) I am an employee with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources and I am currently collecting mussel specimens for a collection to be used for identifying other mussels collected by field personnel in their specific duties.

(ii) Collecting will be conducted from May to September annually at selected sites. Wading and the crowfoot bar dredge or brail will be used for sample collection. Not every mussel bed will be sampled every year.

(iii) When the Lampsilis higginsi is found, the proper authority will be notified so that habitat can be protected as much as possible.

(iv) Any specimen not identified as Higgin's Eye pearly mussel in the field will be sent to Dr. Stansbery for identification and becomes part of the Minnesota Science Museum collection.

12. Attachment.

It is anticipated that virtually all of the specimens to be sent to Dr. Stansbry will be salvaged dead shells of specimens of Lampsilis higginsi. As such, no preservatives will be necessary; although the shells will be carefully packed in appropriate cushioning materials to help them withstand the tender mercies of the U.S. Postal Service while in transit.

Should it be necessary to preserve recently dead specimens or any others containing soft parts, these will be preserved in a solution of ethanol or formalin or by freezing, as is deemed best.

Those specimens to be retained in museum collections will be stored and cared for according to the standard protocol in the particular museum.

EXHIBIT "A"

The following information is submitted in accordance with § 17.22(a) of Title 50, Chapter I, Subchapter B, Part 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations:

(1) The Applicant seeks a permit to purchase and transport two sub-adult Cheetahs (Acinonyx jubatus)—one male and one female.

(2) Both Cheetahs were born at Lion Country Safari Park, Grand Prairie, Tex. on October 7, 1976.

(3) The Applicant desires to purchase both Cheetahs from Wildlife Management Services, Inc., Grand Prairie, Tex. No wild caught animals will be involved in the proposed transaction since the subject Cheetahs are captive bred and captive born from an established group of breeding Cheetahs at the Lion Country Safari Park at Grand Prairie, Tex.

(4) See item (2) above.

(5) The Applicant's principal activity is the presentation of trained animal acts under a contract with Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, Inc. Its main office is at 1015 18th Street NW., Washington, D.C. It has two traveling units which present circus productions at various places throughout the United States and Canada. The Applicant is a member of one of the traveling units and maintains a winter quarters facility in Venice, Fla. where she returns each year for rehearsals and the off-season. It is anticipated that the Cheetahs described in this application will be maintained, exhibited and bred on the Applicant's traveling unit.

(6) (i) The subject Cheetahs will always have adequate space utilization. During transit between performance sites the animals will be confined to transport cages six feet ten inches long, three feet five inches wide and three feet eleven inches high. Permanent water troughs are present in the transport cages. During performance locations, which range from two days to over two months in duration, the Cheetahs will be maintained in a portable cyclone fence enclosure ten feet wide by forty feet long. This will allow space utilization of up to four hundred feet depending on local facilities.

(ii) Since the 1880's, the Applicant's family has maintained and exhibited members of the Family Felidae. The Applicant is a fourth generation performer and has been a professional animal trainer and exhibitor for the past eighteen years. The Applicant's family circus, Circus Williams (until 1969 one of the three largest circuses in Europe), has received official governmental recognition in Europe for excellence in the maintenance and care of their animal collection. Their animal collection has included several species of now endangered members of the Felidae family.

The professional animal staff employed by the Applicant's employer (Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, Inc.) will care for the Cheetahs that are the subject of the present application. This includes a staff veterinarian, para-veterinarian and a number of animal handlers and trainers with cumulative experience in handling and maintaining felidae in excess of two hundred years. In addition, the Applicant's employer has on the staff a Veterinary Consultant who has been responsible for the maintenance and care of Cheetahs at a major zoological park in the United States.

(iii) The Applicant is willing to participate in cooperative breeding programs and to maintain or contribute data to an appropriate studbook.

In addition, the Applicant, in accordance with the letter of agreement attached hereto, intends to return the Cheetahs which are the subject of this permit application to the seller's facility (Lion Country Safari Park) at Grand Prairie, Tex. for controlled reintroduction to the resident Cheetah breeding groups maintained there. The return of the subject Cheetahs would be at appropriate intervals consistent with current available research regarding the reproductive physiology and behavior of the species. The intent of this agreement would be to improve and facilitate successful propagation of the subject Cheetahs.

(iv) The two Cheetahs that are the subject of this application will be transported from Lion Country Safari, Grand Prairie, Tex. to the Applicant in appropriate transport crates that shall be a minimum of four feet in length, three feet in width and three feet in height. The floors of the transport crates will have an adequate amount of bedding and the crates will have adequate ventilation for the animals. The Applicant, her employer and their current staff have had extensive experience in transporting animals of this type. The animals will be accompanied in transit by professional personnel experienced in animal transportation.

(v) During the past five years the Applicant has not exhibited Cheetahs or wildlife of the same genus and therefore has experienced no mortalities.

(7) A copy of the agreement pursuant to which the subject Cheetahs would be periodically returned to Lion Country Safari for propagation purposes is attached hereto.

(8) The exhibition of animals is the Applicant's profession and has been an essential aspect of the presentation of the Applicant's family circus. From the late 1800's until recently the Applicant and her family have owned and maintained an extensive animal inventory. The Applicant and her family have an excellent breeding record with the rare species they have exhibited and maintained. The Applicant is sincerely concerned with the conservation of endangered and threatened species.

The Applicant desires to become self-sufficient, to the extent possible, with respect to the animals she exhibits. The Applicant, therefore, desires to obtain breeding stock of the species Acinonyx jubatus. It is in furtherance of this objective of propagation that the Applicant desires to obtain the two Cheetahs that are the subject of this application.

The subject Cheetahs will be given adequate opportunity to engage in social and other behavior necessary for reproduction; and under the supervision and care of the Applicant and associated professional staff, and in accordance with the agreement attached hereto whereby the animals will be periodically reintroduced to the breeding groups at Lion Country Safari Park, the Applicant believes that the subject Cheetahs will reproduce. The Applicant will keep and maintain offspring for further breeding and exhibition and any Cheetahs that are surplus to the Applicant's needs will be made available to respected and accredited organizations which have experienced staffs and which share the Applicant's conservation goals. The placement of any surplus animals will be made with the intent of establishing a captive self-sustaining population of this species.

The Applicant and her employer, Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., play a unique role in the education of millions of people as to the need to preserve and protect the survival of endangered species such as the Cheetah. The Applicant appears annually in approximately forty cities throughout the United States and Canada, many of which do not have zoos or other animal parks. Last year the Applicant was viewed by over three million people. The diversity of the circus presentation attracts many persons who might not otherwise visit zoos and animal parks in or near their communities. Therefore, for millions of children and adults, their experience of seeing and enjoying these Cheetahs and other species of wildlife at the circus is the only means by which they may gain an appreciation for such wildlife. Development of public awareness and appreciation for wildlife is a vital step in the process of protecting endangered species. Thus, in addition to enhancing propagation, the Applicant believes that her ownership and exhibition of these Cheetahs will enhance the survival of the species.

Documents and other information submitted in connection with this application are available for public inspection during normal business hours at the Service's office in Room 512, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Interested persons may comment on this application by submitting written data, views, or arguments, preferably in triplicate, to the Director (FWS/WPO), U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C. 20240. This application has been assigned File Number PRT 2-1095-07; please refer to this number when submitting comments. All relevant comments received on or before October 3, 1977, will be considered.

Applicant: Eugene Clayton Burkey, R.D. No. 1, Box 11, Loretto, Pa. 15940.

(i) Pheasants: Hume's Bartail (Syrmaticus humiae), Swinhoe (Lophura swinhoii), Mikado (Syrmaticus mikado), Brown Eared (Crossoptilon manichuricum), Edward's (Lophura edwardsi), Elliots (Syrmaticus elliotti), Palawan Peacock Pheasant (Polyplectron emphanum).

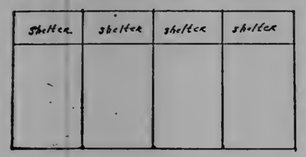
I would like to be able to buy and sell the above in United States interstate commerce. Birds purchased or sold are for propagation purposes generally. From time to time breeders need to acquire unrelated bloodlines to maintain vigorous birds with stamina.

(2) iii—born in captivity in the United States of America.

(3) It is my intention to buy and sell birds within the United States and that were born in captivity. Birds are shipped in solid, yet soft crates that would eliminate injury.

(4) Birds purchased and sold will be within the limits of the United States. Those purchased will have been born from captive populations and those sold will have been born and reared at my own homestead.

(5) Birds are housed on my own property at R.D. No. 1, Box 11, Loretto, Pennsylvania 15490 in Cambria County. Pairs of birds are housed according to their individual needs. Aviaries are kept as vermin proof as is possible and vary in size from 10' x 10' x 5' to 10' x 18' x 5'. A few aviaries are 15' x 20' x 5'.



(6) (i) Please turn to the last page for diagrams of the area and facilities where the pheasants are maintained

(ii) Although I had pheasants as a teenager 30 years ago, I have been breeding and rearing them as a serious hobby since 1969, 7 years ago. Each year I propagate 100–250 young from various species. I have raised quality progeny in numbers from the following: Blue Eared, Mikado, Himalayan Monal, Cheer, Amherst, Golden and their legitimate mutations, Ringnecks, Reeves, Hume's Bartail, Elliots, White Crested Kalij, Linneated Kalij, Silver, Swinhoe, etc. My background in ornithology is self attained but good. Several of my articles on the rearing of pheasants have been published in magazines such as the American Pheasant and Waterfowl Society Magazine, the Gazette, and the Oregon Game Breeder's Magazine. I have a B.S. degree in Chemistry and have done graduate work at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Natural Science.

(iii) I am willing to participate in a cooperative breeding program and to maintatin a studbook as well as supply contributive data for any program that will help prevent the extinction of these pheasants.

(6) (i) Description and diagrams of the area and facilities where the pheasants are maintained and housed.

The whole aviary area is arranged in a rectangle shape. Aviaries are variable in size according to the requirements of the bird. Some are 10' × 10' × 5', 10' × 18' × 5', and a few are 15' × 20' × 5' in dimension. Basically, the individual aviaries look like the following drawing:

The aviaries are on a slanting slight hill on our 4 acre lot and are in back of the main homestead. Several tall hickory and maple trees are interdispersed so as to provide shade during the hot summer months. One inch galvanized poultry netting is used on most of the pens, although we are switching to galvanized heavy wire which does not have to be replaced as often. The pens are wired down into the ground on the outside edge to prevent the entry of any possible rodents. Aviaries contain perches for roosting, food-containers, gravel containers, and water containers. The shelters on the back of the pens protect the birds and give them refuge from rain and snow.

(6) (iv) The containers used for shipping depend upon the size and number of birds being transported. The containers are double lapping and are made of solid cardboard. Seams are taped and there are 8 air holes in each box. The bottom of the box contains absorbent litter. Boxes are 12'' x 12'' x 16'' and 12'' x 18'' x 24'' depending upon size needed. It is not good to use boxes of large size for small birds. Orange halves or grapefruit halves are used as a source of water for the birds. This prevents spillage while in transit. Food in the form of pellets or grain can be provided. It has been my experience that most shipments of pheasants arrive at their destination within the United States in 24 to 36 hours, sometimes much less. Birds are shipped from a nearby airport. The customer knows in advance the time of the shipment. He picks up the birds himself at his airport terminal. This prevents layovers.

(v) In proportion to the number of birds we have successfully raised during the past 5 years our losses have been light. We have never had an outbreak of any type of contagious disease that killed off large numbers of birds. Occasionally a bird is lost by flying into a roof support. One Elliots hen tore a toenail loose this winter and died of blood loss before I discovered her. Swinhoe are subject to Blackhead which is prevented by medicated feed and Emtryl during their early weeks. When mature they become immune. The respiratory mycroplasmas that sometimes develop in Elliots and Humes are prevented by inoculation with Tylan or the use of aureomycin, etc. When I first began to breed pheasants we had some losses until I learned how to treat and then how to prevent disease. Some pheasants are by nature, long-lived. Others simply die of old age when 7 to 10 years old. I lost one Hume's hen last year. The male came into breeding condition during the middle of a very warm spell in mid-winter and picked the hen's eye out. My birds were blood tested two years ago by the State of Pennsylvania at my request for shipment to the State of Maine which required this. The tests were good and shipment was made. Of the birds on the list we almost never lose an adult bird. Young chicks are sometimes lost. Two years ago we lost some young Elliots that were transferred from a brooder coop to another building during a warm spell. An unseasonal cold front resulted in their chilling.

(7) There are no contracts or agreements.

(8) I wish to continue maintaining, breeding, purchasing, and selling these birds for propagation purposes. If it were not for such programs in the world, the Nene goose, Swinhoe, and Mikado would be no more in existence.

(ii) The birds are provided with good food, needed housing, and an atmosphere conducive to contentment so that they will reproduce.

(iii) Experiences I've had that yield better results in the reproduction of pheasants are shared with others through various publications. I feel that if any of these birds do become extinct in their homeland there will always be a source for rebuilding the wild population from the captive population. My pheasantry is a source of education for many who visit and can at least appreciate what a threatened species is.

(iv) If I were to become incapacitated so that care of my birds was no longer possible, they would be sold to other competent breeders who would know how to care for them and propagate them.

1. A Captive Self Sustaining Permit is requested for the following species: Swinhoe Pheasant—Lophura swinhoeli, Edward's Pheasant—Lophura edwardsi, Elliots Pheasant—Syrmaticus elliotti, Bar-Tailed Pheasant—Syrmaticus humiae, Mikado Pheasant—Syrmaticus mikado, Brown Eared Pheasant—Crossoptilon mantchuricum, White Eared Pheasant—Crossoptilon crossoptilon drouyni, Palawan Peacock Pheasant—Polypectron emphanum.

The applicant desires a permit to authorize unlimited transactions with others holding the same permit through interstate commerce for the 2 year permit period, with the permit being able to be renewed acording to sect. 13.24.

2. All the pheasant species are kept in a secluded wooded area with the area designed to be conducive to natural habitats. The inside of the aviary is planted as well to suit the specific needs of that species. Ex. Our bartailed preasant aviaries are densely planted with hemlock creating a very shaded habitat.

All species have closed shelters for nesting purposes as well as to keep the birds safe during inclement weather.

The size of the aviary is dessigned as well to meet the needs of the species there contained. Aviaries range from 8 x 25 x 6, 8 x 8 x 50, 8 x 50 x 150.

The waterfowl are kept in covered duck flights for protection against predators. Hawaiian koloa and laysan teal are kept in separate aviaries to insure pureness of the species. Those species requiring heat for winter are kept in a heated building.

3. Applicant has been propagating pheasants for 10 years and watefowl for 5 years. I presently am raising a number of the species covered under this permit. Presently doing research with Syrmaticus mikado and Lophura swinhoeli. This being behavioral research as well as developing natural nutrition diets. The applicant is in constant contact with a number of leading ornithologists and aviculturists.

The applicant holds a valid N.Y. State endangered species permit with membership in the following organizations.

1. American Pheasant and Waterfowl Society.
2. World Pheasant Association (IUCN).
3. Northeastern Avicultural Society.
4. The applicant is willing to participate in a cooperative breeding program and to contribute data to a stud book.
5. The applicant will use shipping containers designed to meet the various specifications necessary for the comfort of the birds in transit. With food water and specific instructions printed on the container I have shipped and received many birds across the states with out any losses.
6. The applicant has lost only a very small number of birds these being lost to predators. In waterfowl this loss has been eliminated with covered duck flights. Predatory birds of prey cause a small loss strafing the pens causing an occasional broken neck. Occassional losses occur as a result of severe lightning storms. Only losses in young atock was due to powerfailure or ocassional deformities. These problems are remedied with a generator. Deformaties are steadily fewer as we develop special diets for the breeders as well as the young. The applicant still has the first pair of pheasants owned.

The applicant has acquired permission from state biologists to bring any sick or injured endangered specie to the state lab.

7. The applicant is making this application for proper authorization to engage in interstate commerce with pheasants, waterfowl listed. This is to enable the applicant to cover expensive costs with the sale of the progeny, to qualified aviculturists. Also to insure that our bloodlines are kept strong. The sale of the progeny will help to cover costs of several research projects already underway. The CSSP is a valuable buffer for these species to prevent extinction, with the hopeful reintroduction of these species to the wild state.

These species are viewed by hundreds of visitors with emphasis on education and occasional lectures. The applicant has also earned the praise from 3 area newspapers.

(ii) Upon termination of my breeding program, all species of birds whether endangered or not will be distributed among qualified aviculturists.

Sincerely,

CHARLES E. DUBACHER.

NATURAL RESOURCES DEFENSE COUNCIL, INC., ET AL., AND CECIL ANDRUS, SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR, ET AL.

Notice of Proposed Deviation From Scheduled Preparation of Environmental Impact Statements on Livestock Grazing

In the matter of the Natural Resources Defense Council Inc., et al., Plaintiffs, v. Cecil Andrus, Secretary of the Interior, et al., Defendants.

The final judgment of June 18, 1975, in this case set forth a schedule for the preparation of a series of environmental impact statements (EIS's) by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), Department of the Interior, on livestock grazing on public lands in the eleven Western States. Paragraph 10 of the judgment contemplates the possibility of material deviations from the judgment and provides for notice as follows:

10. If the Federal Defendants believe, in good faith, that circumstances dictate that any material deviations must be made, then in that event, the Federal Defendants shall give Notice to the Court wherein a detailed explanation shall be made of the deviation which is anticipated to occur together with the reason(s) therefor. This Notice shall be filed prior to the anticipated implementation of such deviation, and contemporaneously a copy of such Notice shall be sent by registered mail to all parties to this action (No. 1983-73) and such Notice shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Thereafter, if objections are filed with the court within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER the Federal Defendants and the objecting parties may make such motions and present evidence to the court as to them seems proper, and the court shall determine if such deviations shall be allowed to occur or make any other appropriate order; provided, however, that if no objections are filed with the court within such 30-day period, BLM shall be authorized to implement such deviation.

Paragraph five of the judgment provides that "During FY 1977 through and including FY 1981 the EIS's will be completed in accordance with the schedule shown in Exhibit B[1] of the Agreement (which comprises a total of 70 EIS's on approximately 104,000,000 acres)." The current schedule requires completion of eleven impact statements by September 30, 1977, the end of the fiscal year. So far, one final EIS has been completed covering the Challis unit in Idaho. Three draft EIS's have been released: San Luis (Colorado), Uncompahgre (Colorado), and Rio Puerco (New Mexico).

Difficulties encountered in the preparation of the Challis EIS and others currently in progress, along with passage of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA), 90 Stat. 2743, 43 U.S.C. 1701, et seq., required reevaluation of the entire process of preparing livestock grazing environmental statements. During preparation of the Challis EIS, data and planning deficiencies became clear. The major problem was lack of baseline resource data, especially on vegetative productivity, soils, and wildlife. In addition, the land use plan (management framework plan or MFP) did not define resource management goals, adequately consider nongrazing resource values or make definite, trackable land use decisions. As a result of these problems and similar ones on other EIS's now in process, the Department of the Interior adopted a new policy for EIS preparation and improved resource inventories. These policy changes were also responsive to FLMPA which requires periodic and systematic resource inventories and multiple use land use planning.

The new EIS policy has three parts. First, the long term strategy will be to prepare EIS's on the allocation of vegetative resources proposed in the Bureau's MFP's. In addition, a few EIS's will be prepared on total MFP's to test this approach. This long range strategy will require greatly improved resource inventories. Second, a short term strategy was adopted involving completion of eight EIS's now in process on allotment management plans (AMP's). As an interim strategy for preparing EIS's between now and implementation of the long range strategy, statements will be written on the current range program based on available data. The proposed action will be (a) specified management actions based on existing data such as adjustment and control of livestock numbers and season of use, adjustment and management of wild horses and burros, and initiation of livestock grazing systems; and/or (b) AMP approval; and/or (c) MFP approval of vegetation allocation. This strategy requires reordering of the schedule so that areas with the best available inventory data are covered first. The Department also decided to intensify all BLM resource inventories, utilizing current available data to the extent possible and collecting resource data actually needed for the Bureau's management decisions.

The Department of the Interior recognizes the need to comply with the court order and the National Environmental Policy Act. In complying though, EIS's must be prepared which adequately analyze the environmental impact of livestock grazing and its viable alternatives. Proposed actions must be based on current and reliable data which has been utilized to develop land use and activity plans. In order to achieve this goal, the Department of the Interior now proposes a material deviation schedule from 1977 to 1981 as shown in Exhibit A which is attached hereto and made a part hereof. In addition, a supplemental impact statement will be prepared on the Challis Unit in Idaho by December 1, 1979.

The proposed schedule modification is needed because:

1. It is necessary to realign EIS boundaries in all states to conform to planning and administrative boundaries. The boundaries identified in the settlement agreement frequently do not conform to existing planning unit boundary lines or administrative jurisdictions. The new proposals would correct this. For example in New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming, EIS schedules and boundaries must be realigned to conform more closely to Regional Coal EIS boundaries in order to facilitate coordinated data gathering and planning. Such boundary adjustments should result in increased efficiency and reduced cost for inventories and other work. The new boundaries are shown in Exhibit B which is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

2. The present schedule does not balance the EIS workload equitably between Districts nor does it consider each District's capability to do the job. The new proposal would provide better distribution of State and District workloads and permit sufficient time for completing needed inventories and planning before work begins on the next area. In addition, it allows for adjustments in manpower and skills needed to complete the job in each District.

3. BLM no longer has jurisdiction over the Kofa, Sheldon and Charles M. Russell Wildlife Rfugees, totaling 2,187,000 acres, since by Congressional action, 90 Stat. 199 (1976), these areas are now administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service. The Fish and Wildlife Service is actively discussing with NRDC a FWS proposal to develop management plans for these areas in conjunction with an environmental assessment record. Any deviation necessitated by these plans and reviews, will be made separately pursuant to these discussions.

4. As discussed above, preparation of the Challis EIS indicated serious data gaps and that additional data must be collected in the field before adequate EIS's and grazing plans can be prepared. Present resource inventories were compiled with limited available information which is inadequate for evaluation of proposed grazing systems, allocation of forage between competing range users and assessment of impacts. Specific up-to-date, onsite information is needed on: (a) Present and potential grazing capacities for livestock, wild horses and burros, and wildlife; (b) range condition and apparent trend; (c) soil erosion conditions; (d) range suitability; (e) soils; and (f) other related resource uses and values that interrelate with livestock grazing.

5. The Challis EIS process also indicated planning deficiencies. Specifically, many of the Bureau's plans fail adequately to define resource management goals, to consider fully all resource values, and to make definite, trackable land use decisions. More time is needed to complete or revise MFP's so that adequate direction can be provided for the livestock grazing program.

Dated: August 30, 1977.

CECIL D. ANDRUS,
Secretary of the Interior.

This document is presented to the court in compliance with paragraph 10 of the judgment as a material deviation from the original schedule.

Respectfully submitted,

ERIC GOULD,

NATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM

DIGITAL INTERFACE CHARACTERISTICS FOR DATA COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT

Proposed Federal Standard 1031

The Administrator of the General Services Administration (GSA) is responsible, under the provisions of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, for the Federal Standardization Program. On August 14, 1972, the National Communications System (NCS)[1] was designated by the Administrator, GSA, as the responsible agent for the development of telecommunication standards for NCS interoperability and the computer-communications interface. The Federal Telecommunication Standards Committee (FTSC) was established under the administration of NCS to accomplish this mission. Additionally, the Secretary of Commerce is authorized, under the provisions of Pub. L. 89–306, to develop and establish uniform Federal automatic data processing standards.

[1] DoD Directive 5100.41, "Arrangements for Discharge of Executive Agent Responsibilities for the NCS"—filed as part of original document.

The proposed Federal Standard is part of a series of joint Federal Telecommunication Standards and Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) falling within the area of mutual responsibility to the NCS and National Bureau of Standards (NBS) as defined in FIPS PUB[2] 23 and NCS Circular 175–1.[3]

Proposed FED–STD–1031 with the companion FIPS PUB, adopts proposed EIA Standard SP1194C, which specifies the functional and mechanical interface between data terminal equipment and data circuit-terminating equipment in applications where data is transmitted over telecommunication networks employing predominantly analog (i.e., non-digital) transmission facilities. The original announcements for this standard were made in FEDERAL REGISTER, Volume 40, No. 235, December 5, 1975, and Volume 41, No. 200, October 14, 1976. As a result of a number of comments received, further development work was accomplished to provide a greatly improved interface for the future. In particular, agreements which establish compatibility internationally with the provisions of SP1194C have now been reached in the International Telegraph and Telephone Consultative Committee (CCITT) and the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).

A proposed EIA Industrial Electronics Bulletin, Application Note on Interconnection between Interface Circuits Using RS–XYZ and RS–232C, provides further information on the transition from existing RS–232C interfaces to SP1194C (RS–XYZ). Copies of this document, as well as the proposed EIA standard, can be obtained from the Office of the Manager, National Communications System, Attn: NCS–TS, Washington, D.C. 20305.

Prior to submission of the final endorsement of this proposed Federal Standard and the companion FIPS Publications to the Department of Commerce (DOC); the Office of Telecommunications Policy (OTP), Executive Office of the President; and GSA, it is essential that proper consideration is given to the needs and views of industry, the public, and State and local governments. The purpose of this Notice is to solicit such views. Interested parties may submit their comments to the Office of the Manager, National Communications System, Attn: NCS–TS, Washington, D.C. 20305. All comments should be

FEDERAL INFORMATION PROCESSING STANDARDS PUBLICATION——

ANNOUNCING THE STANDARD FOR GENERAL PURPOSE 37-POSITION AND 9-POSITION INTERFACE FOR DATA TERMINAL EQUIPMENT AND DATA CIRCUIT-TERMINATING EQUIPMENT EMPLOYING SERIAL BINARY DATA INTERCHANGE

Federal Information Processing Standards are issued by the National Bureau of Standards, pursuant to the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, Pub. L. 89-306 (79 Stat. 1127), Executive Order 11717 (38 FR 12315, dated May 11, 1973) and Part 6 of Title 15 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).

Name of Standard. General Purpose 37-Position and 9-Position Interface for Data Terminal Equipment and Data Circuit-Terminating Equipment Employing Serial Binary Data Interchange (FIPS Pub ——).

Category of Standard. Hardware Standard, Data Transmission.

Explanation. This Federal Information Processing Standard is one of a series prescribing the interface parameters for interconnecting digital components and equipment. Each standard in this series addresses a particular interconnection, specifying the electrical, functional, and mechanical characteristics required at the interface to ensure interoperability across the designated interconnection boundary. This standard is applicable to the interconnection of data terminal equipment (DTE) and data circuit-terminating equipment (DCE) employing serial binary data interchange with control information being interchanged on separate control circuits. This standard is intended for use in applications employing analog telecommunication facilities.

Approving Authority. Secretary of Commerce.

Maintenance Agency. Institute for Computer Sciences and Technology, National Bureau of Standards.

Cross Index. a. Electronic Industries Association Standard RS-XYZ entitled "General Purpose 37-Position and 9-Position Interface for Data Terminal Equipment and Data Circuit-Terminating Equipment Employing Serial Binary Data Interchange" (adopted as Federal Standard 1031).

b. Electronic Industries Association Industrial Electronics Bulletin —— entitled "Application Note on Interconnection Between Interface Circuits Using RS-XYZ and RS-232C".

c. Electronic Industries Association Standard RS-422 entitled "Electrical Characteristics of Balanced Voltage—Digital Interchange Circuits" (adopted as Federal Standard 1020).

d. Electronic Industries Association Standard RS-423 entitled "Electrical Characteristics of Unbalanced Voltage Digital Interface Circuits" (adopted as Federal Standard 1030).

e. Federal Standard 1020 entitled "Telecommunications: Electrical Characteristics of Balanced Voltage Digital Interface Circuits" (see item c above).

f. Federal Standard 1030 entitled "Telecommunications: Electrical Characteristics of Unbalanced Voltage Digital Interface Circuits" (see item d above).

g. Federal Standard 1031 entitled "General Purpose 37-Position and 9-Position Telecommunications: Transitional Interface Between Data Terminal Equipment and Data Circuit-Terminating Equipment Employing Serial Binary Data Interchange" (see item a above).

Applicability. This Federal Information Processing Standard pertains to the interconnection between data terminal equipment (DTE) and data circuit-terminating equipment (DCE) where:

(1) The data terminal equipment is designed to interconnect with analog (in contrast to digital) telecommunication facilities;

(2) Serial binary data, timing and control signals are conveyed across the interface at the dc baseband level on separate parallel circuits.

This standard shall be used by all agencies of the Federal Government in the acquisition of data terminal and data communication equipment and services conforming to the above criteria. While this standard is not intended to hasten the obsolescence of equipment currently in the Federal inventory, it is applicable to the planning, design, and procurement of all new data terminal equipment and services and related data communication networks and systems.

Specifications. Federal Information Processing Standard (FIPS ——), General Purpose 37-Position and 9-Position Interface for Data Terminal Equipment and Data Circuit-Terminating Equipment Employing Serial Binary Data Interchange, adopts, by reference, the provisions of the following voluntary industry standards and bulletin developed and approved under the sponsorship of the Electronic Industries Association:

(1) The interface functional, timing, and mechanical characteristics are as specified by RS-XYZ.

(2) The Electrical characteristics of either RS-422 or RS-423 are specified for all category I interchange circuits (see Section 2.1.1 of RS-XYZ) in accordance with item 4 below and the Qualifications that follow.

(3) The Electrical characteristics of RS-423 are specified for all category II interchange circuits (see Section 2.1.2 of RS-XYZ) in accordance with item 4 below.

(4) The provisions of Industrial Electronics Bulletin —— are prescribed as appropriate for interoperability with equipment conforming to the EIA RS-232C interface standard.

(a) For equipment installed or on order prior to the date of this FIPS PUB.

(b) Where procurement actions are into the solicitation phase (i.e., Request for Proposals or Invitation for Bids have been issued) on the date of this FIPS PUB.

Qualifications. Category I and II circuits, defined by RS-XYZ, Section 2.1, shall be implemented with either RS-422 or RS-423 in accordance with one of the following criteria:

(a) The provisions of RS-XYZ, Section 6.11 shall apply to category I circuits for new applications where the DTEs or DCEs will not be required to interconnect with existing installed equipment conforming to other interface standards such as EIA RS-232C, IEEE 488, MIL-STD-188C or MIL-STD-188-100, i.e., either RS-422 or RS-423 may be employed as appropriate to the application requirements. Category II circuits shall employ RS-423.

(b) DTEs and DCEs that will be interconnected with equipment conforming to EIA Standard RS-232C shall employ RS-423 for all category I and II circuits as described by EIA Industrial Electronics Bulletin ——.

(c) DTEs and DCEs that will be interconnected with equipment conforming to either MIL-STD-188C or MIL-STD-188-100 shall employ unbalanced circuits as prescribed by MIL-STD-188-114 incorporating a manual provision for changing the signal sense from positive to negative mark for all category I and II circuits.

Waiver Procedure. Proposed waivers relating to the procurement of equipment using non-standard interfaces will be coordinated in advance with the General Services Administration according to the procedure described in paragraph 6, Changes, of the joint Federal Information Processing Standard and Federal Standard affixed to this FIPS PUB. It is suggested that a request for waiver include the following information:

(a) A brief, narrative description of the existing or planned teleprocessing or data communication systems to which the waiver applies, including:

(1) Statement of purpose and principal function of the system.

(2) Potential or planned use of the facilities employed with this system to interchange information with similar systems operated within the agency or by other agencies.

(b) A brief description of the system configuration, including a listing of accountable features, such as numbers and costs of data processors, terminals, modems, and communication lines, identifying those items to which the waiver applies.

Where to Obtain Copies. Copies of this publication are for sale by the National Technical Information Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, Springfield, Virginia 22161. When ordering, refer to Federal Information Processing Standards Publication —— (NBS-FIPS-PUB-——), title, and Accession Number. Payment may be made by check, money order, or deposit account.

CAROLINA POWER & LIGHT CO.

Filing of Settlement Agreement

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Take notice that on July 22, 1977, the Carolina Power and Light Company (CP&L) submitted a Settlement Agreement in the above mentioned docket to the Federal Power Commission. A Motion seeking approval of the proposed Settlement Agreement was also filed. The matter is now before the Commission for consideration.

The proposed Settlement provides that CP&L will refund $4,667,493 to its municipal wholesale customers, and $4,017,129 to its electric cooperative customers plus interest at 9% per annum for the period from the date of each monthly bill payment until the date of refund. These refunds will be made on a pro rata percentage basis. CP&L will retail all other amounts collected subject to the refund from the customers in Docket No. E-8884. Intervenors ElectriCities, North Carolina Electric Membership Corporation and Four County Electric Membership Corporation agreed to cease all litigation in Phase I and Phase II of Docket No. E-8884 including any litigation or reopened proceedings with respect to the Allowance For Funds Used During Construction (AFDUC).

The proposed Settlement is in complete settlement of all issues as to the dollars which CP&L was entitled to receive from the sale-for-resale municipal and electric cooperative customers for service rendered during the period January 2, 1975 through April 30, 1976.

Any person wishing to do so may submit comments in writing concerning the proposed Settlement Agreement to the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before September 30, 1977. The Settlement Agreement is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

[Docket No. CP77-47]

COLUMBIA GULF TRANSMISSION CO.

Petition To Amend

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Take notice that on August 8, 1977,[1] Columbia Gulf Transmission Company (Petitioner), P.O. Box 683, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. CP77-47 a petition to amend the Commission's order of February 7, 1977 issued in the instant docket (57 FPC) pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act and Section 157.7(b) of the Commission's Regulations thereunder (18 CFR 157.7 (b)) so as to provide for an increase in the total expenditures for the construction of budget facilities to $12,000,000, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Petitioner indicates that on February 7, 1977, it was granted authorization in the instant docket to construct during the calendar year 1977 and to operate such budget facilities as set out therein, limiting the total expenditures to $7,000,000 with no single onshore project to exceed $1,500,000 and no single offshore project to exceed $2,500,000. Petitioner states that the availability of gas supplies earlier than anticipated and the revised forecast of gas purchase facilities operationally necessary in 1977 mandate that it acquire and have available authorization to utilize the total amount of $12,000,000 available to it under the Regulations. It is indicated that the forecasted expenditures, as revised, during the calendar year 1977 exceed the limitations of the Commission's order issued in the instant docket on February 7, 1977 as it is now operative; therefore, Petitioner requests that paragraph (D) of said order be amended to increase the therein provided limitation upon total expenditures to $12,000,000.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before September 16, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

COLUMBUS AND SOUTHERN OHIO ELECTRIC CO.

Order Accepting for Filing Proposed Rate Schedules, Suspending Proposed Rate Changes, Establishing Procedures, Granting Intervention, and Setting Price-Squeeze Issues for Hearing

AUGUST 26, 1977.

On July 29, 1977, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company (hereinafter Columbus) tendered for filing a proposed increase in rates and charges to three municipal customers.[1][2] Columbus also tendered for filing revised rates for the City of Columbus, Ohio, to become effective January 1, 1978.[3] The total filing would increase the Company's revenues by $2,500,889 (22.43%) for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1978. The Company requested waiver of the notice requirements to allow the revised rates to become effective as of July 1, 1977, as to the three municipal customers. The Company also requested waiver of the rule that prohibits filing more than 90 days in advance of the proposed effective date for the revised rates for the City of Columbus.

Notice of the tendered filing was issued August 5, 1977, with all protests or petitions to intervene due on or before August 19, 1977. On August 17, 1977, a petition to intervene and protest was filed by the City of Westerville, Ohio. The City requested a five-month suspension period—the maximum statutory period. The City of Columbus, Ohio, on August 18, 1977, filed a petition to intervene.

Our review indicates that the proposed rates filed by Columbus have not been shown to be just and reasonable and

[1] The application was initially tendered for filing on August 8, 1977; however, the fee required by Section 159.1 of the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 159.1) was not paid until August 18, 1977; thus, filing was not completed until the latter date.

[1] Cities of Westerville, Jackson and the Village of Glouster, all in Ohio. (See Appendix A for Designations.)

[2] Columbus' present agreement with the City of Columbus will expire December 31, 1977. According to Columbus' transmittal letter, it will apply the tariff rate to the City of Columbus after the expiration of its present contract.

therefore, may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential or otherwise unlawful. We also find that good cause does not exist to grant waiver of the notice requirements to allow Columbus' request for an effective date of July 1, 1977. Accordingly, we shall suspend the proposed rates for the three municipal customers for one day, to become effective August 30, 1977, subject to refund. Furthermore, we find good cause to grant waiver of the 90-day rule therefore accepting for filing the proposed rates to the City of Columbus. Accordingly, we shall suspend the proposed rates for the City of Columbus for one day to become effective January 2, 1978, subject to refund.

Our examination of the proposed tariff reveals that the billing demand for the City of Columbus is computed differently from that of other municipal customers. The billing demand provision applicable to the City of Columbus is a form of peak-load pricing and would apparently result in lower cost of power to the City of Columbus if it is able to shift load to off-peak periods. Accordingly, the Commission will direct the Company to show cause why the billing provision applicable to the City of Columbus should not be available to all tariff customers.

The City of Westerville raises a "price squeeze" allegation [3] in its filing. To conform with our Order No. 563, additional procedures must be set so as to effectuate these policies. We will direct the Administrative Law Judge to convene a prehearing conference within 15 days from the date of this order for the purpose of hearing the petitioner's request for data necessary to present its prima facie showing on the price-squeeze issue.

The Commission finds: (1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Federal Power Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges tendered by Columbus on July 29, 1977, establishing procedures for that hearing, and that the proposed increased rates and charges be accepted for filing, suspended, and the use thereof deferred, all as hereinafter ordered.

(2) Participation by the City of Westerville and the City of Columbus in this proceeding may be in the public interest.

(3) Good cause exists to deny Columbus' request for waiver of the notice requirements to allow the revised rates to become effective July 1, 1977.

(4) Good cause exists to accept Columbus' request for waiver of the rule that prohibits filing rates more than 90 days in advance of the proposed effective date.

(5) Good cause exists to establish "price squeeze" procedures to effectuate the Commission's policy announced in Order No. 563.

(6) Good cause exists to direct Columbus to show cause why the billing provisions applicable to the City of Columbus should not be available to all tariff customers.

[3] FPC v. Conway Corporation, 426 U.S. 271 (1976).

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by the Federal Power Act, particularly Sections 205, 206, 301, 308 and 309 thereof, and pursuant to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure and the Regulations under the Federal Power Act (18 CFR, Chapter I), a public hearing shall be held concerning the justness and reasonableness of the rates proposed by Columbus in this proceeding.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, the proposed increased rates and charges filed by Columbus on July 29, 1977 and identified above as associated with the three municipal customers are hereby accepted for filing, suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 30, 1977, when they shall become effective, subject to refund.

(C) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, the proposed increased rates and charges filed by Columbus on July 29, 1977 and identified above as associated with the City of Columbus are hereby accepted for filing, suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 2, 1978, when they shall become effective, subject to refund.

(D) The Staff shall prepare and serve top sheets on all parties for settlement purposes on or before December 15, 1977.

(E) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge to be determined by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for that purpose shall preside at a prehearing conference in this proceeding to be held on January 4, 1978, at 10:00 a.m. (ET) in a hearing of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426. Said Law Judge is authorized to establish all procedural dates and to rule upon all motions (except petitions to intervene, motions to consolidate and sever, and motions to dismiss), as provided for in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(F) The City of Westerville and the City of Columbus are hereby permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That participation of such intervenor shall be limited to the matters affecting asserted rights and interests specifically set forth in the petition to intervene; and Provided, further, That the admission of such intervenor shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved by any orders entered in this proceeding.

(G) The Administrative Law Judge shall convene prehearing conference within 15 days from the date of this order for the purpose of hearing the City of Westerville's request for data required to present its case, including a prima facie showing, on the price-squeeze issue. Columbus shall be required to respond to the discovery requests authorized by the Administrative Law Judge within 30 days and the City of Westerville shall file its case-in-chief on the price-squeeze issue within 30 days after Columbus' response.

(H) The Company is hereby ordered to show cause why thhe billing provisions applicable to the City of Columbus should not be available to all tariff customers.

(I) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

CONNECTICUT LIGHT AND POWER CO.

Transmission Agreement

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Take notice that on August 22, 1977, Connecticut Light and Power Company (CL&P) tendered for filing a proposed rate schedule with respect to the Transmission Agreement dated June 29, 1977 between (1) CL&P, The Hartford Electric Light Company (HELCO) and Western Massachusetts Electric Company (WMECO) and (2) North Attleborough Electric Department (NAED).

CL&P states that the Transmission Agreement provides for a transmission service to NAED during the period from July 1, 1977 to October 31, 1977.

CL&P indicates that the transmission charge rate is a monthly rate equal to one-twelfth of the annual average cost of transmission service on the Northeast Utilities system determined in accordance with Section 13.9 (Determination of Amount of Pool Transmission Facilities (PTF) Costs) of the New England Power Pool (NEPOOL) Agreement and the uniform rules adopted by the NEPOOL Executive Committee, multiplied by the number of kilowatts which NAED is entitled to receive.

CL&P requests an effective date of July 1, 1977 for the Transmission Agreement, and therefore requests waiver of the Commission's notice requirements.

HELCO and WMECO have filed certificates of concurrence in this docket.

V 42 170 SEP 1 77 V UMI

CL&P states that copies of this rate schedule have been mailed or delivered to HELCO, Hartford, Connecticut, WMECO, West Springfield, Massachusetts and NAED, North Attleboro, Massachusetts.

IOWA SOUTHERN UTILITIES CO.

Application

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Take notice that on August 15, 1977, the Iowa Southern Utilities Company (Applicant), filed an application seeking an order pursuant to Section 204 of the Federal Power Act authorizing the issuance of $30,000,000 aggregate principal amount of unsecured short term promissory notes and commercial paper notes.

Applicant is incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware with its principal business office at Centerville, Iowa, and is engaged in the electric utility business in 24 counties in Iowa.

Applicant proposes to issue Notes to both commercial banks and to commercial paper dealers. Applicant states that the Notes issued to commercial banks will not exceed $30,000,000 and that the Notes to be issued to commercial paper dealers will not exceed 25 percent of the Applicant's most recent twelve months' revenue from the sale of electricity and gas, which would presently permit the issuance of $16,600,000.

Applicant states that the interest rate on the Notes issued to commercial banks will not exceed 110 percent of the prime interest rate. Applicant anticipates that the interest rate on commercial paper at the time of issuance will, in general, average ¼ percent to 1 percent below the prime bank rate; however, Applicant states that on occasions the interest rate could exceed the prime rate.

Notes issued to commercial banks will mature no later than 92 days from date of issuance. Commercial paper notes will mature no later than 270 days from date of issue. Notes will be issued from time to time prior to January 1, 1980.

Applicant states that the proceeds from the issuance of the securities will be added to its general funds, which general funds will be used, among other things, to provide interim funds for construction expenditures to be made in 1978 and 1979.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said Application should on or before September 6, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). NATURAL GAS COMPANIES ANNUAL REPORT OF PROVED DOMESTIC GAS RESERVES: FPC FORM NO. 40

Order Granting Rehearing for Purposes of Further Consideration and Notice of Intent To Act

AUGUST 26, 1977.

On July 29, 1977, the following parties filed applications for rehearing of Order No. 526-B issued June 30, 1977: Gulf Oil Corporation and The Superior Oil Company; and Amoco Production Company. On August 1, 1977, the following additional parties filed applications for rehearing: Amerada Hess Corporation; Tenneco Oil Company; Exxon Corporation; Marathon Oil Company; and C&K Petroleum, Inc., C&K Offshore Company and C&K Marine Production Company. On August 8, 1977, Jake L. Hamon filed an application for rehearing and reconsideration, which, because it is not timely under Section 19 of the Natural Gas Act, must be treated as an application for reconsideration. On August 5, 1977, Amoco Production Company moved for a partial stay of order No. 526-B.

Order No. 526-B, issued after a court remand, prescribed FPC Form No. 40 requiring the submission of data on Proved Domestic Gas Reserves including data on a reservoir basis. The applications for rehearing discuss numerous issues at length and require further consideration by the Commission than is afforded by the statutory period. Amoco Production's motion for a partial stay should be considered in the light of the applications for rehearing.

The Commission finds: The applications for rehearing and reconsideration filed in this proceeding should be granted for further consideration.

The Commission orders: (A) The applications for rehearing and reconsideration filed herein are hereby granted for purposes of further consideration.

Certifications of Proposed Settlement Agreement

AUGUST 24, 1977.

In the matter of Southern Natural Gas Co., Carolina Pipeline Co. v. Southern Natural Gas Co., Atlanta Gas Light Co. v. Southern Natural Gas Co.

Take notice that on August 12, 1977, Southern Natural Gas Co. (Southern) submitted a settlement in the above-entitled proceedings; and on August 15, 1977, the Presiding Administrative Law Judges certified to the Commission for its consideration a Stipulation and Agreement dated August 9, 1977, together with the related hearing records in each of those proceedings except Docket Nos. The Stipulation and Agreement, among other things, provides for the following:

(1) The establishment of a permanent curtailment plan for Southern based on Opinion Nos. 747, 747-A, and 747-B with the modifications to Section 9 of the General Terms and Conditions of Southern's FPC Gas Tariff, Sixth Revised Volume No. 1 as contained in Article III of the Stipulation and the corrections included in Article IV thereof; (2) the continuance of Southern's currently effective Index of Requirements with certain changes set forth in Appendix C of the Stipulation as part of Southern's permanent curtailment plan; (3) the proscription of any change in the currently effective Index of Requirements to reflect growth in natural gas requirements of any priority since the end of the base period in February, 1973; (4) within ten days after the date upon which a Commission order approving this Stipulation and Agreement is final and non-appealable, the various parties shall seek to dismiss pending court and/or administrative actions relating to or resulting from the operation of curtailment plans in effect on the Southern system since January 11, 1972; (5) the claim by the parties that to their knowledge no adverse environmental impact would result from the adoption by the Commission and implementation by Southern of the permanent curtailment plan proposed in the Stipulation; and (6) the Stipulation and Agreement represents a negotiated settlement of the above-captioned proceedings and does not constitute an acceptance of principles that may underlie the permanent curtailment plan delineated therein.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said filing of settlement agreement should file, on or before September 6, 1977, such comments or petitions to intervene with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). AUGUST 26, 1977.

On July 27, 1977, the Tennessee Public Service Commission (TPSC) filed an application for rehearing requesting that the PGA rate increase accepted for filing by letter order issued June 30, 1977, in the captioned docket, be suspended and that an investigation into the proper calculation of PGA rates be ordered. For the reasons set forth below, the Commission grants TPSC's application for rehearing, orders appropriate relief and establishes hearing procedures for resolution of the issues raised by TPSC in its application for rehearing.

The instant proceeding was initiated on June 1, 1977, when Tennessee Natural Gas Lines Inc. (Tennessee Natural) filed alternate sets of revised tariff sheets reflecting increased PGA rates. One set of PGA rates[1] incorporated supplier increases of 4.98 cents per Mcf plus a 1.64 cents per Mcf surcharge to recoup, over a 12-month period, the costs of emergency gas purchases made during the 1976-77 winter. The alternate set[2] excluded all costs of emergency purchases and included a current rate adjustment of 4.98 cents per Mcf reflecting regular supplier rate increases exclusively.

On June 9, 1977, Tennessee Natural amended its June 1, 1977, filing by tendering substitute tariff sheets.[3] The substitute sheets reduced the surcharge adjustment for emergency purchases to correct a billing error made by one of its emergency suppliers. The substitute filing made June 9, 1977, which incorporated a 4.9 cents per Mcf increase for current purchases and a 1.51 cents per Mcf surcharge, was accepted for filing by the Commission by letter order issued June 30, 1977, and the revised PGA rates were permitted to become effective, as requested by Tennessee Natural, on July 1, 1977.

[1] The parties request that the case involving the City of Austell Natural Gas System be assigned a new docket number.

[1] Twenty-First Revised Sheet No. PGA-1 and Sixteenth Revised Sheet No. PGA-2 to Tennessee Natural's FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1.

[2] Alternate Twenty-First Revised Sheet No. PGA-1 and Alternate Sixteenth Revised Sheet No. PGA-2 to Tennessee Natural's FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1.

[3] Substitute Twenty-First Revised Sheet No. PGA -1 and Substitute Sixteenth Revised Sheet No. PGA -2 to Tennessee Natural's FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1.

On June 16, 1977, within the time period allowed by the Commission for such filings and prior to the date of the Commission's letter order, TPSC filed a notice of intervention in the captioned proceeding. The notice of intervention, which served to make TPSC a party to the proceeding,[4] requests that the Commission suspend operation of Tennessee Natural's revised tariff sheets and order an investigation into the proper allocation of the costs of emergency gas supplies. TPSC questions whether the costs of emergency purchases have been allocated equitably between Tennessee Natural's jurisdictional and nonjurisdictional customers. TPSC's notice points out that a portion of the emergency gas purchased by Tennessee Natural during this past winter may have been used to serve Tennessee Natural's Priority 2, nonjurisdictional customers.

Unfortunately, as the result of an apparent administrative error, TPSC's notice of intervention never appeared as part of the record upon which the Commission issued the June 30, 1977, letter order. TPSC's substantive objections to the propriety and legality of the PGA increase were not considered by the Commission when it issued the subject letter order. Accordingly, the Commission finds that the record in this proceeding was materially deficient and, consequently, that good cause exists to grant rehearing of the June 30 letter order.

The Commission also finds that the issues raised by TPSC in its application for rehearing (which issues were entirely incorporated in TPSC's June 16, 1977, notice of intervention) cannot be resolved on the basis of the current record and that a further investigation is required. The Commission therefore shall establish procedures for an informal resolution of the issues raised by TPSC, or, alternatively, if the parties cannot fairly resolve the issues, for a full, evidentiary hearing.

Based on the foregoing considerations, the Commission, acting pursuant to section 19 of the Natural Gas Act,[5] shall modify the order of June 30, 1977, by suspending Tennessee Natural's proposed PGA rate increase including the surcharge for one day until July 2, 1977, and shall set for hearing the issue of the reasonableness of Tennessee Natural's allocation of emergency gas costs between jurisdictional and nonjurisdictional customers. Since no issue has been raised concerning Tenessee Natural's current gas cost adjustment, the proposed rates excluding the unrecovered purchased gas cost surcharge shall be accepted for filing and approved, effective July 1, 1977. This procedure properly limits Tennessee Natural's refund liability to the surcharge revenues which are in dispute.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that TPSC's application for rehearing be granted as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders: TPSC has filed a timely notice of intervention in this proceeding and its application for rehearing is granted. The June 30, 1977, letter order in the captioned docket is modified as provided by the terms of this order.

(B) Pursuant to sections 4, 5, 8, 15, and 19 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules and regulations a hearing shall be held to determine the justness and reasonableness of Tennessee Natural's allocation of emergency gas costs between its jurisdictional and nonjurisdictional customers.

(C) The alternate set of tariff sheets filed June 1, 1977, as described herein, is accepted for filing and made effective as of July 1, 1977. Pending hearing and decision, the substitute filing of June 9, 1977, is suspended for one day, and made effective on July 2, 1977, subject to refund.

(D) An informal conference shall be convened by the Commission staff within 30 days from the date of this order for the purpose of resolving the issues in this proceeding. Further procedures, if any, as may be required following conclusion of the conference shall be prescribed by the Presiding Law Judge upon motion by the parties to the proceeding, including the staff.

(E) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge, to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge pursuant to 18 CFR 3.5(d), shall be assigned to this proceeding for the purposes set forth in this order and to preside over any hearings which ultimately may be required.

(F) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

UNION ELECTRIC CO.

Revised Service Schedule

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Take notice that on August 19, 1977, Union Electric Co. (Union) tendered for filing an Amendment and revised Appendices A, B and D to the Electric Service Agreement dated December 15, 1955 between Union and Missouri Power & Light Company.

Union indicates that the revisions being filed primarily reflect the addition of a new delivery point, modification of certain contract capacities and correction factors, and a reduction in a facilities charge.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before September 9, 1977. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

WESTERN TRANSMISSION CORP.

Order Accepting for Filing and Suspending Proposed Rate Increase, Initiating Hearing, and Establishing Procedures

AUGUST 24, 1977.

On July 25, 1977, Western Transmission Corporation (Western) tendered for filing in this docket proposed changes to its FPC Tariff[1] which would increase its revenues for jurisdictional natural gas sales and services by $128,934 annually based upon actual operations for the 12 months ended April 30, 1977, as adjusted. Western requests the proposed increase be permitted to become effective on September 1, 1977. For the reasons stated below, the Commission shall accept the proposed rate increase for filing, suspend it for one day, and set the matter for hearing.

Western requests an increase of 3.2 cents per Mcf in its transportation and resale rates based on increased costs and a claimed rate of return of 10.40 percent on rate base. Western claims that despite increases in the volumes of gas transported and sold, it has nevertheless realized a deficit in recent years.

Western submitted statements L, M, and N pursuant to section 154.63 of the Commission's regulations and requests waiver of the regulations so as not to be required to file statements A through K, O, and P. In view of the relatively small amount of increase sought, the time and expense which would be required to prepare the additional statements, and the fact that the statements submitted are adequate for purposes of the Commission's review and determination, the Commission finds that good cause exists to grant the requested waiver, provided however, that Western may be required to submit statement P if found to be necessary for purposes of the hearing initiated by this order. This matter shall be determined by the Presiding Law Judge.

[4] 18 CFR § 1.8(1) as interpreted by Pub. Serv. Comm'n of N.Y. v. FPC, 295 F. 2d 140 (D.C. Cir. 1961).

[5] The relevant language is as follows: "Any person * * * aggrieved by an order issued by the Commission in a proceeding under this act to which such person * * * is a party may apply for a rehearing within thirty days after issuance of such order. * * * Upon such application the Commission shall have power to grant or deny rehearing or to abrogate or modify its order without further hearing."

[1] Fourth Revised Sheet No. 4 to Original Tariff Volume No. 1.

V 42 170 SEP 1 77 V UMI

Public notice of Western's filing was issued on August 5, 1977, providing for protests or petitions to intervene to be filed on or before August 19, 1977. On April 18, 1977, Colorado Interstate Gas Company (CIG) filed a petition to intervene. The Commission finds that the public interest may be served by CIG's participation in this proceeding.

Based upon a review of Western's filing the Commission finds that the proposed higher rates have not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, or otherwise unlawful. Accordingly, the Commission shall accept Western's proposed rate increase for filing, suspend its use for one day or until September 2, 1977, when it shall be permitted to become effective, subject to refund, and shall set the matter for hearing.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the increased rates and charges proposed by Western, and that the same be accepted for filing and suspended as provided by this order.

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4, 5, 8, and 15 thereof, and the Commission's rules and regulations, a public hearing shall be held concerning the lawfulness of the increased rates proposed by Western.

(B) Pending hearing and decision, Western's proposed rate increase is accepted for filing and suspended for one day, or until September 2, 1977, when it shall be permitted to become effective, subject to refund, upon motion filed by Western in accordance with the provisions of the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Waiver of section 154.63 of the Commission's regulations is granted as to statements A through K and O. As to statement P, the request for waiver is referred to the Presiding Administrative Law Judge.

(D) The Commission staff shall prepare and serve top sheets on all parties on or before October 11, 1977.

(E) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for that purpose (18 CFR 3.5(d)), shall convene a settlement conference in this proceeding to be held within 10 days after the service of top sheets by the staff, in a hearing or conference room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426. The Presiding Administrative Law Judge is authorized to establish such further procedural dates as may be necessary and to rule upon all motions (except motions to consolidate, sever, or dismiss), as provided for in the rules of practice and procedure.

(F) CIG is hereby permitted to intervene in this proceeding, subject to the rules and regulations of the Commission; provided, however, that participation of such intervenor shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests as specifically set forth in the petition to intervene; and provided, further, that the admission of such intervenor shall not be considered as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved because of any order or orders of the Commission entered in this proceeding.

(G) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

Proposed PGA Rate Adjustment

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 8, 1977, Chattanooga Gas Company, a Division of Jupiter Industries, Inc., (Chattanooga) tendered for filing proposed changes to Original Volume No. 1 of its FPC Gas Tariff to be effective on August 1, 1977 consisting of the following revised tariff sheets:

Twenty Fourth Revised Sheet No. 6

Chattanooga states that the sole purpose of this Revised Tariff Sheet is to adjust Chattanooga's LNG rates pursuant to the PGA provision in Section 5 of the General Terms and Conditions of its FPC Tariff to reflect increased purchased gas costs resulting from a PGA rate increase and a general rate increase by Southern Natural Gas Company, (Southern) in Docket Nos. RP73-64 and RP77-31.

Chattanooga requests that its Twenty Fourth Revised Sheet No. 6 be made effective on August 1, 1977, the proposed effective date of the underlying increases by Southern.

Chattanooga states that copies of the filing have been mailed to all of its jurisdictional customers.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before September 2, 1977. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. [Docket No. G-18545]

CITIES SERVICE GAS CO.

Petition to Amend

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 15, 1977, Cities Service Gas Company (Petitioner), P.O. Box 25128, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73125, filed in Docket No. G-18545 a petition to amend the Commission's order of March 7, 1960 (23 FPC 481), issued in the instant docket pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act so as to permit and approve the abandonment of the sale of certain volumes of gas to Western Gas Interstate Company (Western) and to authorize additional exchange arrangements, all as more fully set forth in the petition to amend on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

It is indicated that pursuant to the Commission's order issued March 7, 1960, in the instant docket, Petitioner was authorized to make the sale of volumes of gas to and to exchange volumes of gas with Western pursuant to a gas purchase contract, dated November 4, 1949, as modified by an exchange agreement dated July 11, 1951, and an amendment dated October 24, 1955, between Applicant and Southwestern Public Service Company (Western's predecessor-in-interest). These agreements were filed as Petitioner's Rate Schedule X-14 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2, it is said.

Petitioner states that it purchases volumes of gas from Skelly Oil Company's, now Getty Oil Company (Getty), Jones A No. 1 and B No. 1 wells located in Texas County, Oklahoma, and that pursuant to the terms of the gas purchase contract dated November 14, 1949, this gas is resold to Western at rates based on the price paid by Petitioner to Getty.

It is indicated that pursuant to the terms of its contract with Western, Petitioner notified Western on March 18, 1977, that it was terminating this sale after May 22, 1977, but that it was willing to continue the sale on a month to month basis pending negotiation between Petitioner and Western regarding execution of a new agreement for the exchange of the gas covered by the terminated agreement.

Petitioner states that it and Western purchase gas from the Fanning No. 1 Well located in Texas County, Oklahoma, and Western's share of this gas is delivered to Petitioner at the wellhead. Pursuant to the July 11, 1951, amendment equivalent volumes were to be redelivered to Western at a point in Texas County, Oklahoma, it is indicated.

It is stated that since 1959, at the request of Western or its predecessors-in-interest, redelivery of volumes by Petitioner has been on an intermittent basis and at January 1, 1977, Petitioner owed Western approximately 141 million cubic feet of gas under the exchange agreement.

It is indicated that on January 9, 1977, due to emergency conditions on the systems of Western and its affiliated company, Southern Union Gas Company (Southern Union), Western and Petitioner entered into an emergency exchange to reduce the exchange imbalance and to supplement gas which Petitioner sells to Southern Union at an existing point of interconnection between Petitioner's and Western's pipeline (the Adams Delivery Point) located in Texas County, Oklahoma, and that such emergency exchange terminated on March 9, 1977.

Petitioner states that in order to correct the imbalance of gas owed to Western and to prevent an increase in the deficit exchange balance, Petitioner and Western have entered into a new exchange agreement, and that this new agreement supersedes all agreements and amendments thereto presently included in Petitioner's Rate Schedule X-14 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2. Pursuant to the terms of the new exchange agreement, the volumes of gas previously sold to Western would be delivered to Western as a part of the exchange and the deficit exchange balance of gas owed by Petitioner to Western is transferred to and would be redelivered to Western in accordance with its terms.

It is indicated that pursuant to the new agreement, volumes of gas received by Petitioner for Western's account from the Fanning No. 1 Well (Fanning Exchange Point), and volumes of gas delivered to Petitioner for Western's account at an existing point of interconnection near the Northeast corner of Section 36, Township 4 North, Range 14 ECM, Texas County, Oklahoma (North Guymon Exchange Point), would be exchanged for volumes of gas delivered to Western by Petitioner at the following delivery points in Texas County, Oklahoma.

(1) The Adams delivery point, located in the Northwest Quarter (NW/4) of Section 30, Township 5 North, Range 19 ECM. (This is the delivery point of the present delivery to Western for the account of Southern Union).

(2) The West Guymon exchange point, located in the Northeast Quarter (NE/4) of Section 4, Township 2 North, Range 14 ECM. (Deliveries at this point will be made intermittently at Western's request).

(3) The Jones A and B exchange point, located in Section 3, Township 1 North, Range 12 ECM. (This is the delivery point of the sale to Western, which is being terminated.)

Petitioner states that subject to the ability of it to deliver and Western's ability to receive such gas, Petitioner would deliver volumes of gas in addition to the exchange volumes as may be requested by Western until the balance owing to Western is reduced to an amount equal to the volumes Petitioner receives each month from Western; however, the total deliveries by Petitioner to Western would not exceed 1,500 Mcf per day.

No new facilities are necessary to effectuate these arrangements as all of the proposed receipts and deliveries of gas would be made through existing interconnections, it is said.

Petitioner asserts that these proposals would correct the deficit balance of volumes of gas owed to Western by Petitioner, prevent an increase in the deficit balance, and would provide needed volume of gas to customers of Western and its affiliate, Southern Union, in the rural areas of Texas and Beaver Counties, Oklahoma.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before September 13, 1977 file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

GREAT LAKES GAS TRANSMISSION

Proposed Changes in PGA Gas Tariff Under Purchased Gas Adjustment Clause Provisions

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company (Great Lakes), on August 5, 1977, tendered for filing Twenty-Fourth Revised Sheet No. 57, to its FPC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, proposed to be effective September 21, 1977.

Great Lakes states that its sole supplier of natural gas, Trans-Canada Pipe-Lines Limited (TransCanada), will increase the rates for gas purchased by Great Lakes effective September 21, 1977. The increase is the result of the National Energy Board of Canada's order issued July 7, 1977 amending TransCanada's licenses for the export of natural gas to Great Lakes by establishing that the price to be received for the gas to be exported shall be at a rate of $2.16 in United States currency per Mcf of one thousand British Thermal Units per cubic foot equivalent gas at a temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit and a pressure of 14.73 pounds per square inch absolute adjusted on the ratio of the actual BTU content per cubic foot to 1,000 BTU per cubic foot.

Great Lakes also states that copies of this filing have been served upon its customers and the Public Service Commissions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and

[Docket No. CP70-22]

MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Petition To Amend

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 15, 1977, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company (Petitioner), One Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226, filed in Docket No. CP70-22 a petition to amend the Commission's order of April 30, 1970, as amended, issued in the instant docket (43 FPC 635), pursuant to Section 3 of the Natural Gas Act so as to authorize the continued importation of natural gas from Canada at an increase import rate of $2.16 (United States) per Mcf effective September 21, 1977, all as more fully set forth in the petition to amend on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Petitioner indicates that pursuant to the Commission's Opinion No. 577 and order issued April 30, 197, it was authorized to import 50,000 Mcf of Canadian natural gas per day from TransCanada Pipe-Lines Limited (TransCanada) at a point on the International Boundary near Emerson, Manitoba.

Petitioner states that pursuant to the Commission's order of September 9, 1976, in the instant docket, it is presently authorized to import gas from Canada at the rate of $1.94 (Canadian) per Mcf. It is stated that on June 23, 1977, the Canadian Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources announced that the price of Canadian natural gas exported to the United States would be further increased from the present $1.94 (Canadian) per Mcf to $2.16 (United States) per Mcf effective September 23, 1977, and that the National Energy Board of Canada's Order No. AO-7-GL-38 affirmed that increase to be effective September 21, 1977.

Petitioner states that the gas it imports from Canada forms a vital portion of its gas supply. In addition to the 50,000 Mcf per day of Canadian gas that it purchases from TransCanada, Petitioner also purchases 271,000 Mcf per day of Canadian gas from Midwestern Gas Transmission Company and 13,000 Mcf per day from Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company, and that in total this represents deliveries of 334,000 Mcf per day, it is said.

Petitioner indicates that it is imperative that this petition for amended import authorization be filed at this time to afford the Commission the maximum possible time before September 21, 1977, to act thereon.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before September 13, 1977 file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Proposed Changes in FPC Gas Tariff

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that National Fuel Gas Supply Corporation ("National") on August 4, 1977, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1. The proposed change does not reflect any changes in revenues but only proposes to change the PGA section of National's tariff to provide for tracking future changes in the cost of coke oven gas purchased from Donner-Hanna Coke Corporation.

National states that copies of this filing were served upon the company's jurisdictional customers and the regulatory commissions of the States of New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filings should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). [Docket No. CP77-564]

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Application

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 12, 1977, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Applicant), 122 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago Illinois 60603, filed in Docket No. CP77-564 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation of certain additional volumes of shrinkage gas to Dorchester Gas Producing Company's (Dorchester) Hooker Gasoline Plant in Texas County, Oklahoma, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

It is stated that Applicant purchases gas from Dorchester in the Hugoton Field, Texas County, Oklahoma, pursuant to a gas purchase contract dated December 1, 1946, as amended, and that by an amendment dated May 6, 1976, Applicant and Dorchester agreed to amend their contract as follows:

1. To limit Dorchester's removal of hydrocarbons from the gas stream to 25 percent of the Btu's in the gas stream delivered to Dorchester's gasoline plant.

2. To replace the existing price provision, that provides for a 10 percent reduction in price in the event the Btu's in the stream delivered to Applicant fall below 960 Btu's per cubic foot and a 20 percent reduction if the Btu's are delivered at 950 Btu's, with a proportional adjustment in price if the Btu's per cubic feet are more or less than 965 Btu's per cubic foot.

Applicant states that under the current contract, Dorchester must deliver gas at a minimum Btu level of 950 Btu's per cubic foot, and that Dorchester currently delivers gas at an approximate Btu level of 960. If Dorchester were to increase the efficiency of its plant, it could remove approximately 33 percent of the Btu's in the gas stream and still meet the current minimum Btu delivery obligation, it is indicated. It is stated that the amendment sets a limit on processing that would limit shrinkage to 25 percent of the Btu's entering the gasoline plant, and Applicant would receive more Btu's under the amendment than it would if Dorchester exercised its fully processing license under the current contract.

Applicant states that the amendment effectively reduces the downward penalty for delivery of gas at less than 960 Btu's per cubic feet, but Applicant could not benefit from the present price reduction provision as Dorchester would receive less than the minimum price.

Applicant further states that the amendment includes a specifc waiver by Dorchester of its right to receive the minimum price, thus allowing Applicant and its customers to receive the benefit of any downward adjustment, and that in return for Dorchester's waiver, Applicant has agreed to delete the percentage penalties discussed above.

It is stated that the gas delivered under the December 1, 1946 contract is part of approximately 78,000 Mcf per day purchased by Applicant from Dorchester and other sellers in the Hugoton Field, and that the gas purchased by Applicant is transported from the Field by Dorchester to Applicant's Compressor Station No. 101. Applicant states that after receipt at Station 101, Applicant compresses the gas and then transports it approximately 1/5 of a mile through Applicant's 26-inch Hooker lateral to a gasoline plant owned and operated by Dorchester, and Dorchester processes and dehydrates the gas and redelivers the stream to Applicant at the outlet of the gasoline plant.

It is indicated that on June 21, 1977, the Commission issued its "order granting Application to Amend certificate and Making Determination on Petition for Declaratory Order" (June 21 Order) in Docket No. G-4907 and Docket No. CP76-431, which order permitted Dorchester to deliver lower Btu gas to Applicant than provided for in the December 1, 1946 base contract, to the extent necessary to effectuate the Amendment.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before Septem-

All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

OKLAHOMA NATURAL GAS CO.

Application

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 11, 1977, Oklahoma Natural Gas Company (Applicant), 624 South Boston Avenue, Tulsa, Okla. 74119, filed in Docket No. CP77-563 an application pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale of up to 100,000 Mcf of natural gas per day to Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural) for a one-year period, commencing on the day of first delivery, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant seeks authorization to sell to Natural, pursuant to a gas service agreement dated August 3, 1977, between the two parties, such quantities of gas as Applicant would have available at the outlet of meter stations which are located in Woodward and Custer Counties, Okla., from time to time, over a one-year period. Applicant states that such deliveries would not interfer with its service to its regular customers and deliveries would be suspended or not made if such service is threatened.

It is stated that Natural has advised Applicant that additional volumes of gas are needed on Natural's system to help maintain current levels of deliveries to its existing customers and thereby avoid deeper and unanticipated curtailment.

Applicant indicates that over the one-year period of this contract, it may have volumes of gas which it may be able to make available to Natural without the need to construct or operate any new facilities. The natural gas would be available from Applicant's system supply and would be deliverable at the aforesaid points of interconnection between the two systems. Applicant indicates that it would charge Natural for such gas $2.05 per million Btu's for a term of one year from the date of first delivery.

Applicant states that inasmuch as its gas supply basically is obtained from producers whose sales are not subject to the Commission's regulation, it is necessary that there be no assertion of jurisdiction by the Commission over said producers during the term of this sale. Applicant further states that it is essential to the operation of its system that it be assured that (1) its facilities continue to be exempt from the Commission's regulation; (2) Applicant be relieved from any account and reporting requirements to the Commission other than reporting the volumes sold and the price paid for gas pursuant to the requested certification; (3) the sale be terminated without further action by Applicant and without further order by the Commission one year from the date of first delivery; and (4) any independent producer or other supplier of gas to Applicant remain exempt from the Commission's regulation.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before September 15, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. CP70-7, (Phase II)]

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Petition To Amend

AUGUST 23, 1977.

Take notice that on August 12, 1977, Southern Natural Gas Company (Petitioner), P.O. Box 2563, Birmingham, Ala. 35202, filed in Docket No. CP70-7 (Phase II) a petition to amend the Commission's order of October 29, 1969 (42 FPC 944), as amended, issued in the instant docket pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act so as to authorize an increase in the contract demand sales of natural gas to Alabama Gas Corporation (Alagasco) to 418,527 Mcf of natural gas per day, the delivery of such additional gas at the delivery point formerly used to serve the Town of Rainbow City, Ala., and the abandonment of the sales of natural gas to the Town of Rainbow City, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

It is indicated that pursuant to the Commission's order of October 29, 1969, issued in the instant docket Petitioner was authorized, inter alia, to sell and deliver to Alagasco contract demands aggregating 408,725 Mcf, and that by an amending order issued October 20, 1971, Petitioner was authorized to sell and deliver to Alagasco contract demands aggregating 408,725 Mcf. It is further indicated that in 1974, Alagasco acquired four municipal distribution systems previously served by Petitioner, and that by an amending order issued July 16, 1974, the Commission approved an increase in the aggregate of Alagasco's contract demand to 414,965 Mcf. In 1976, Alagasco again acquired a municipal distribution system previously served by Petitioner, and on July 21, 1976, the Commission authorized an increase in Alagasco's aggregate contract demands to 417,347, it is indicated.

By the aforemention October 29, 1969, order issued in this proceeding, Petitioner was authorized to sell and deliver to The Water Works, Gas and Sewer Board of the Town of Rainbow City, Ala., a maximum delivery obligation of 1,180 Mcf.

Petitioner states that on August 3, 1977, Alagasco petitioned the Alabama Public Service Commission (APSC) for permission to purchase the Rainbow City natural gas system and to accept the assignment of Petitioner's service agreement with The Water Works, Gas and Sewer Board of the Town of Rainbow City.

Consequently Alagasco has requested that Petitioner amend the current service agreement between Petitioner and Alagasco to include therein the proposed changes. Petitioner asserts that the proposed new delivery point with 1,180 Mcf of contract demand would be offset by the elimination of service to the Town of Rainbow City.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before September 15, 1977 file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

SACRAMENTO MUNICIPAL UTILITY DISTRICT

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 12 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-54, issued to Sacramento Municipal Utility District (the licensee), which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station (the facility) located in Sacramento County, California. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment makes minor changes in Sections 3.3, 4.1 and 5.41 of Appendix A, removes pages from Section 4.10 of Appendix A that are already in Appendix B, corrects a typographical error in Section 2.5.c of Appendix B, and clarifies Section 2.6.2.E of Appendix B.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) an environmental impact statement, negative declaration or environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated June 21, 1977, (2) Amendment No. 12 to License No. DPR-54, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

Proposed Renewal of Facility Operating License

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering renewal of Facility Operating License No. R-66 issued to University of Virginia (the licensee), for operation of the University of Virginia Reactor (UVAR) located on the campus of the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va.

The renewal would extend the expiration date of Facility Operating License No. R-66 to September 13, 1997, in accordance with the Licensee's application for renewal, dated March 9, 1977.

Prior to renewal of Facility Operating License No. R-66, the Commission will have made the findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's rules and regulations.

By October 3, 1977, the licensee may file a request for a hearing and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may file a request for a hearing in the form of a petition for leave to intervene with respect to the proposed renewal of the subject facility operating license. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed under oath or affirmation in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.714 of 10 CFR Part 2 of the Commission's regulations. A petition for leave to intervene must set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding, and the petitioners' contentions with respect to the proposed licensing action. Such petitions must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this FEDERAL REGISTER Notice and Section 2.714, and must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, by the above date. A copy of the petition and/or request for a hearing should be sent to the Executive Legal Director, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555.

A petition for leave to intervene must be accomplished by a supporting affidavit which identifies the specific aspect or aspects of the proceeding as to which intervention is desired and specifies with particularity the facts on which the petitioner relies as to both his interest and his contentions with regard to each aspect on which intervention is requested. Petitions stating contentions relating only to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction will be denied.

All petitions will be acted upon by the Commission or licensing board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel. Timely petitions will be considered to determine whether a hearing should be noticed or another appropriate order issued regarding the disposition of the petitions.

In the event a hearing is held and a person is permitted to intervene, he becomes a party to the proceeding and has a right to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing. For example, he may present evidence and examine and cross-examine witnesses.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated March 9, 1977, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS SUBCOMMITTEE ON THE PILGRIM NUCLEAR STATION, UNIT NO. 2

Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of sections 29 and 182b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232b.), the ACRS Subcommittee on the Pilgrim Nuclear Station, Unit No. 2, will hold a meeting on September 22, 1977, at the Ramada Inn, 225 McClellan Highway, Boston, Mass. 02128. The purpose of this meeting is to continue the review of the application of the Boston Edison Company for a permit to construct Unit No. 2 of the Pilgrim Nuclear Station.

The agenda for subject meeting shall be as follows: Thursday, September 22, 1977, 8:30 a.m. until conclusion of business.

The subcommittee may meet in open Executive Session, with any of its consultants who may be present, to explore and exchange their preliminary opinions regarding matters which should be considered during the meeting and to formulate a report and recommendations to the full Committee.

At the conclusion of the Executive Session, the subcommittee will meet in an open session ot hear presentations by and hold discussions with representatives of the NRC Staff, the Boston Edison Company, and their consultants, pertinent to this review.

At the conclusion of these sessions, the subcommittee may caucus in an open session to determine whether the matters identified in the Executive Sessions have been adequately covered and whether the project is ready for review by the full committee.

In addition, it may be necessary for the subcommittee to hold one or more closed sessions for the purpose of exploring matters involving proprietary information. I have determined, in accordance with subsection 10(d) of Public Law 92-463, that, should such sessions be required, it is necessary to close these sessions to protect proprietary information (5 U.S.C. 552 b (c) (4)).

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule. The Chairman of the Subcommittee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incompleted session from one day to the next.

The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards is an independent group established by Congress to review and report on each application for a construction permit and on each application for an operating license for a reactor facility and on certain other nuclear safety matters. The committee's reports become a part of the public record. Although ACRS meetings are ordinarily open to the public and provide for oral or written statements to be considered as a part of the committee's information gathering procedure concerning the health and safety of the public, they are not adjudicatory type hearings such as are conducted by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Atomic Safety and Licensing Board as part of the Commission's licensing process. ACRS meetings do not normally treat matters pertaining to environmental impacts outside the radiological safety area.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda may do so by providing 15 copies to the Subcommittee at the beginning of the meeting. Comments should be limited to safety related areas within the committee's purview.

Persons desiring to mail written comments may do so by sending a copy thereof in time for consideration at this meeting. Comments postmarked no later than September 15, 1977, addressed to Mr. Gary R. Quittschreiber, ACRS, NRC, Washington, D.C. 20555, will normally be received in time to be considered at this meeting.

Background information concerning items to be considered at this meeting can be found in documents on file and available for public inspection at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Wash., D.C. 20555, and at the Plymouth Public Library, North Street, Plymouth, Mass. 02360.

(b) Persons desiring to make an oral statement at the meeting should make a request to do so prior to the meeting, identifying the topics and desired presentation time so that appropriate arrangements can be made. The subcommittee will receive oral statements on topics relevant to its purview at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for the opportunity to present oral statements and the time allotted therefor can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on September 21, 1977 to the Office of the Executive Director of the committee (telephone 202-634-1374, Attn: Mr. Gary R. Quittschreiber) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. e.d.t.

(d) Questions may be asked only by members of the subcommittee, its consultants, and Staff.

(e) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will be allowed while the meeting is in session at the discretion of the Chairman to a degree that is not disruptive to the meeting. When use of such equipment is permitted, appropriate measures will be taken to protect proprietary or privileged information which may be in documents, folders, etc., being used during the meeting. Recordings will be permitted only during those sessions of the meeting when a transcript is being kept.

(f) Persons with agreements or orders permitting access to proprietary information may attend portions of ACRS meetings where this material is being discussed upon confirmation that such agreements are effective and relate to the material being discussed.

The Executive Director of the ACRS should be informed of such an agreement at least three working days prior to the meeting so that the agreement can be confirmed and a determination can be made regardingthe applicability of the agreement to the material that will be discussed during the meeting. Minimum information provided should include information regarding the date of the agreement, the scope of material included in the agreement, the project or projects involved, and the names and titles of the persons signing the agreement. Additional information may be requested to identify the specific agreement involved. A copy of the executed agreement should be provided to Mr. Gary R. Quittschreiber, of the ACRS office, prior to the beginning of the meeting.

(g) A copy of the transcript of the open portion(s) of the meeting where factual information is presented and a copy of the minutes of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after September 29 and December 22, 1977, respectively, at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20555 and at the Plymouth Public Library, North Street, Plymouth, Mass. 02360.

Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: August 29, 1977.

Secretary of the Commission.

STATE WORKSHOPS FOR REVIEW OF NRC HIGH LEVEL WASTE

Repository Site Suitability Criteria

The disposal of high-level nuclear wastes is one of the most important issues now facing Federal energy agencies. The U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) [1] has been authorized by the Congress to develop repositories for high-level wastes and its schedule calls for an operational facility by 1985. The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) has licensing and regulatory authority over ERDA repositories, including authority to set siting criteria which ERDA repositories would be required to meet prior to NRC licensing.

NRC plans to develop criteria on which to judge whether a proposed site for a geologic repository is suitable, i.e., is capable of containing radionuclides for periods of time adequate to protect the public health and safety and the environment. Environment in this regard can be taken in a broad sense as including not only impact on biota, but socio-economic impacts as well. The initial technical analysis has been performed and preliminary criteria have been developed. NRC is now analyzing and assessing the impacts of those criteria.

To aid in its analysis and assessment, NRC is planning three independent reviews of the site suitability criteria development effort as early as possible: a peer review by experts outside of NRC; a review by the National Academy of Sciences; and a review by State officials. All three reviews are intended to assure (1) that no important relevant factor has been missed in the analysis; (2) that the analysis is sound; and (3) that the criteria are both understandable and capable of application.

For State review, NRC is holding three regional workshops (Eastern, Central, and Western United States) to discuss the preliminary site suitability criteria. The governors and legislative leadership of each State have been invited to send representatives to participate in one of the three workshops. Information developed at the workshops will be considered in the criteria development effort prior to completing the draft environmental impact statement.

The two-day workshops have been scheduled for the last two weeks in September. They will provide, prior to formal publication of the criteria, a means of including State officials' views in the siting criteria development process at an early stage.

The report resulting from each workshop will be part of the documentation used in NRC's deliberations in preparing draft site suitability criteria. These draft criteria, fully supported by a draft environmental impact statement, will be published for comment in early 1978.

The workshop locations and dates are as follows:

Western: September 19 to 21, Stouffer's Denver Inn, 3203 Quebec Street, Denver, Colo.

Central: September 25 to 27, Fontainebleau Motor Hotel, 4040 Tulane Avenue, New Orleans, La.

Eastern: September 28 to 30, Holiday Inn Center City, 18th and Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

These workshops are being held to obtain the views of, and to provide the opportunity for discussion among, State officials; however, all sessions will be open to public attendance and observation. Reports of the workshops will be filed in the NRC Public Document Room.

Persons who wish further information about these workshops or who wish to observe should write Dr. Herbert Kress, Workshop Director, Potomac Research, Incorporated (PRI), 7655 Old Springhouse Road, Westgate Research Park, McLean, Va. 22101, or call (703) 790-5363, extension 394, giving name, address and phone number.

Copies of "Workshop Material for State Review of Site Suitability Criteria for High Level Waste Repositories" (NUREG-0326) will be available from the National Technical Information Services, Springfield, Va. 22161, on or about September 19, 1977 at current prices. Single copies are available to the extent of supply from the Office of State Programs, Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

[N-AR 77-35]

SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS AND RESPONSES

Availability and Receipt

Highway Safety Recommendations H-77-9 and H-77-10.—A Federal Government effort to develop a uniform system of rail-highway grade crossing warning devices which would better attract the attention of motorists to approaching trains is urged by the National Transportation Safety Board. The recommendations resulted from investigation of the August 8, 1976, grade crossing collision at Stratton, Nebr. A minister and eight of the 16 children he was driving to Sunday School in a church-owned bus were killed at Stratton's Beaver Avenue crossing when struck by a Burlington Northern freight train.

Investigation revealed that the train, travelling at 57 mph, struck the rear of the bus when it approached and entered the crossing without slowing or stopping. The impact tore the body of the bus from its chassis and ejected all but one of its occupants. All eight of the survivors were injured.

The driver of the bus was familiar with the crossing which was protected by a crossbuck, a wigwag signal, and a bell. The warning devices were activated as the train approached the crossing. A witness stated that the wigwag signal was working and that the bell was ringing. He also heard the train horn and saw the two fixed headlights illuminated on the approaching locomotive.

The circumstances of this accident clearly indicate that in spite of the operations of the wigwag signal and the train horn, and the illumination of the locomotive headlights, the busdriver was not alerted to the approching train. It also demonstrates that this crossing poses a serious hazard to the inattentive driver. Accident data show that a majority of those involved in grade crossing accidents are familiar with the crossing and, in spite of the driver's perception of a potential hazard at the crossing, a habit of inattention is formed after repeated crossings without the presence of a train. Something more is needed to attract the attention of these motorists to the hazard.

Accordingly, the Safety Board on August 23 recommended that the Federal Highway Administration and the Federal Railroad Administration:

Combine efforts to develop and implement a uniform system of warnings to attract the attention of motor vehicle drivers approaching railroad/highway grade crossings. (Class III, Longer Term Followup) (H-77-9).

In a separate letter forwarded August 23 to the Mayor of Stratton, Nebraska, the Safety Board recommended that the city of Stratton:

In cooperation with the Burlington Northern Railroad, Inc., install an improved railroad/highway grade crossing protection system on Beaver Avenue in accordance with the Recommended Practices of the Association of American Railroads (1974). (Class II, Priority Followup) (H-77-10).

The Safety Board advised the Mayor of Stratton that because of the important role of this crossing in the local transportation system, the volume of traffic using the crossing, and the obsolescence of the current wigwag system, the crossing should be protected by an improved, attention-getting warning system. The Board suggested that one such system that might be considered is the traffic-activated highway traffic light signal. Motorists are familiar with the signal, observed compliance by motorists is excellent, violations are enforceable, and they would be no more expensive to install, operate, and maintain than flashing lights. The device would display a red signal only when a train was approaching, and it could be activated in the same manner as current electrically operated control devices.

A formal report on the investigation of the Stratton accident will be made available by the Safety Board within the next few weeks.

Pipeline Safety Recommendations P-77-18 through 20.—Three Class I, urgent followup, recommendations were issued by the Safety Board on August 22 to the Cherokee Water and Gas Board of Cherokee, Ala. The recommendations were made as a result of the ongoing investigation into the low-order gas explosion, followed by fire, which destroyed a house in Cherokee on July 30, 1977. One person in the house suffered third-degree burns, was hospitalized, and died on August 3.

Investigation of the accident indicates that natural gas, leaking from a broken 2¼-inch cast-iron gas main, migrated into the house via a recently backfilled sewer trench and was ignited by a cigarette lighter. The sewer laterals were perpendicular to and below the gas main. Earth settlement of the sewer backfill, aided by recent heavy rainfall, caused the failure of the cast-iron main, which was owned by the Cherokee Water and Gas Board (Cherokee).

The Safety Board finds that Cherokee previously has experienced cast-iron gas main failures due to earth settlement over its recently installed sewers; the potential for additional failures may exist where segments of its cast-iron gas mains have been disturbed by sewer construction and have been left unsupported.

Federal regulations (49 CFR 192.755) regarding protection of cast-iron pipelines require that when an operator has knowledge that the support for a segment of a buried cast-iron pipeline is disturbed by earth movement, that segment of the pipeline must be protected, as necessary, against damage. As soon as feasible, permanent protection must be provided for the disturbed segment from damage that might result from external loads.

Additionally, 49 CFR 192.721—Distribution systems; patrolling, states:

(a) The frequency of patrolling mains must be determined by the severity of the conditions which could cause failure or leakage, and the consequent hazards to public safety.

(b) Mains in places or on structures where anticipated physical movement or external loading could cause failure or leakage must be patrolled at intervals not exceeding 3 months.

Apparently, Cherokee did not take these protective actions when it first became aware of the earth settlement problem. Accordingly, the Safety Board now recommends that Cherokee:

Require, during the remainder of its sewer construction program and all future construction programs, the support and protection of its cast-iron gas mains in accordance with Federal regulations and in a manner acceptable to the Alabama Public Service Commission. (P-77-18).

Examine, support, and protect where necessary, in accordance with Federal regulations and in a manner acceptable to the Alabama Public Service Commission, those segments of cast-iron gas mains that have been disturbed already by this sewer construction project. (P-77-19).

Immediately begin to patrol its gas distribution system as frequently as necessary while the potential exists for gas main failure due to settlement. (P-77-20).

RESPONSES TO SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS

Aviation: A-77-26 through 29.—Federal Aviation Administration letter of August 10 is in response to recommendations issued during the Safety Board's investigation of the Texas International Airlines accident at Denver, Colo., last November 16. (See 42 FR 28194, June 2, 1977.) The recommendations concern: The emergency evacuation training of all DC-9 operators, specifically with regard to operation of the tail cone exit (A-77-26); the dissemination of safety information, developed as a result of accident experience, to principal air carrier inspectors and operators of similar equipment and assurance of their compliance with related directives (A-77-27); issuance of an Air Carrier Operations Bulletin clarifying the designation of the DC-9 tail cone exit as a required exit and requiring that passengers are informed of the availability and operation of the tail cone exit in an emergency (A-77-28); and issuance of an Airworthiness Directive to require that an emergency light source be located close to the DC-9 tail cone release handle, or that the handle be self-illuminating (A-77-29).

In answer, FAA reports that the flight attendant training program has been changed to require hands-on training on all emergency exits, including the tail cone exit. Also, the Texas International Airlines (TXI) recurrent training program was revised this year to include hands-on training in emergency lighting conditions in operating the tail cone exit. This is in addition to training in the mockup and observation of a Douglas Aircraft Co. film on operating the tail cone exit. All TXI flight attendants had completed the revised recurrent training by May 1977, FAA reported.

ACOB 8-7-46, Crewmember Emergency Training, provides guidance to FAA field personnel as specified in 14 CFR 121.417(c)(2) and (4), according to FAA. Inspections of air carrier flight attendant training programs were conducted last January and all were found in compliance with 14 CFR 121.417.

FAA reports that Notice of Proposed Rulemaking 77-12, published July 21 at 42 FR 37417 as a result of the FAA Operations Review Conference, specifies that initial and recurrent training for each crewmember will be required on each type of aircraft in which they serve. Actual operation of emergency exits, fire extinguishers, and oxygen bottles are included, as are instructions on the additional forces which will be encountered due to unusual cabin deck angle, high wings, and structural deformation.

FAA's procedure for timely issuance of instructions to field and regional offices relating to safety in air carrier operations includes immediate notification by telegram. Less urgent matters are handled by ACOB's. A followup system to provide regions and headquarters with feedback concerning industry actions is used when appropriate. FAA also requires a review of accident information in training programs.

On March 7 FAA regional offices were notified that the tail cone exit on all models of the Douglas DC-9 is a required exit. They were asked to ensure that assigned carriers include reference to the exit in oral briefings and on passenger information cards as required by 14 CFR 121.571. And with reference to A–77–29, FAA considers that the emergency lighting conditions in proximity to the release handle are adequate.

Marine: M–74–31.—U.S. Coast Guard letter of August 10 concerns the requirement that all operators of chemical tank vessels be required to maintain updated operating manuals aboard each ship showing the proper operation of the piping system for anticipated transfer operations. This recommendation was made by the Safety Board following investigation into the death of three ship's officers on board the SS William T. Steele at Guayanilla, Puerto Rico, November 18, 1972.

Coast Guard reports publication of a rulemaking proposal May 9 at 42 FR 23517. The Safety Board has concurred in this proposal; see 42 FR 28196, June 2, 1977.

Pipeline: P–77–9 through 12.—National Fuel Gas Distribution Corp. responded August 5 to Safety Board recommendations issued following investigation into the death of two gas company servicemen last March 26 in Buffalo, N.Y. The men were asphyxiated from carbon monoxide inhalation after they entered a manhole to check out a gas leak. (See 42 FR 33392, June 30, 1977.)

National Fuel Gas Distribution Corp. reports, re P–77–9, that as of August 5 all appropriate operating personnel have been retrained in the established procedures for working in vaults and manholes, and, re P–77–10 through 12, that the 12-inch diameter gas main involved in the Buffalo accident was shut down on the date of the accident and has remained out of service. Recently a decision was reached to permanently abandon this line.

SAFETY BOARD COMMENTS ON COAST GUARD'S PROPOSED RULEMAKING

On August 22 the Safety Board forwarded to the U.S. Coast Guard comments on NPRM CGD 77–063, Improved Emergency Steering Standards for Oil Tankers, which was published May 16 at 42 FR 24869. The Safety Board generally supports the proposal to amend 33 CFR 157, Rules for Tank Vessels Carrying Oil in Bulk.

Commenting on the proposed revision to 33 CFR 157.20, the Board believes that an alarm to indicate failure of the rudder to respond to input orders of the helm is an excellent concept to use in an effort to reduce the risks of accidents. The Board believes, however, that such an alarm with a designed 30-second delay feature could be detrimental to safety.

The Board believes that all new vessels and existing vessels that undergo major alterations should be required to have, in addition to the proposed rudder-error alarm, the indicator and alarm systems currently proposed in the revision to 46 CFR 111.93–11, subject to Board comments of August 4 regarding that rulemaking in docket CGD 74–125, published June 24 at 42 FR 40793; August 11, 1977, for Board comments.) In addition to its comments regarding that rulemaking, the Board also recommended on August 4 in a separate letter to the Coast Guard that both locations —the pilothouse and main machinery control station—be required. The Board believes that the pilot lights and the curcuit breaker alarms at both locations should be added to the requirements in section 33 CFR 157.20. The recommendations issued August 4 to the Coast Guard, Nos. M–77–8 through 14, resulted from investigation into the collision last February 24 of the SS Marine Floridian with the Benjamin Harrison Bridge near Hopewell, Va.

Commenting on proposed revisions to 33 CFR 157.20a, the Board believes that all new vessels should be required to be fitted with two steering gear control systems with the characteristics proposed in paragraph (b)(1) of this section. Those steering gear control systems and power systems should be designed so that one action of the control switch in the pilothouse will automatically activate either system and operate all the ancillary devices necessary to provide torque to the rudder stock, tiller, or quadrant, as proposed in Board comments regarding section 111.93–7(e)(2) of the proposal to revise 46 CFR Subchapter J (CGD 74–125).

The Board further believes that vessels of 1,600 or more gross tons in restricted or congested waters should be required to have two steering systems with pilothouse switching or be required to man the emergency steering station in order to regain rudder movement at the earliest possible time.

Regardless of which method is used to comply with section 157.20a—redundant control systems or manning—the Board believes that explicit instructions for changing steering controls should be posed in the pilothouse, steering gear spaces, and emergency steering stations.

The feasibility of requiring the operation of both units of an electrohydraulic steering system simultaneously should be determined, as the Board recommended in the Marine Floridian case, and if such operation is found to be safe, a requirement should be established to operate both in restricted or congested waters.

Finally, with reference to improved steering gear standards, the Safety Board's August 22 letter reiterates Marine Floridian recommendations M–77–10 and M–77–12.

[Release No. 20150, (70-6037)]

ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT CO.

Proposal To Enter Into Installment Sales Agreements in Connection With the Issuance of Pollution Control Revenue Bonds

AUGUST 26, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that Arkansas Power & Light Company, First National Building, Little Rock, Arkansas 72203, ("AP&L"), a wholly owned subsidiary company of Middle South Utilities, Inc., a registered holding company, has filed an application-declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") designating Sections 9(a), 10, and 12(d) of the Act and Rule 44 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

In order to comply with prescribed federal, state and local standards with respect to air and water quality and the disposal of sewage and solid waste it has been and will be necessary to construct certain facilities for pollution control purposes at two 700 MW nominally rated coal fired generating units known as White Bluff Unit Nos. 1 and 2 ("White Bluff Plant") presently under construction in Jefferson County, Arkansas. AP&L has sold a 35% undivided interest in the White Bluff Plant to Arkansas Electric Cooperative Corporation (HCAR No. 20076) and plans to sell a 5% undivided interest in the White Bluff plant to the City of Jonesboro, Arkansas by September 1, 1977. AP&L now proposes to dispose of, and to contract to acquire, its anticipated 60% undivided interest ("Pollution Facilities") in certain of the pollution control facilities at the White Bluff Plant and its 60% undivided interest ("Industrial Facilities") in certain machinery, equipment and other facilities at the White Bluff Plant.

In order to effect such transactions, AP&L proposes to enter into two separate installment sale agreements ("Agreements") with Jefferson County, Arkansas ("County"), which will provide for the acquisition, construction and installation of the Pollution Facilities and the Industrial Facilities on behalf of the County. The Agreement relating to the Pollution Facilities will contemplate the issuance by the County under a trust indenture between the County and a trustee of not to exceed $50,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, Series 1977 (Arkansas Power & Light Company Project) ("Pollution Bonds"). The net proceeds of the sale of Pollution Bonds will be used to defray the cost of construction of the Pollution Facilities. The Agreement relating to the Industrial Facilities will contemplate the issuance by the County under a trust indenture between the County and a trustee of $1,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Industrial Development Revenue Bonds, Series 1977 (Arkansas Power & Light Company Project) ("Industrial Bonds"), the net proceeds of which would be used to defray the cost of construction of the Industrial Facilities. The operative terms and provisions of the two Agreements and the Pollution Bonds and the Industrial Bonds (collectively "Bonds") and the respective indentures ("Indentures") under which they are to be issued will be substantially identical.

The Agreements will provide for the sale of the Facilities by the County to AP&L subject to a lien and security interest retained by the County and the payment by AP&L of the purchase price of the Facilities, together with interest thereon, in semi-annual installments over a term of years. In the Agreements AP&L will assent to the assignment and pledge to the trustees under the Indentures of the rights of the County in the Facilities and of the County's interest in, and of the moneys receivable by the County under, the Agreements, except for certain rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses.

The Agreements will further provide that the purchase price of the Facilities payable by AP&L will be such amount as shall be sufficient (together with other moneys held by the trustees under the Indentures and available therefor) to pay the principal of the Bonds as the same becomes due and payable. AP&L under the Agreements will also agree to pay interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price of the Facilities equal to the premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds. Under the Agreements AP&L will also be obligated to pay (i) the fees and charges of the trustee and any paying agent or agents under the Indentures, (ii) all expenses incurred by the County in connection with its rights and obligations under the Agreements, (iii) all expenses necessarily incurred by the County or the trustees under the Indentures in connection with the transfer or exchange of Bonds and (iv) all other payments which AP&L agrees to pay under the Agreements.

The Agreements will provide that AP&L may at any time prepay all or any portion of the unpaid balance of the purchase price of the Facilities, together with interest thereon, in whole or in part, such payment to be sufficient (together with other moneys held by the trustees under the Indentures and available therefor) to redeem on or after October 1, 1987, a specified principal amount of Bonds in the manner and to the extent provided in the Indentures, including any applicable premium, which will be 3% of the principal amount in the 11th year and which will reduce by ½ of 1% annually thereafter.

The Agreements will also provide that, upon occurrence of certain events relating to the operation of the White Bluff Plant or the Facilities, AP&L may at any time repay the entire unpaid balance of the purchase price of the Facilities together with interest thereon. It will also provide that in the event of certain rulings of the Internal Revenue Service or certain court determinations relating to the taxability of the interest on the Bonds, AP&L shall be obligated to prepay the entire unpaid balance of the purchase price of the Facilities, together with accrued interest. The payments by AP&L in such circumstances shall be sufficient (together with other moneys held by the trustees under the Indentures and available therefor) to pay the principal of all Bonds together with interest accrued or to accrue to the redemption date.

It is proposed that the Bonds will be issued as either serial bonds ("Serial Bonds") or term bonds ("Term Bonds"), or a combination thereof. The Term Bonds will mature not later than 30 years from the first day of the month in which they are initially issued and will be subject to a mandatory cash sinking fund. Serial Bonds, if any, will mature at various times prior to the maturity of the Term Bonds. The effect of the mandatory cash sinking fund of the Term Bonds together with the serial maturities of the Serial Bonds, if any, will be calculated to retire no less than 25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds prior to ultimate maturity on the first day of the month in which the Bonds are issued in the year 2007. The Indentures will provide for the application of such of the proceeds of the Bonds which, after completion of the Facilities, may remain unused for the redemption or purchase of the Bonds, at the direction of AP&L.

In order to provide security for the performance of AP&L's obligations under the Agreements, AP&L will grant to the County a lien on and security interest in ("County Lien") the Facilities. The County will assign the County Lien to the trustees pursuant to the Indentures.

The Agreements will provide that prior to the sale of the Facilities by the County to AP&L, AP&L will convey to the County such portions of the Facilities as have already been constructed or acquired by AP&L, subject to the lien of AP&L's Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of October 1, 1944, made by the Company to Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York and John W. Flaherty, as Trustees, as supplemented and amended.

It is contemplated that the Bonds will be sold by the County pursuant to arrangements with a group of underwriters represented by Salomon Brothers, Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Stephens Inc. In accordance with the laws of the State of Arkansas, the interest rate to be borne by the Bonds will be fixed by the County. AP&L will not be party to the underwritten arrangements; however, the Agreements provide that the terms of the Bonds and their sale by the County, shall be satisfactory to AP&L. AP&L understands that interest payable on the Bonds will be exempt from federal income taxes under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. AP&L has been advised that the annual interest rates on obligations, interest on which is so tax exempt, historically have been and can be expected at the time of issuance of the Bonds to be 1% to 2% lower than the rates of obligations of like tenor and comparable quality, interest on which is fully subject to federal income tax.

The fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated at $120,000,000, including legal fees of $62,000 and accounting fees of $13,000. AP&L has applied to the Arkansas Public Service Commission in connection with the proposed transactions. It is stated that no other state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than September 16, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the filing which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicants-declarants at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20 (a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices or orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

THE BRITISH PETROLEUM COMPANY LIMITED AND BP PIPELINES INC.

Application and Opportunity for Hearing

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that the British Petroleum Company Limited (an English corporation) ("BP") and BP Pipelines Inc. (a Delaware corporation) ("BP Pipelines") have filed an application under clause (ii) of Section 310(b)(1) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939 (the "Act") for a finding by the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") that the trusteeships of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York (the "Bank") under a certain indenture which is qualified under the Act and under a new indenture which is not qualified under the Act are not so likely to involve a material conflict of interest as to make it necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors to disqualify the Bank from acting as Trustee under such qualified indenture.

Section 310(b) of the Act provides, inter alia, that if a trustee under an indenture qualified under the Act has or shall acquire any conflicting interest (as defined in the section), it shall within ninety days after ascertaining that it has such conflicting interest either eliminate such conflicting interest or resign. Subsection (1) of this Section provides, with certain exceptions, that a trustee is deemed to have a conflicting interest if it is acting as trustee under another indenture of the same obligor. However, pursuant to clause (ii) of subsection (1), there may be excluded from the operation of this provision another indenture or indentures under which other securities of such obligor are outstanding, if the issuer shall have sustained the burden of proving on application to the Commission, and after opportunity for hearing thereon, that trusteeship under the indentures is not so likely to involve a material conflict of interest as to make it necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors to disqualify such trustee from acting as trustee under any of such indentures.

BP and BP Pipelines allege that:

1. The Bank, as Trustee, has entered into an Indenture dated as of December 1, 1974 (the "1974 Indenture") with Sohio/BP Trans Alaska Pipeline Finance Inc. (which name has since been changed to Sohio/BP Trans Alaska Pipeline Capital Inc.), a Deleware corporation ("Capital"), pursuant to which there has been issued $250,000,000 principal amount of Capital's 9¾% Debentures Due 1999 (the "Capital Debentures"). The 1974 Indenture was filed as Exhibit 4 to Registration Statement No. 2-52263 under the Securities Act of 1933, and such Indenture has been qualified under the Act.

2. Capital is owned by 32.2% by BP Pipelines, a wholly owned subsidiary of BP, and 67.8% by Sohio Pipe Line Company ("Sohio Pipe Line"), a wholly owned subsidiary of The Standard Oil Company ("Sohio"). Simultaneously with the issuance and sale of the Capital Debentures, Capital applied the proceeds thereof to the purchase of a note of BP Pipelines (the "BP Pipelines Note") in a principal amount equal to 32.2% of the Capital Debentures and a note of Sohio Pipe Line in a principal amount equal to 67.8% of the Capital Debentures. The BP Pipelines Note is guaranteed by BP and has been pledged to the Bank, as Trustee under the Capital Indenture, to secure payment of the Capital Debentures. The Capital Debentures are also secured by the pledge of rights under the completion agreement and financing agreement of BP referred to below. BP is obligated with respect to 32.2% in principal amount of the Capital Debentures pursuant to its unsecured guarantee of the BP Pipelines Note and it is also committed under a completion agreement and a financing agreement with BP Pipelines to advance funds sufficient to enable BP Pipelines to pay its share of the construction costs of its interest in the Trans Alaska Pipeline System and all of its financial obligations, including those which relate to the Capital Debentures, as they become due. Sohio is obligated with respect to the remaining 67.8% in principal amount of the Capital Debentures.

3. On July 14, 1977, the City of Valdez, Alaska (the "City") and the Bank, as Trustee, entered into an Indenture dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "1977 Indenture") pursuant to which the City issued $350,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its 6% Marine Terminal Revenue Bonds (Sohio Pipe Line Company and BP Pipelines Inc. Projects) Series A, Due July 1, 2007 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued to provide funds for the acquisition, construction and equipping of certain docks, wharves and facilities directly related thereto and real property and interests therein constituting a portion of the Trans Alaska Pipeline System Marine Terminal (the "TAPS Marine Terminal") being constructed in Port Valdez in the City. The City has acquired a leasehold interest in a portion of the undivided interest of BP Pipelines in the TAPS Marine Terminal (the "BP Pipelines Project") pursuant to a Lease, dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "BP Pipelines Lease"), between the City and BP Pipelines, and the City has acquired a leasehold interest in a portion of the undivided interest of Sohio Pipe Line in the TAPS Marine Terminal (the "Sohio Pipe Line Project") pursuant to a Lease, dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "Sohio Pipe Line Lease"), between the City and Sohio Pipe Line. The City has subleased the BP Pipelines Project to BP Pipelines pursuant to a Sublease Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "BP Pipelines Sublease"), between the City and BP Pipelines, and the City has subleased the Sohio Pipe Line Project to Sohio Pipe Line pursuant to a Sublease Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "Sohio Pipe Line Sublease"), between the City and Sohio Pipe Line. The Bonds will be payable from and secured by subrents derived under the BP Pipelines Sublease, which subrents will be sufficient to pay 32.2% of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, and by subrents derived under the Sohio Pipe Line Sublease, which subrents will be sufficient to pay 67.8% of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds. In addition, pursuant to a Guarantee Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1977 (the "BP Guarantee Agreement"), BP has guaranteed to the Trustee, for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds and of the coupons appertaining thereto, the payment of 32.2% of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, and pursuant to a Guarantee Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1977, Sohio has guaranteed to the Trustee, for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds and of the coupons appertaining thereto, the payment of 67.8% of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the bonds. The obligations of BP and Sohio under the Guarantee Agreements are several and not joint obligations of BP and Sohio, respectively. The Bonds have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 on the basis of the exemption provided by Section 3(a) (2) thereof, and the 1977 Indenture has not been qualified under the Act on the basis of the provisions of Section 304(b) thereof.

4. Under Section 8.09(c) (1) of the 1974 Indenture, the Bank shall not be deemed to have a conflicting interest by reason of acting as Trustee under the 1977 Indenture if BP and BP Pipelines shall have sustained the burden of proving, on application to the Commission and after opportunity for hearing thereon, that the trusteeships under the 1974 Indenture and under the 1977 Indenture are not so likely to involve a material conflict of interest as to make it necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors to disqualify the Bank from acting as Trustee under one of such Indentures.

5. No default has at any time existed under the 1974 Indenture or the 1977 Indenture. BP's obligations in respect of the Capital Debentures and the Bonds are wholly unsecured and rank equally pari passu. BP Pipelines' obligations in respect of the Capital Debentures and the Bonds are wholly unsecured and rank equally pari passu. The 1974 Indenture (including the BP Pipelines Note Purchase Agreement referred to therein) includes covenants of BP relating to limitations on liens and consolidation, merger and sale, all of which apply to the future. Except for the covenant relating to consolidation, merger and sale, there is no other comparable covenant of BP included in the 1977 Indenture (including the BP Guarantee Agreement). The 1974 Indenture (including the BP Pipelines Note Purchase Agreement referred to therein) includes covenants of BP Pipelines relating to limitations on liens, sale and leaseback transactions and consolidation, merger and sale, all of which apply to the future. Except for the covenant relating to consolidation, merger and sale, there are no comparable covenants of BP Pipelines included in the 1977 Indenture (including the BP Pipelines Lease and BP Pipelines Sublease).

6. Such differences as exist between the 1974 Indenture and the 1977 Indenture are not so likely to involve a material conflict of interest as to make it necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors to disqualify the Bank from acting as Trustee under either of the said Indentures.

BP and BP Pipelines have waived (a) notice of hearing, (b) hearing on the issues raised by said application and (c) all rights to specify procedures under Rule 8(b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice.

For a more detailed account of the matters of fact and law asserted, all persons are referred to said application, which is a public document on file in the offices of the Commission at the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than September 15, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of law or fact raised by such application which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. At any time after said date, the Commission may issue an order granting the application, upon such terms and conditions as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors, unless a hearing is ordered by the Commission.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporation Finance, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

FRIGITRONICS, INC.

Application To Withdraw From Listing and Registration

AUGUST 19, 1977.

In the matter of Frigitronics, Inc., common stock, $.10 par value.

The above named issuer has filed an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 12(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 12d2-2(d) promulgated thereunder, to withdraw the specified security from listing and registration on the American Stock Exchange, Inc.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing this security from listing and registration include the following:

This security has become listed and registered on the New York Stock Exchange, and the issuer states that it "does not see any particular advantage in the dual trading of its stock inasmuch as trading of such stock on the American Stock Exchange has dwindled to a nominal amount." The issuer also believes "that continued dual listing would no longer serve the purpose of stimulating competition among the market makers of such stock."

The American Stock Exchange, Inc. has not objected to this application.

Any interested person may, on or before September 16, 1977 submit by letter to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549, facts bearing upon whether the application has been made in accordance with the rules of the Exchange and what terms, if any, should be imposed by the Commission for the protection of investors. An order granting the application will be issued after the date mentioned above, on the basis of the application and any other information furnished to the Commission, unless it orders a hearing on the matter.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing this security from listing and registration include the following:

The issuer has experienced large economic losses and has concluded that it would be in its best interests to have trading concentrated with market makers in the Detroit metropolitan area rather than on the Boston Stock Exchange, Inc.

The Boston Stock Exchange, Inc. has not objected to this application, and the Company will be subject to the reporting requirements under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO. AND NATIONAL FUEL GAS SUPPLY CORP.

Proposal To Extend Maturity of a Note of a Subsidiary Held by a Holding Company

AUGUST 25, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that National Fuel Gas Company, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, New York 10020, ("National"), a registered holding company, and its wholly-owned subsidiary, National Fuel Gas Supply Corporation, 308 Seneca Street, Oil City, Pennsylvania 16301, ("Supply") have filed post-effective amendments to an application-declaration previously filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating Sections 6(a), 7, 9(a), 10, 12(b) and 12(f) of the Act and Rules 43 and 45 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the amended application-declaration, which is summarized below for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

On May 10, 1976 the Commission issued an order in this matter (HCAR No. 19521) authorizing, among other proposed transactions, National to issue and sell, through December 31, 1976, unsecured short-term notes to The Chase Manhattan Bank, N. A. ("Chase") in a maximum aggregate principal amount of $7,000,000 at any one time outstanding. These notes were to mature no later than twelve months from the date of issue. The proceeds of the sale of such notes have been loaned to certain of National's subsidiaries, including $4,900,000 to Supply, in exchange for notes of those subsidiaries. Pursuant to this authority National issued and sold its twelve month note to Chase on December 31, 1976 and loaned the proceeds to Supply in exchange for Supply's note maturing December 31, 1977. National prepaid its note to Chase on March 28, 1977; Supply's corresponding note to National has not been prepaid. Supply has used the $4,900,000 to develop existing wells to serve as gas storage facilities. Upon receipt of Federal Power Commission authorization for certain related transactions, these facilities will be transferred to National Gas Storage Corporation ("Storage"), a corporation presently being organized as a subsidiary of National, in exchange for the assumption of Supply's $4,900,000 note to National.

National has been informed that the above-mentioned Federal Power Commission authorization regarding Storage will be received before April 1978. Therefore, it is proopsed that the maturity of Supply's $4,900,000 note to National be extended from December 31, 1977 to December 31, 1978. The interest rate and other terms of the note will remain the same. If authorization is received from the Federal Power Commission prior to December 31, 1978 the promissory note will be prepaid upon the completion of the transactions involving Storage.

No special fees, commissions or expenses are anticipated in connection with the consummation of the proposed transaction. It is stated that no state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than September 19, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the filing which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicants-declarants at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices or orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO. AND NATIONAL FUEL GAS SUPPLY CORP.

Proposal To Convert Noninterest-Bearing Intrasystem Loan to an Interest-Bearing Loan

AUGUST 26, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that National Fuel Gas Company, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, New York 10020, ("National"), a registered holding company, and a wholly-owned subsidiary, National Fuel Gas Supply Corporation, 308 Seneca Street, Oil City, Pennsylvania 16301, ("Supply"), have filed post-effective amendments to an application-declaration previously filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating Sections 6(a), 7, 9(a), 10, 12(b) and 12(f) of the Act and Rules 43 and 45 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the amended application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

By orders dated November 17, 1976 (HCAR No. 19760), February 14, 1977 (HCAR No. 19882) and March 24, 1977 (HCAR No. 19956) the Commission authorized National to issue and sell debentures and to loan a portion of the proceeds to certain of its subsidiaries. National was authorized to use up to $19,400,000 of the proceeds of the debenture sale to acquire securities of National Gas Storage Company ("Storage"), a corporation presently being organized as a subsidiary of National. The acquisition of Storage's securities by National is dependent upon Federal Power Commission ("FPC") authorization of related transactions involving Storage. Accordingly, National was authorized by this Commission to loan up to $19,400,000 aggregate principal amount to Supply pending receipt of such FPC authorization. The FPC authorization has not yet been obtained and noninterest-bearing loans have been made to Supply for the preliminary development of storage properties which will later be transferred to Storage, for working capital, for the purchase of gas placed in summer storage and for temporary investment.

FPC authorization is not now expected until April 1978; therefore, National and Supply propose that the above-mentioned authority to make loans of the proceeds of National's debenture sale to Supply, pending receipt of the FPC authorization involving Storage, be modified to authorize the loaning or reloaning to Supply of up to $19,400,000 aggregate principal amount at an annual interest rate of 8.7 percent, which is equal to the effective cost of money incurred by National in the issuance of its debentures, namely 8.657 percent, rounded to the next highest multiple of 1/10 of 1 percent. Supply's notes will be prepaid upon the completion of the transactions involving Storage which require FPC approval.

No special and separable fees, commissions and expenses are anticipated in connection with the proposed transaction. It is stated that no state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than September 19, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the filing which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicants-declarants at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other section as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices or orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Proposed Rule Change

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), as amended by Pub. L. No. 94-29, 16 (June 4, 1975), notice is hereby given that on August 5, 1977, the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a proposed rule change as follows:

STATEMENT OF THE TERMS OF SUBSTANCE OF THE PROPOSED RULE CHANGE

The proposed rule change consists of the agreements governing the interregional interface service of National Securities Clearing Corporation (NSCC). The fees and charges relating thereto (Interface Fees) are set forth in Exhibit No. 1 attached hereto.

STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

The basis and purpose of the foregoing proposed rule change is as follows:

The purpose of the proposed rule change is to state agreements pertaining to NSCC's Interregional Interface Service (Interface Service) and the Interface Fees.

NSCC's SCC and ASECC Divisions have each entered into agreements (Interregional Interface Agreements) with Midwest Clearing Corp. (MCC), Pacific Clearing Corp. (PCC) and Stock Clearing Corp. of Philadelphia (SCCP). Members of NSCC's SCC and ASECC Divisions who enter into agreements with NSCC and any of MCC, PCC or SCCP (referred to each as XCC) participate in the interregional interface between the SCC Division or ASECC Division and XCC, pursuant to which all trades (other than mutually agreed upon exceptions for operational or other purposes) whether made on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. or the American Stock Exchange, Inc. or in other market places in designated securities, shall be settled through the system of only one of the clearing agencies, as more fully described in Exhibit 3 to NSCC's filing.

The costs and revenues resulting from NSCC's operation of the interfaces for the 12 months ended June 30, 1977 is as follows:

REVENUE AND EXPENSES

	Revenue	Expense[1]	Profit/(loss)
1976:

June	58,639	59,392	(753)
Total	587,860	685,246	(97,386)
Average per month	48,988	57,104	(8,115)
Average per month in 1977	58,534	61,645	(3,111)

[1] This expense includes only facilities management costs and does not include allocation of clearing corporation overhead or clearing corporation financing costs

Reference is made to Exhibit 3 to NSCC's filing for views concerning the appropriateness of the interface fees.

The proposed rule change relates to NSCC's carrying out the purposes of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Act), by fostering cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in the clearance and settlement of securities transactions, removal of impediments to and perfection of the mechanism of a national system for the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions, and linking of clearance and settlement facilities pursuant to Section 17A(a)(1)(D) of the Act.

No comments were received on the proposed rule change.

NSCC perceives no burden on competition as a consequence of the proposed rule change.

On or before October 6, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(A) by order approve such proposed rule change, or

(B) institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file 6 copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before September 22, 1977.

Secretary.

NATIONAL SECURITIES CLEARING CORP.
NEW YORK, N.Y., July 27, 1977.

JACK NELSON, President

To: NSCC Participants.
Attention: Managing Partner/Officer.
Subject: Interface Fees.

When clearing interfaces were first created in New York, it was recognized that the operation of these services would add to clearing corporation costs, but at the same time would provide internal savings to participants who used them. Therefore, National Securities Clearing Corp.'s SCC and ASECC Divisions, and their predecessors, have been charging an "Interface Fee" to the specific users who benefited from the service. These fees were based on the number of transactions leaving NSCC's system for settlement at another clearing corporation, or entering NSCC's system for settlement from another clearing corporation, and were set at fifty cents for each round-lot transaction, twenty-five cents for each odd-lot transaction, and twenty cents for each exercise or assignment.

The rationale behind charging fees to user participatnts was simple: the clearing corporation needed to generate revenues which would be approximately equal to the cost of providing the interface service. Furthermore, since both SCC and ASECC Division participants have historically paid the additional expense of other special services provided to them, it was consistent that interface costs should also be borne by those participants who used the service and benefited from it.

As a condition of the Securities and Exchange Commission's January 3, 1977 order approving NSCC's registration as a clearing agency, NSCC is required to offer to operate such interfaces under an agreement wherein the parties to the interfaces would not charge each other for interface movements or charge their participants, either an interface fee or any fee which would operate as an interface fee. This condition was to be satisfied prior to the commencement of consolidated operations.

NSCC's proposed fee schedule, released to interested parties for comment on June 16, 1977, anticipated the elimination of these charges. It had been NSCC's intent to retain the existing interface charges until this revised pricing structure was implemented coincident with the start of consolidated operations. However, other clearing corporations, and their parent exchanges, have asked that these interface fees be eliminated prior to the start-up of a consolidated NSCC operation, because they feel these fees place them at a competitive disadvantage.

The Board of Directors of National Securities Clearing Corp. believes that cooperative action in the movement towards the national clearance and settlement system is a necessity. Accordingly, in the interest of furthering progress towards consolidation, NSCC's Board has determined that it would be appropriate to immediately modify its present interface fee policy. Specifically, on July 25, 1977, NSCC adopted a policy wherein interface fees will not be assessed for transactions settled through an interface when the cooperating clearing corporation does not assess a comparable interface fee nor impose a general fee structure which essentially operates as an interface fee. In those cases where the cooperating clearing corporation does assess such a fee or has a general fee structure which operates as an interface fee, NSCC will maintain its charge but only for those transactions that are similar to the transactions being assessed (either directly or indirectly) by the cooperating clearing corporation.

As a result of this policy revision, the following changes will become effective on August 1, 1977:

1. All interface fees on transactions made between NSCC and Pacific Clearing Corp. will be eliminated.

2. Midwest Clearing Corp. (MCC) presently assesses a fifty cent per side interface fee for transactions compared by MCC which settle at NSCC but does not impose a similar fee for transactions compared at NSCC and settled at MCC. Accordingly, interface fees for trades compared at MCC and settled at NSCC will be eliminated, while interface fees for trades compared at NSCC and settled at MCC will be retained.

3. The general fee structure of Stock Clearing Corp. of Philadelphia (SCCP) imposes full trade recording and settlement charges for transactions compared at SCCP and settled at NSCC, a practice which essentially operates as an interface fee. SCCP does not impose an interface fee on transactions compared at NSCC and settled at SCCP. Accordingly, fees for trades compared at SCCP and settled at NSCC will be eliminated, while interface fees for trades compared at NSCC and settled at SCCP will be retained.

4. Interface fees for exercises and assignments reported to NSCC by Options Clearing Corp. will be eliminated.

If you have any questions on the above, please call Jack Quirke at 212-248-0720.

JACK NELSON.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE, INC.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Proposed Rule Changes

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s (b)(1), as amended by Pub. L. No. 94-29, 16 (June 4, 1975), notice is hereby given that on August 1, 1977, the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission proposed rule changes as follows:

STATEMENT OF THE TERMS OF SUBSTANCE OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION AND CONSTITUTION

The text of the proposed amendments is attached as Exhibit I.

PURPOSE OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The proposed changes would broaden access to the New York Stock Exchange market by enabling all qualified broker/dealers to become Exchange members by:

(1) Paying annual fees of $25,000 for physical presence and the right to establish and maintain facilities on the Floor of the Exchange.

(2) Paying annual fees of $13,500 for electronic order access to the Floor facilities of another member and direct access to the Designated Order Turnaround System.

(3) Paying an annual fee to be determined by the Board of Directors for physical access to the Options Floor facilities for market-making activities.

The number of annual memberships made available will be determined by floor space and facilities limitations as not to interfere with the Exchange's ability to administer its affairs and facilitate transactions in Exchange listed securities on its Floor.

The annual members described above will be entitled to vote in all elections and on all matters except a merger, consolidation, dissolution or final liquidation of the Exchange; or any proposal which would amend any of the rights or limitations of such members; or any proposal which would amend any rights to or participation in the Gratuity Fund. Annual members having only electronic access and persons holding options memberships will have one-half vote on matters for which they are entitled to vote; while annual members with pysical presence on the Floor will have one vote on such matters.

We are mindful of the requirement contained in the 1975 Amendments to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that:

"The rules of the exchange assure a fair representation of its members in the selection of its directors and the administration of its affairs * * *"

The Exchange feels fair and good reasons exist for distinguishing among the classes of its members, with respect to the vote that is accorded to each class, as well as the matters upon which each class of member may vote. Included in these reasons are the investment which present members have made in the Exchange in terms of capital, contribution to the development of its market and the smaller investment and risk which the annual member undertakes.

It is our firm belief that the difference between the classes of members should be recognized in determining the

UMI
V 42 170
SEP 1 7 7

vote to be accorded to them, and that this is accomplished in conformity with the applicable law.

Annual membership fees were computed to achieve an equitable allocation of dues among members. Annual Floor membership dues (payable by annual members with physical presence on the Floor) were determined by linking them to the current replacement value of a membership. This was done by applying member firms' median 1972–1976 pre-tax rate of return on equity capital (18.8%) to a estimated $120,000 NYSE replacement value per membership. Adding the current membership dues of $1,500 and the additional $1,800 fee paid for each member on the Trading Floor (which permanent members will continue to pay) to the return on member equity yielded a total of $25,900. It was decided to round this down to an even $25,000.

The determination of annual dues for electronic order access does not lend itself to the above approach, because there is no way to establish the proportion of membership replacement value allocable to electronic access. Therefore, it was decided that dues for electronic access should be set at a level which would allow the Exchange to recover the cost of regulating annual electronic access members. Although average cost of regulation of future members cannot be determined with great accuracy, estimates put average cost of such regulation as high as $11,000 for the year 1975. Since regulatory costs are primarily payroll and it would probably be well into 1977 before annual membership, if approved, would go into effect, the 1975 estimate was increased by 11%. (This adjustment allows for the annual 7–8% increment in the NYSE's cost per employee.) Thus, 1977 regulatory costs are estimated at $12,200 per electronic access member. The current yearly dues of $1,500 were added to this figure to arrive at $13,500 (rounded down) as the annual payment for electronic access membership.

The proposed amendments would also permit any member holding an equity interest in the Exchange to enter into a contractual arrangement to lease his membership for a specified term of years to a qualified registered broker/dealer. The lessee would be the member under the Exchange Constitution and rules (except for purposes of the Gratuity Fund) and would be regulated accordingly. The lessee would not pay into nor share the benefits of the Gratuity Fund nor could he be elected as a Trustee thereof. All other voting rights of the membership would accrue to the lessee, subject to any proxy stating otherwise. The lessee would not be entitled to receive any distribution of the assets of the Exchange in the event of liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up of the Exchange.

Finally, the proposed amendments contain "housekeeping" changes which are designed to recognize certain differences between equity and non-equity members with regard to the applicability of various Constitutional provisions.

Basis Under the Act

(i) The proposed amendments will enable the Exchange to enforce compliance by its non-equity members and lessees of equity holders by defining such persons as members for purposes of Exchange rules regulating its membership.

(ii) The proposed amendments are consistent with Section 6(b)(2) of the Act in that they enable any qualified perons to become Exchange members.

(iii) The amendments are consistent with Section 6(b)(3) of the Act in that they provide for a fair representation of members in the selection of directors and administration of Exchange affairs. As stated hereinabove under Purpose of the Proposed Amendments, the Exchange believes the one-half vote accorded persons holding electronic access and options membership is justified in view of the investment which present members have made in the Exchange in terms of capital, contribution to the development of its market and the smaller investment and risk which the annual member undertakes.

(iv) The proposed amendments are consistent with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act in that they contemplate the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members of the Exchange. The method used in arriving at the initial dues to be charged annual Floor members and electronic access members is described in detail in Purpose of the Proposed Amendments hereinabove.

(v) The proposed amendments will increase access to the New York Stock Exchange market and encourage greater participation. The Exchange submits that, in general, such changes tend to remove impediments to the mechanism of a free and open market and are consistent with Section 6(b)(5) of the Act.

(vi) All members and lessees of equity holders will be subject to rules, including disciplinary rules, since all are deemed members.

(vii) Is inapplicable.

(viii) Is inapplicable.

Comments Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No comments were solicited or received on the subject amendments.

Burden on Competition

The proposed changes will not impose any burden on competition.

On or before October 6, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the abovementioned self-regulatory organization comments, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule changes, or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule changes should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file 6 copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before September 22, 1977.

A meeting of the members of the Exchange entitled to vote thereat shall be held annually for the election of Directors of the Exchange, a Nominating Committee and Trustees of the Gratuity Fund, all as provided in this Article, and for the transaction of any other proper business, on the second Monday in May in each year or, if the Exchange is not open for business on that day, on the next succeeding business day. The meeting shall be held immediately following the close of business on the Exchange on such day, in the Board Room of the Exchange or at such other place as may be fixed in advance by the Board of Directors. At such annual election there shall be elected by the membership by ballot:

Death, Withdrawal or Disqualification of Nominees

In case of the death, withdrawal, disqualification or failure to qualify, at any time in advance of the annual election, of a nominee proposed by the Nominating Committee for one of the offices or positions to be filled at such annual election, the election of a person to fill such office or position shall not be held at the annual meeting of the members of the Exchange, but this shall not delay the election of persons to fill all other offices or positions. The Board of Directors, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Directors then in office, thereupon may declare such office or position vacant and may elect a person to fill the vacancy to hold office until the seventh day after the annual election of the Exchange in the succeeding year or may, in its discretion, direct that such office or position be filled by vote of the members of the Exchange entitled to vote thereon at a special meeting of the members. If such special meeting shall be directed, the Board shall call the meeting and determine the procedure for nominations and voting by proxy at the meeting.

Sec. 8. Promptly after the names of all the nominees for election at the annual meeting of the members of the Exchange have been reported to the Exchange, the Secretary of the Exchange shall mail notice of the annual meeting as provided in Section 12 of this Article to each member entitled to vote thereat. With the notice the Secretary shall furnish a form of proxy which shall designate the members of the Nominating Committee, or any one or more of them, as persons authorized to act thereunder at the annual meeting. The proxy shall list the names of all nominees for election at the annual meeting as provided in Section 4 of this Article and shall provide, by boxes or otherwise, means by which a member may designate the nominees for whom votes shall be cast under the proxy. The proxy shall provide that in the absence of such designation all votes under the proxy shall be cast for the persons nominated by the Nominating Committee. All proxies to the Nominating Committee received at or before the annual meeting shall, unless revoked, be voted as specified thereon in each election to fill an office or position which is held at the annual meeting, and the votes thereunder may be cast by any one or more members of the Nominating Committee present at the annual meeting. Any member entitled to vote, except one who has executed an irrevocable proxy to a member firm or member corporation as provided in Section 11 of this Article, may attend and vote in person or may designate one or more members or allied members of the Exchange (or the lessor of his membership, if any) other than the members of the Nominating Committee to act for him by proxy at the annual meeting.

Except as provided in Section 5 of this Article, the election of a person to any position or office shall be by a plurality of the votes cast by the members entitled to vote thereon, in person or by proxy, at a meeting of the members. A member whose membership in the Exchange is subject to an a-b-c agreement in the partnership articles of a member firm or in an agreement with a member corporation shall execute and file with the Secretary of the Exchange an irrevocable proxy, in form satisfactory to the Exchange, authorizing such member firm or member corporation or its nominee or nominees, as a pledgee so long as such a-b-c agreement remains in effect, to represent and act as attorney-in-fact for the member in voting on any and all matters whatsoever, ordinary or extraordinary, at any annual or special meeting of members of the Exchange, or in expressing consent or dissent without a meeting, and in any and all things incidental thereto, such as requesting the call of or calling special meetings of members of the Exchange, proposing by petition nominees for offices or positions to be filled at elections, or proposing amendments to the Constitution, or executing for and on behalf of the member waivers of notice or revocable proxies delegating authority, including discretionary authority, to act for and in place of the attorney-in-fact at any meeting of the members of the exchange or otherwise. A member firm or member corporation holding such an irrevocable proxy may from time to time by written notice filed with the Secretary of the Exchange designate one or more general partners of such firm or principal executive officers of such corporation to exercise any and all authority under such proxy.

A member described in Section 2 of Article IX may execute and file with the Secretary of the Exchange a proxy, in form satisfactory to the Exchange, authorizing the lessor of such member's membership or the member firm in which such member is a general partner or the member corporation in which such member is an officer, during the term of the lease, to represent and act as attorney-in-fact for the member in voting on any and all matters whatsoever, ordinary or extraordinary, at any annual or special meeting of members of the Exchange held during such term, or in expressing consent or dissent without a meeting, and in any and all things incidental thereto, such as requesting the call of or calling special meetings of members of the Exchange, proposing by petition nominees for offices or positions to be filled at elections, or proposing amendments to the Constitution, or executing for and on behalf of the member waivers of notice.

Notice of a special meeting (including any such meeting to be held in conjunction with an annual meeting) shall also state the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called. The Secretary of the Exchange shall mail a copy of the notice of any meeting, not less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, to each person who [is a member], on the day the notice is mailed, is a member who would be entitled to vote at such meeting, and shall deliver a copy to each [member elected] person who becomes a member entitled to vote at such meeting thereafter and prior to the meeting or any adjournment thereof. If a member shall have filed with the Secretary an irrevocable proxy, as provided in Section 11 of this Article, the Secretary shall concurrently mail a copy of the notice of any meeting, together with any accompanying form of proxy, to the member firm or member corporation holding such irrevocable proxy, for the attention of one of the general partners or principal executive officers, if any, at the time designated to exercise authority under such proxy.

NORTH RIVER SECURITIES CO., INC.

Filing of Application Pursuant to Section 17(b) of the Act for an Order Exempting Proposed Transaction From Section 17(a) of the Act

AUGUST 24, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that North River Securities Co., Inc., 595 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10022, ("Applicant"), a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act"), filed an application on January 27, 1977, and an amendment thereto on August 8, 1977, for an order pursuant to Section 17(b) of the Act exempting certain transactions proposed to be entered into by Applicant from the provisions of Section 17(a) of the Act. All interested persons are referred to the application which is on file with Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein, which are summarized below.

Applicant entered into an agreement dated as of November 3, 1976 (the "Purchase Agreement") with Hyman Katz ("Katz") providing for the sale by Applicant to Katz of 60,000 shares (the "Shares") of the Common Stock of Plant Industries, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Plant"). The closing of such sale is conditioned upon the issuance of an order by the Commission to the effect that the proposed transaction is exempt from the provisions of Section 17(a) of the Act. The purchase price for the Shares is $6.50 per share or $390,000 in the aggregate, which will be evidenced by a note to be issued by Katz for $290,000 dated as of November 3, 1976, which note will provide for payment of one half of the principal amount one year after the closing date under the Purchase Agreement ("Closing Date") and the remainder two years after the Closing Date and will bear interest commencing on November 3, 1976 at a floating rate equal to the prime rate of Citibank, New York, as in effect from time to time, but not less than 7%.

To secure payment of the aforesaid note, Katz will pledge the Shares and an additional 60,000 shares currently owned by him (collectively, the "Pledged Shares") to Applicant pursuant to the terms of a pledge agreement which will be entered into on the Closing Date. Pursuant to the terms of the pledge agreement, Katz will pledge additional shares of Plant to the extent that the "market value", as defined in the pledge agreement, becomes less than 200% of the outstanding principal amount of the note. Katz will pay the expenses incidental to the preparation and carrying out of the Purchase Agreement to a maximum of $5,000. Applicant will pay any expenses over such amount.

Plant has agreed with Applicant that in the event Katz defaults on the note and Applicant becomes the owner of the Pledged Shares, Plant will extend to the additional 60,000 Pledged Shares and any additional Plant shares pledged pursuant to the pledge agreement and maintain with respect to such shares certain registration rights under the Securities Act of 1933 previously held by Applicant.

Sections 17(a)(2) and 17(a)(3) of the Act, in pertinent part, prohibit an affiliated person of an affiliated person of a registered investment company from knowingly selling to or purchasing from such registered investment company any security (other than certain excepted securities not herein involved) or borrowing money or other property from such registered investment company. Section 17(b) of the Act provides, however, that the Commission, upon application, may exempt a transaction from the provisions of Section 17(a) if evidence establishes that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration to be paid, are reasonable and fair and do not involve any overreaching on the part of any person concerned and that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of each registered investment company and with the general purposes of the Act.

Section 2(a)(3) of the Act includes within the definition of an "affiliated person" of another person any person owing 5% or more of the outstanding voting securities of such other person, any person 5% or more of whose outstanding voting securities are owned by such other person, and any officer or director of such other person. Section 2(a)(28) of the Act includes "a company" within the definition of a "person".

Without taking into account the proposed sale to Katz, Applicant owns 349,700 shares of Common Stock of Plant, or approximately 12.2% of its outstanding Common Stock. Thus Plant is an affiliated person of Applicant. Similarly, without taking into account such proposed sale, Katz owns of record and beneficially 324,948 shares of Common Stock of Plant or approximately 11.3% of its outstanding Common Stock. Katz is also Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Plant. Katz is thus an affiliated person of Plant and thereby an affiliated person of an affiliated person of Applicant.

Based upon the foregoing, the proposed sale of the Shares to Katz pursuant to the Purchase Agreement might be deemed to be in violation of Sections 17(a)(2) and 17(a)(3) of the Act. Accordingly, Applicant requests an order of the Commission pursuant to Section 17(b) of the Act permitting Applicant to sell Katz the Shares in accordance with the provisions of the Purchase Agreement and permitting the pledge by Katz of the Plant shares to Applicant to secure the note evidencing the purchase price for the Shares.

The application states that because of Applicant's substantial equity interest in Plant, it has a significant interest in the management of such company and Applicant believes that it is desirable to provide added incentive to the Chief Executive Officer of Plant through giving him the opportunity to purchase additional shares of common stock of the company which he manages. The application further states that such desirability is enhanced by the fact that Applicant will derive a cash profit as a result of the transaction based upon an average cost to Applicant of $6.00 per share of all of the shares of Plant held by Applicant. On November 3, 1976, the date this sale was agreed upon, the last reported sale price of a share of Plant on the American Stock Exchange was $7.00. Although the market price was slightly higher than the $6.50 price to Katz, the application states that the Shares which Applicant is selling to Katz are unregistered shares and could not have been sold in the open market.

Applicant represents that to its knowledge there are no other agreements relating to securities of Plant nor are there any material business relationships in each case between Katz and Applicant or any of its officers, directors or 5% stockholders other than as disclosed in the application.

Applicant contends that the terms of the proposed transaction are fair and reasonable and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned, and that the transaction is consistent with its policies and with the general policies, provisions and purposes of the Act.

PACIFIC STOCK EXCHANGE INC.

Order Approving Proposed Rule Change

On April 20, 1977, the Pacific Stock Exchange Incorporated, Los Angeles Division, 618 South Spring Street, Los Angeles, California 90014, filed with the Commission, pursuant to Section 19(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), as amended by the Securities Acts Amendments of 1975, and Rule 19b–4 thereunder, copies of a proposed rule change regarding the non-applicability to market makers of the rule requiring members to give up the name of the clearing member through whom a transaction is executed; definition of stop-loss orders; conducting accommodation liquidations; obligations of market makers in making bids and offers; split transactions as contingent orders; and floor citations. This filing was amended August 12, 1977.[1]

Notice of the proposed rule change together with the terms of substance of the proposed rule change was given by publication of a Commission Release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 13566 (May 23, 1977)), and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 28177 (June 2, 1977)).

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to registered national securities exchanges, and in particular, the requirements of Section 6 and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change filed with the Commission on April 20, 1977, as amended, be, and it hereby is, approved.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

PACIFIC STOCK EXCHANGE INC.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Proposed Rule Change By

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s (b)(1), as amended by Pub. L. No. 94–29, 16 (June 4, 1975), notice is hereby given that on August 15, 1977, the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a proposed rule change as follows:

PSE'S STATEMENT OF THE TERMS OF SUBSTANCE AND BASIS AND PURPOSE OF THE PROPOSED RULE CHANGE

The Pacific Stock Exchange Incorporated ("PSE") hereby requests to amend Section 8(b) of Rule II of the Rules of its Board of Governors to effect a change in execution procedure for dual issue odd lot market orders from a two minute from receipt of order to next sale basis.

Current execution procedures require that odd lot market orders in dual issues be executed on the primary market two (2) minutes subsequent to the order's entry on the PSE Floor. On occasion, this procedures has caused unnecessary delays in report turnaround time due to the additional handling necessitated by the two (2) minute holding period.

The implementation of a next sale pricing procedure will enable our firms to receive reports of PSE market order odd lot executions within a short period of time. Therefore, the proposed rule change promotes just and equitable principles of trade and removes the impediments to the perfection of the mechanism of a free and open market.

Comments have neither been solicited nor received from members on the proposed rule change.

The proposed rule change imposes no burden on competition.

On or before October 6, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule change, or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file 6 copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 25049. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before September 22, 1977.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Secretary.

WYLE LABORATORIES

Application to Withdraw From Listing and Registration

AUGUST 24, 1977.

In the matter of Wyle Laboratories, common stock, no par value, 5¼% Convertible Subordinated Debentures.

The above named issuer has filed an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 12(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 12d2–2(d) promulgated thereunder, to withdraw the specified securities from listing and registration on the American Stock Exchange, Inc.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing these securities from listing and registration include the following:

This security has been listed and registered on the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., and the management of the Company has concluded that the costs of maintaining the listing on both exchanges outweighs the benefits to be derived therefrom.

The American Stock Exchange, Inc. has not objected to this application, and the Company will be subject to Section 13 reporting requirements.

Any interested person may, on or before September 21, 1977 submit by letter to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549, facts bearing upon whether the application has been made in accordance with the rules of the Exchange and what terms, if any, should be imposed by the Commission for the protection of investors. An order granting the application will be issued after the date mentioned above, on the basis of the application and any other information furnished by the Commission, unless it orders a hearing on the matter.

Federal Aviation Administration

DISCONTINUANCE CRITERIA FOR AIRPORT TRAFFIC CONTROL TOWERS

Policy Formulation

PURPOSE

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) invites all interested parties to comment on alternative approaches to the discontinuance or continued Federal operation of selected airport traffic control towers (ATCT's) currently in the U.S. air traffic control system. Policy and criteria for establishment and discontinuance of airport traffic control tower service are stated in FAA Order 7031.2B, Airway Planning Standard Number One—Terminal Air Navigation Facilities and Air Traffic Control Services. A change to this policy and criteria is being considered as outlined below.

BACKGROUND

Criteria for the establishment of airport traffic control towers (ATCT's) have been published by FAA and its predecessor organization since 1951. Criteria for the discontinuance of ATCT services have been available since 1956. Since their original publication, establishment criteria have been revised three times. With each revision, criteria have become increasingly more stringent, requiring higher levels of service for tower establishment eligibility. Current criteria for towers are contained in FAA Order 7031.2B, Airway Planning Standard Number One, Change 3 dated October 16, 1975.

While discontinuance criteria have been similarly tightened for new facilities, FAA has maintained "grandfather" clauses for towers commissioned under previous establishment criteria. The "grandfather" approach relates discontinuance of an existing tower to the criteria in effect at the time the tower was programmed or established. The effect of this approach is to protect towers already in service from the same scrutiny required of newer facilities.

ATCT establishment and discontinuance criteria were last revised in October 1975. This revision based criteria on economic analysis. However, when revised criteria were adopted in 1975, grandfather clauses for discontinuance were retained because economic studies of this problem had not yet been completed. Towers programmed prior to 1977 continued to be evaluated using discontinuance criteria in effect at the time the particular tower was programmed. Those programmed during or after 1977 under current establishment criteria must meet much more rigorous discontinuance criteria and undergo site-specific benefit-cost analysis. This benefit-cost approach identifies a location as being a candidate for discontinuance wherever benefits from continued tower operation are less than current operating and maintenance costs.

Some towers "protected" by the grandfather approach have been operating since the 1950's with no real pressure to discontinue operations. This may have stemmed from the realization that there were relatively few affected locations. However, with the third (1975) revision of establishment criteria, FAA became concerned over the possible cumulative impact of criteria on ATCT closures. Additionally, during coordination of proposed tower criteria, several industry groups questioned the rationale for retaining grandfather clauses. The General Accounting Office also has questioned the continued use of these clauses for tower discontinuance. This led to an examination of the desirability of continuing that approach. FAA, as part of a preliminary study, has applied the recently adopted, economically based discontinuance criteria to existing tower locations to test the impact of eliminating grandfather clauses. The results are significant in that out of an inventory of 425 commissioned towers, 73 locations are identified where in FY 1978 discounted costs of operation will exceed quantified benefits of enhanced safety and improved efficiency of airport operations. In contrast, if grandfather clauses are retained (for towers programmed prior to 1977), only 8 sites are currently candidates for discontinuance according to FY 1978 forecast operations data. It is estimated that closure of each existing tower will result in an annual per-site saving of approximately $200,000 on the basis of operating and maintenance (O&M) costs. Net savings, i.e., cost less benefit, would be less.

A decision regarding ATCT closures has not yet been made by the agency. Efforts to consolidate services, even where no service was being lost (flight service station automation, for example), have shown the sensitivity to changes in the system especially where facility closures are involved.

The benefit-cost approach for screening candidates for tower discontinuance (those that are established or programmed during or after 1977) compares annual operating and maintenance costs to the analytically derived dollar value of benefits. ATCT benefits include the reduction of expected collision and accident rates and reduced landing delays. Considered in the benefit-cost methodology are a mix of aircraft types (air carrier, air taxi, general aviation, and military) and levels of local and itinerant traffic operating within the terminal area. Also considered are the percentage of passengers and crew aboard each generic category of aircraft who might be fatally or seriously injured should a collision or other type of tower-preventable accident occur. Potential aircraft losses including accident investigation costs and cargo value are also factored into the benefit-cost analysis. Costs and benefits are discounted over a 15-year forecast period at an annual rate of 10 percent. Aircraft activity forecast data is obtained from the official FAA Terminal Area Forecast. When 15-year discounted costs of continued tower operation exceed discounted benefits, the facility is validated for discontinuance.

At present there is no known way to quantify benefits associated with a tower being operated as part of a larger National Aviation System, and thus such benefits are excluded from current criteria consideration. While the omission of such benefits in determining new tower establishments is a practical necessity, it might be argued that once a tower is commissioned, intangible system benefits are a factor which must somehow be explicitly considered in any disestablishment discussion. The extent to which this is a decision factor influences the choice of alternatives which FAA pursues. This factor is discussed in the alternatives below.

Report Number FAA-ASP-77-6, "An Analysis of Continued Operation of Selected Airport Traffic Control Towers," available from FAA, provides a comprehensive description of the benefit-cost approach to assess the merits of continued Federal funding of towers. The report identifies 73 towers with costs exceeding quantified benefits over a 15-year forecast period (FY 1978–92). Should ATCT discontinuance criteria be revised to delete grandfather clauses, it is anticipated that Report FAA-ASP-77-6 would provide a substantial portion of the approach methodology and justification. Much of the background data for the following alternatives can be found in the report. Copies are available from the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Aviation System Plans.

ALTERNATIVES

The FAA invites all interested parties to comment on alternative approaches to the discontinuance or continued Federal operation of certain airport traffic control towers. In light of the foregoing discussion of background and historical pattern of ATCT criteria development, the agency can proceed according to one of several alternative lines. Possible alternatives on Federal decisions regarding closure of towers are to:

1. Continue Federal operation of all existing towers.
2. Apply existing ATCT discontinuance criteria which identify eight potential sites for discontinuance in FY 1978.
3. Cease operation of all (73) towers at which there is a net operating loss (O&M costs exceed benefits expected during the period FY 1978–92).
4. Cease operation of a portion (about 35–40) of the "noneconomic" towers.
5. Continue Federal operation, until FY 1980, of all towers at which there is a net operating loss with the intention of affording to state or local interests an opportunity to assume operation by that time.

Recommendations are needed on which alternative action the FAA should pursue. The rationale for each alternative follows.

1. Continue Federal operation of all existing towers. Retaining all towers continues Federal subsidization regardless of economic merit of continued operation. Although the FAA is considering the closure of a limited number of towers, to date only one facility has been decommissioned on the basis of cost-saving considerations.

The rationale for retaining towers must be based on the forecast growth of aircraft operations; that is, with the passage of time, increased operational activities will eventually result in benefits exceeding O&M costs. The longer the agency defers criteria application, the fewer sites for discontinuance are identified. By virtue of revised establishment criteria, we are assured that no new poor investments will enter the system and normal traffic growth will cause those in the system to look increasingly better. Not decommissioning towers will keep the aviation system operating at current status, providing historical levels of service.

There is a fundamental problem with this approach, however. Retaining the status quo permits tower continuance to remain influenced largely by the interests of those most immediately affected, rather than by the public interest in optimizing the National Aviation System as a whole. Significant funds would be lost by failing to discontinue towers identified by criteria. For example, the net discounted "loss" (costs less benefits) of continuing to operate all 73 towers where operating and maintenance costs exceed benefits is $22 million for the 15-year period FY 1978–92. Thus, it could be said that persons favoring this alternative value current "system benefits" of operating these towers over the 15-year period at $22 million. Appendix A lists those 73 tower locations where O&M costs exceed benefits for FY 1978–92.

2. Apply existing ATCT discontinuance criteria. This approach would discontinue Federal operation of all towers identified by current discontinuance criteria. Closure of the eight towers expected to be identified for discontinuance in FY 1978 (See Appendix B for affected sites) amounts to a total annual saving of $1.7 million in operating and maintenance costs. Discounted net savings, i.e., factoring in benefits of continued facility operations, amount to $4 million over the period FY 1978–92. Persons favoring this alternative would be said to assign continued operation of the remaining 65 (73 minus 8) towers a "system benefit" of $18 million ($22 million minus $4 million).

This approach has the beneficial impact of discontinuing operations of the economically poorest tower locations while not imposing subsequent benefit-cost analysis on capital investments made on other bases. Because of the more stringent establishment criteria, no poor new investment will enter the system, and expected increases in activity will make the remaining towers look economically better. However, retention and application of existing criteria, while making some improvement in the fiscal soundness of the aviation system, continues Federal operation of numerous locations which are not expected to be economically viable in the near future. This could be an argument against continued investment in new aviation facilities since present funds are not used to maximum advantage.

3. Cease operation of all towers which yield an economic loss. This approach is to terminate operation of all 73 towers at which operating and maintenance costs are expected to exceed the benefits of continued tower operation (Appendix A). When benefits do not exceed O&M costs, it can be argued that even if the "sunk cost" of constructing the tower is ignored, continued tower operation is an unjustifiable subsidy and should be discontinued. Closure of 73 facilities with costs exceeding benefits would result in an annual reduction in O&M costs of $14 million per year or net discounted costs less benefits of $22 million over 15 years. Since such a decision is based solely on quantifiable (safety and efficiency) benefits, it implies that any system benefit attributed to a tower has no value. Further, this approach gives no weight to the possibility that a tower might requalify for establishment within, say, a 10- to 15-year period. Thus, an argument for continued tower operation is the saving of capital funds required for ATCT reestablishment several years hence had the tower first been closed.

4. Cease operation of a portion of the "noneconomic" towers. This approach would be to discontinue service of a portion of the 73 towers where costs of continued Federal operation exceed aviation benefits. The process would not be arbitrary but would be based on a systematic accounting of factors beyond quantifiable costs and benefits. An example of such an approach would be to eliminate from discontinuance consideration all "noneconomic" towers expecting to meet establishment criteria within 15 years. That is, tower service would not be discontinued if it is expected to be renewed within 15 years. (See Appendix C for affected facilities.) This would ensure that towers discontinued on the basis of lack of economic merit would not qualify for reestablishment during a reasonable time frame and thus not require substantial new investment of capital funds. Because establishment criteria explicitly include amortized construction costs, requalification for service will be dependent upon substantial increases in total airport operations or the emergence of considerable air carrier or air taxi activity.

Nonetheless, it is currently estimated that of 73 tower sites operating at an economic loss, 38 locations would meet or exceed current benefit-cost tower establishment criteria by FY 1992. On this basis, 35 towers would qualify for discontinuance of service under this alternative. This represents a 52 percent decrease in the number of identified facilities when compared to the decision rule basing tower closure entirely on current economic merit (Alternative 3). Closure of 35 towers would result in a net "saving" of $16 million over the FY 1978–92 period, or 73 percent of the total $22 million "saving" should all 73 facilities be discontinued. Thus, persons favoring this alternative could be said to value the "system benefit" of towers at $6 million ($22 million minus $16 million).

However, continuing operations at 38 financially unsound towers would mean in excess of $7 million for O&M expenditures annually, which could be viewed as an unwarranted Federal subsidy until such time as the towers requalified for establishment. Further, if a considerable number of these facilities do not meet establishment levels within 15 years, the FAA would have continued to subsidize a significant number of towers on the basis of an unfulfilled expectation of traffic increase.

5. Continue Federal operation until 1980 with the intention of affording to state or local interests an opportunity to assume operation by that time. This approach would continue Federal operation for only two years at all towers at which operating and maintenance costs exceed benefits of retention of service. State or local interests would be encouraged to use this transition period to assess their position on whether or not to assume operations funding, presumably on the basis that significant state and local benefits are not recognized in FAA's economic analysis. In the event that, within two years, tower activity grows to levels exceeding discontinuance standards (benefits equal to or exceeding costs), the Federal Government would continue operation.

Of 73 towers that show a net discounted 15-year economic loss (costs exceeding benefits for FY 1978–92), 13 facilities are expected to yield a net discounted economic profit (benefits equal to or exceeding costs) within two years. Thus, the Federal Government would be expected to cease operations at 60 locations by 1980 if state or local interests do not take over. (See Appendix D.) Cessation of activity at all 60 sites represents a net saving of $21 million over FY 1978–92. Thus, a person advocating this approach could be said to value the "system benefit" of towers at $1 million ($22 million minus $21 million).

Continued state or local operation of these 60 towers, while not cost-beneficial at the Federal level, would be at the option of state and local officials who themselves would determine if such operation is warranted by payoffs associated with tower continuance. On the other hand, it could be argued that if the towers warrant being retained in the National Aviation System, they should be operated and maintained by the Federal Government, not numerous separate government entities.

The Federal Aviation Administration invites comments and suggestions on the above alternatives from all interested parties. Written comments should be directed to:

Office of Pipeline Safety Operations

[Notice No. 77-5; Docket No. OPSO-47]

GAS PIPELINE SAFETY

Grant-in-Aid Program

This notice is issued to inform the public of the criteria and procedures established by the Materials Transportation Bureau (MTB) for determining a State's eligibility to participate in the grant-in-aid program under Section 5(f) of the National Gas Pipeline Safety Act, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1674(f)) (the Act). Although monies are not presently available to fund the Section 5(f) grant program, the following detailed information is provided so that States may have a factual basis for expressing, to MTB, their desire to participate in such a program. Knowing the extent of State interest will then allow MTB to accurately estimate the level of funding necessary to fuly implement the Section 5(f) grant program.

Section 5(f) was enacted by Pub. L. 94-477 on October 11, 1976 (Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act of 1968, Amendments of 1976), and provides:

(f)(1) During the fiscal year ending September 30, 1978, the Secretary shall, in accordance with regulations issued by the Secretary taking into account the needs of the respective States, pay to each State agency out of funds appropriated or otherwise made available one hundred percent of the cost (not to exceed $60,000 for each State agency) of not more than three full-time natural gas pipeline safety inspectors in addition to, and not in lieu of, the number of natural gas pipeline safety inspectors maintained by such State agency in calendar year 1977.

(2) Not later than September 30, 1977, any State may apply to receive funds under paragraph (1) for the calendar year 1978.

(3) Each State agency which receives funds under paragraph (1) shall continue to maintain during calendar years 1979 and 1980 not less than the number of full-time natural gas pipeline safety inspectors which were maintained by such State agency in calendar year 1978.

(4) Any State in which the State agency fails to meet its obligations under paragraph (3) shall reimburse the Secretary for a sum equal to 50 percent of the funds received by such State under this subsection in proportion to which such State agency has failed to meet its obligations.

In order to take "* * * into account the needs of the respective States" it became necessary for MTB to determine the level of inspection effort that would be reasonably required by each State agency to maintain a satisfactory gas pipeline safety program. MTB recognized that this determination was of major significance in deciding a State's eligibility to receive Section 5(f) funding. The appropriateness of several criteria including miles of pipelines, age of pipelines, number of services, corrosive nature of States' soil, geographic area of the State, number, size, and quality of gas operators, number of gas incidents and fatalities were considered for making this determination. After carefully reviewing the propriety of each criterion and the availability of data, MTB decided that the level of inspection effort for each State would be based on the following three criteria: (1) Number of metered gas services, (2) miles of distribution main (for States acting as DOT's interstate agent, includes miles of transmission), and (3) number of distribution operators. Moreover, statistical data relating to these three criteria would be obtained from the MTB data bank developed from the 1975 Distribution and Transmission annual reports.

In order to arrive at a correlation between the chosen criteria and an adequate inspection effort that would be applicable to all States, MTB considered it a sound approach to base the correlation on program data of selected State agencies that are thought to have "good gas pipeline safety programs." In response to this approach, State agencies with such programs were identified by the MTB Regional Chiefs, their opinion being based on various factors including MTB internal State monitoring records.

Data was subsequently retrieved from MTB's data bank concerning the number of services, miles of pipline, number of operators subject to State jurisdiction, and the person-years currently expended on inspection by the above selected States. MTB then related, by graphical representation, each of the three chosen criteria to the level of inspection effort currently being expended. From the graphical representations, "approximate regression curves" were established which approximated the correlation between each of the three criteria and inspection effort. These curves were used in conjunction with MTB's judgment to develop the following mathematical formulas for determining the satisfactory level of inspection effort in person-years under each criterion:

Number of Services

1. Less than 900,000 services in State inspection;

$$\text{Inspection effort}^1 = .5 + \frac{\text{Number of Services in State.}}{200{,}000 \text{ services}}$$

2. More than 900,000 services in State inspection;

$$\text{Inspection effort}^1 = 5.0 + \frac{\text{Number of Services in State, 900,000 services}}{1{,}000{,}000 \text{ services}}$$

Miles of Pipeline

1. Less than 20,000 miles in State inspection:

$$\text{Inspection effort}^1 = .5 + \frac{\text{Miles in State.}}{4{,}000 \text{ miles}}$$

2. More than 20,000 miles in State inspection:

$$\text{Inspection effort}^1 = 5.5 + \frac{\text{Miles in State—20,000 miles.}}{15{,}000 \text{ miles}}$$

Number of Operators

$$\text{Inspection effort}^1 = .5 + \frac{\text{Number of Operators in State.}}{18 \text{ operators}}$$

[1] In person-years.

The resulting inspection effort under each criterion was then averaged giving equal weight to each criterion. MTB considered that this average represented the person-years of inspection effort that a State must devote to gas pipeline safety to maintain a good program. The average for each State calculated as described above is available from MTB upon request. Because of the unavailability of data concerning master meter operators, person-year requirements as calculated by MTB do not reflect a State's inspection requirements over master meter operators. Therefore, those States having jurisdiction over master meters and/or petroleum gas operators and desiring to participate in the 5(f) funding program should inform MTB of the need to adjust the calculations regarding person-year requirements.

Section 5(f) provides that 100 percent funding will be available only for inspectors that are in addition to and not in leu of the number of natural gas pipeline safety inspectors maintained by a State agency in calendar year 1977. To determine the "1977 Level of Inspection Effort," MTB used the most current data available. This information was obtained from Attachment 6 of the 1977 5(a) certifications and 5(b) agreements and relates to inspection effort being expended by States on January 1, 1977. This information is also available from MTB upon request.

However, the true "1977 Level of Inspection Effort" should reflect any increases or decreases of person-years of inspection effort made in a State program between January 1, 1977, and the time their letter of intent to participate in the 5(f) funding program was submitted to MTB. Therefore, when applicable, a State must adjust the January 1, 1977, figures to reflect such increases or decreases. Since the person-years a State devotes to pipeline safety is not constant and change from day to day, the adjustment must be accomplished by calculating the average increase or decrease of person-years the State devoted to pipeline safety from January 1, 1977, to the time their letter of intent was submitted to MTB.

For a State to be eligible to receive section 5(f) funding, a deficiency of inspection effort, determined by subtracting the 1977 level of inspection effort (adjusted if necessary) from the level of inspection effort required to maintain a good gas pipeline safety program (as calculated by MTB), must exist.

Although inspection effort deficiencies often contain fractional person-years, MTB believes that eligibility for 5(f) funding should be expressed in terms of whole person-years. This would avoid the problem of a State having to decide whether to hire a full-time gas pipeline safety inspector to cover a fractional person-year deficiency, knowing that if the full-time inspector is hired only that portion of his inspection effort equal to the fractional deficiency will be eligible for 5(f) reimbursement. Expressing 5(f) eligibility in terms of whole person-years also eases the burden of States and the MTB in administering the 5(f) program. Therefore, MTB has decided that in arriving at the maximum person-years that can qualify for 100 percent Federal reimbursement under section 5(f), all fractional person-year deficiencies will be rounded as follows: Deficiencies of .25 or greater rounded up to the nearest whole number, to a maximum of 3 person-years; deficiencies of .24 or less rounded down to the nearest whole person-year (including zero person-years).

Table I below shows, for each State, the number of person-years qualifying for 5(f) funds based on the person-year deficiencies arrived at by MTB using the calculations described above.

* The above figures are only valid if adjustments to reflect a State's jurisdiction over master meter operators and/or petroleum gas operators or changes to the January 1, 1977, level of inspection effort are unneccessary.

MTB also made the following determinations relevant to section 5(f):

1. Cost of an Inspector. Costs qualifying for 5(f) funds include, in addition the gas inspector's salary, all expenses which are directly related to his inspection activity (such as training, travel, etc.). However, 100 percent reimbursement for these expenses under section 5(f) may not exceed $60,000 for each State agency or $25,000 for any one inspector. Expenses in excess of these amounts may be eligible for up to 50 percent reimbursement under section 5(c) of the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act of 1968.

2. Eligibility for Section 5(f) Funding Program. State agencies that qualify for section 5(f) funding (see Table I) and that desire to participate in the section 5(f) funding program must indicate their intent to participate in writing by September 30, 1977 to:

Director, Materials Transportation Bureau, Department of Transportation, 2100 Second Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20590

Any eligible State agency that intends to participate in the section 5(f) funding program must also participate in the 1978 gas pipeline safety grant-in-aid program authorized by section 5(c) of the Act, and must submit the required MTB forms for participation in the section 5(c) funding program by September 30, 1977.

3. Recordkeeping requirements. Each State participating in the section 5(f) funding program will be responsible for insuring that the Procedural Guide for the Gas Pipeline Safety Grant Program (copies will be made available upon request to the above address is followed and that program funds have been accounted for under its provisions. Section 225.10(b) of the Guide requiring daily time records showing the status of each gas pipeline safety employee for the total day must be stringently followed in order to qualify for 100 percent reimbursement of section 5(f) funds.

4. Request for Reimbursement Under Section 5(f). State agencies will be reimbursed for expenses under section 5(f) in accordance with section 190 of the Procedural Guide for the gas pipeline safety program. Reimbursement under section 5(f) will be achieved by submitting a supplemental form which will be included in the 1978 yearend request for reimbursement form. No reimbursement for 5(f) funds will be made at midyear. This form, which will be mailed in January of 1979, will require the person-years qualified for reimbursement under section 5(f) to be calculated in the following manner:

Line (B) total technical person-years expended in 1977.[1]

Line (C) total additional person-years expended in 1978 (line A less line B).

Line (D) maximum person-years eligible for section funds per Table I of this notice.

Line (E) person-years qualifying for section 5(f) funds (line C or line D whichever is less).

[1] NOTE.—Must reflect the increases or decreases in person-years expended made in the State's gas pipeline safety program from January 1, 1977, and the time the letter of intent to participate in the 5(f) funding program was submitted to MTB.

No. MC 17829 (Sub-No. 12) (M1) (notice of filing of petition to modify the territorial description) filed August 8, 1977. Petitioner: DISILVA TRANSPORTATION, INC., 30 Middlesex Avenue, Somerville, Mass. 02145. Petitioner's representative: James F. Martin, Jr., 69 Milliken Avenue, Franklin, Mass. 02038. Petitioner holds a motor contract carrier permit in No. MC 17829 (Sub-No. 12), issued December 23, 1968, authorizing transportation, over irregular routes, of such merchandise as is dealt in by wholesale, retail, and chain stores and food business houses, and in connection therewith, equipment, materials, and supplies used in the conduct of such business (except commodities in bulk), (1) between Portland, Maine, Southboro, Mass., Hartford, Conn., and South Kearny, N.J., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and those in that part of New York, on and south of a line beginning at the Vermont-New York State line and extending along New York Highway 7 to Binghamton, thence along Interstate Highway 81 to the New York-Pennsylvania State line; (2) between Somerville and Southboro, Mass., Hartford, Conn., and South Kearney, N.J., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Maine; and (3) between Somerville, Mass., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New Hampshire (except Keene), Vermont (except Brattleboro), Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and those in that part of New York on and south of a line beginning at the Vermont-New York State line and extending along New York Highway 7 to Binghamton, thence along Interstate Highway 81 to the New York-Pennsylvania State line, under a continuing contract, or contracts, with First National Stores, Inc., of Somerville, Mass. By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to modify the above authority to read as follows: Such merchandise as is dealt in by wholesale, retail, and chain stores and food business houses, and in connection therewith, equipment, materials, and supplies used in the conduct of such business (except commodities in bulk), (1) between Portland, Maine, Southboro, Mass., Hartford and Windsor Locks, Conn., and South Kearny, N.J., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and those in that part of New York on and south of a line beginning at the Vermont-New York State line and extending along New York Highway 7 to Binghamton, thence along Interstate Highway 81 to the New York-Pennsylvania State line; (2) between Somerville and Southboro, Mass., Hartford and Windsor Locks, Conn., and South Kearny, N.J., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Maine; and (3) between Somerville, Mass., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New Hampshire (except Keene), Vermont (except Brattleboro), Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and those in that part of New York on and south of a line beginning at the Vermont-New York State line and extending along New York Highway 7 to Binghamton, thence along Interstate Highway 81 to the New York-Pennsylvania State line, under a continuing contract, or contracts with First National Stores, Inc., of Somerville, Mass.

No. MC 75320 (Sub-No. 173) (MI) (notice of filing of petition to delete restriction), filed August 5, 1977. Petitioner: CAMPBELL SIXTY-SIX EXPRESS, INC., P.O. Box 807, Springfield, Mo. 65801. Petitioner's representative: John A. Crawford, P.O. Box 22567, Jackson, Miss. 39205. Petitioner holds a motor common carrier certificate in No. MC 75320 (Sub-No. 173), issued March 31, 1975, authorizing transportation, over regular routes, of General commodities (except those of unusual value, classes A and B explosives, household goods as defined by the Commission, commodities in bulk, and those requiring special equipment), between Durant, Okla., and Texarkana, Ark., serving no intermediate points: from Durant over U.S. Highway 70 to junction U.S. Highway 271 near Hugo, Okla., thence over U.S. Highway 271 to junction U.S. Highway 82 at or near Paris, Tex., thence over U.S. Highway 82 to Texarkana, and return over the same route, restricted against the transportation of traffic originating at, destined to, or interlined with connecting carriers at (1) Memphis, Tenn., and points within its commercial zone, or (2) points in that part of Arkansas located on and north of a line beginning at the Oklahoma-Arkansas State line, and extending over U.S. Highway 64 to Conway, Ark., thence over Interstate Highway 40 to Little Rock, Ark., and thence over U.S. Highway 70 to the Arkansas-Tennessee State line, including points in the commercial zone of each such point." By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to modify the above authority by deleting the restriction which reads "restricted against the transportation of traffic originating at, destined to, or interlined with connecting carriers at (1) Memphis, Tenn., and points within its commercial zone, or (2) points in that part of Arkansas located on and north of a line beginning at the Oklahoma-Arkansas State line, and extending over U.S. Highway 64 to Conway, Ark., thence over Interstate Highway 40 to Little Rock, Ark., and thence over U.S. Highway 70 to the Arkansas-Tennessee State line, including points in the commercial zone of each such point."

No. MC 109825, M1 (notice of filing of petition to add an additional base point), filed: August 2, 1977. Applicant: MASHKIN FREIGHT LINES, INC., P.O. Box 87, East Hartford, Conn. 06102. Applicant's representative: Chandler L. van Orman, 704 Southern Building, Washington, D.C. 20005. Petitioner seeks modification of two separate grants of operating authority contained within its lead certificate by adding to each the point of East Hartford, Conn. Petitioner presently holds authority to transport, as pertinent, over irregular routes, General commodities (with the usual exceptions). Between points and places in the towns of Chester and Saybrook, Conn., on the one hand, and, on the other, points and places in Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island. Between Essex, Conn., on the one hand, and, on the other, points and places in Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. By tacking these separate grants with its Sub-No. 9 certificate, which authorizes the transportation of General Commodities between all points in Conn., Petitioner has been providing a through service for the public. This tacking was permitted by Order served April 18, 1975, in MC–F–12226. By this petition Mashkin seeks only to add East Hartford to each of the separate grants so that they would read: Between points and places in the towns of Chester, Saybrook, and East Hartford, Conn., on the one hand, and, on the other, points and places in Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island. Between Essex and East Hartford, Conn., on the one hand, and, on the other, points and places in Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. The proposed modification would allow Mashkin to reduce its fuel consumption by joining the two grants at East Hartford, the site of its only terminal, and bypassing Essex and Saybrook. No new operations would result. Petitioner's motor common carrier Certificate, in MC 109825 was issued December 27, 1949.

No. MC 112822 (Sub-No. 117 (MI) (notice of filing of petition to modify territorial description), filed July 28, 1977. Petitioner: BRAY LINES INCORPORATED, P.O. Box 1191, 1401 North Little St., Cushing, Okla. 74023. Petitioner's representative: Nancy P. Bigbee, 1600 Lincoln Center Building, 1660 Lincoln Street, Denver, Colo. 80264. Petitioner holds a motor common carrier certificate in No. MC 112822 (Sub-No. 117), issued August 22, 1977, authorizing transportation over irregular routes, of Malt beverages, from Fort Worth, Tex., to Las Cruces, Roswell, Albuquerque, and Santa Fe, N. Mex., and Grand Junction, Greeley, Denver, Glenwood Springs, Sterling, Durango, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Steamboat Springs, and Salida, Colo. By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to modify the above authority by modifying the territorial description to read: "from Fort Worth, Tex., to Las Cruces, Roswell, Albuquerque, and Santa Fe, N. Mex., and points in Colorado".

NOTICE

The following applications are governed by Special Rule 247 of the Commission's General Rules of Practice (49 CFR § 1100.247). These rules provide, among other things, that a protest to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the date of notice of filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Failure to seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest under these rules should comply with Section 247(d)(3) of the rules of practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and describing in detail the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected. The original and one copy of the protest shall be filed with the Commission, and a copy shall be served concurrently upon applicant's representative, or applicant if no representative is named. If the protest includes a request for oral hearing, such requests shall meet the requirements of section 247(d)(4) of the special rules, and shall include the certification required therein.

Section 247(f) further provides, in part, that an applicant who does not intend timely to prosecute its application shall promptly request dismissal thereof, and that failure to prosecute an application under procedures ordered by the Commission will result in dismissal of the application.

Further processing steps will be by Commission order which will be served on each party of record. Broadening amendments will not be accepted after the date of this publication except for good cause shown, and restrictive amendments will not be entertained following publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of a notice that the proceeding has been assigned for oral hearing.
